SUCCESSOR TO CARDINAL IS A YOUNG PRIEST

(By Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 13.—Ten years a priest and all of them in Florida, and seven years the bishop of this diocese preceded by four years in the Propaganda university at Rome, sometimes the notable career of the youngest archbishop of Baltimore, who will succeed the throne long graced by the great Gibbons, on November 27. He is 42 years of age.

Michael Joseph Curley, was born at Salem, Mass., Westmouth, fifty years ago October 12, 1879, one of 14 children, and a happy boyhood is recalled among his playmates the generation since. John McNamark, pastor to his ambition to become a school teacher, most unassuming upon the stage of life, the new archbishop's career may be said to have begun at 16 when he rode for the first time on a train his new trip came home carrying from a Catechism for the College of Montreal in 1895. From then on his rise was steady.

FORMER BOCHE ARMY OFFICERS HAVE BAD TIME

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The financial straits of some former high army officers who deserved of government pay, which was their only income, have been relieved to straitened circumstances, has caused a movement among former soldiers to help their by donations of sums ranging from 5 to 10 marks. Only a few of the needy officers, however, have consented to accept such charity. Former Field Marshal Conrad von Hoetzendorf, declining a donation of 40,000 marks, wrote:

"I am not complaining, and feel I have little cause to complain, when I think of the many wounded men who have seen less than I. This money should go to help them."

Von Hoetzendorf and his wife are living in Innsbruck, occupying a small room in which their meals are prepared on an electric stove. The former field marshal's income amounts to less than 1200 German marks monthly.

Many former high officers have been compelled to leave Germany for Austria and Poland, where their German marks have a greater purchasing power. Others have taken low salaried positions in the German provinces where the cost of living is low.

Considerable sympathy for these men recently has been manifest even in liberal, socialist, radical and anti-monarchistic quarters, and the newspapers have been advertising the seriousness of their situation.

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN AT BUTLER THEATRE TODAY

Lovers of sensible and wholesome photoplay entertainment will find a picture just to their liking at the Butler today where Elaine Hammerstein is presenting "Remorseless Love," a screen drama based on Mary Lauler Magruder's story. Miss Hammerstein this time plays the role of a school teacher who has set her face against the traditions of her caste and kind and finds peace, happiness, love and worldliness. She leaves Malta and her people for Chicago where she encounters the usual happenings of society with its dances and ballroom atmosphere, the motoring, the moonlight and rocks as well as the 60's and 70's earlier scene. Niles Welch acts as manly part as Miss Hammerstein's leading man. He looks well and is likeable human being and he diverts himself with Mrs. Hammerstein. The crowds seem to have been interested into the immensity of making their scenes of action. The Pathe Pictorial News will be added to the program.

Tomorrow Wallace Reid in "Too Much Speed" and a Christie Film comedy, Mae Murray in "The Gilded Lily."

TEXAS RAISES PRIZE WINNERS OF POLO PONIES

(By Associated Press)

MIDLAND, Texas, Oct. 13.—This "cow-town," equidistant from El Paso and Fort Worth, also claims to be a polo pony town. It is said to be the greatest shipping depot for polo ponies in the United States. Figures are submitted by men in the pony raising business to prove it.

Polo ponies ridden in the big games in the north and east are Midland raised horses—at least many of them. Two Midland bred ponies, Snal and Hackleberry Slim, won first and second prizes in New York at the Meadowbrook club.

In the international 1921 polo games played in London, the American team won, and one of the ponies of the winning team, Lucky Strike, was a Midland product. Midland ships about 200 first class polo ponies every year to northern and eastern cities.

G. O. Coyle, of Midland, said to be the heaviest shipper here, declares a great polo pony is born, not made. He said the best polo pony is one about 15 hands high, weighs between 950 and 1100 pounds, is a quick starter, fast, and easily reined. The ponies sell for as high as $1000.
