HARRY P. GIFFORD, EDITOR, IS DEAD.

In the death of Harry P. Gifford, one of the publishers of the Carson City News for a period of four and a half years, Nevada loses one of its old-time newspaper men. Mr Gifford had been connected with the Carson City News with the exception of the first six months dating from June 21, 1891. Starting as a carrier he gradually forged to the front until he became a part owner of the paper. He was a valued and trusted employe and when he became one of the owners of the publication he broadened the scope of his activities until he became a power for good in the upbuilding of his own community, as well as all sections of the state. He was prominent in business, social, lodge and political circles, and at one time represented Ormsby county in the assembly. Nevada has lost a good man, a thoroughly conscientious newspaper man, a good friend and a good citizen. Peace to his ashes.

NOVEMBER 23-24 IS RED CROSS ROLLCALL

Governor Emmet D Boyle has issued a proclamation designating the period commencing on November 13, "Red Cross Sunday," to November 24, inclusive as a time for the observance of the fifth annual rollcall of the American Red Cross.

RED CROSS HELPS VETERANS.

Outstanding in every respect among the activities of the American Red Cross is its service to disabled veterans of the world war, which in the last fiscal year resulted in 3,253,000 instances of assistance rendered these men or their families. This statement was made in a communication from national headquarters received by George Filmer, manager of the Pacific division at the Red Cross offices in San Francisco.

Reviewing this foremost activity, as revealed in the forthcoming annual report of the society, the statement said that the work for veterans now involves an annual expenditure of $10,000,000 by the national organization and the nation-wide chain of Red Cross chapters.

In explaining the scope of this service, the Red Cross points out that the annual cost of maintaining it exceeds by $4,000,000 the aggregate receipts of the last Red Cross rollcall. To continue to provide for the veterans those forms of service that are outside the province of the government, the Red Cross urges universal membership renewal during the rollcall to be held this year from November 11 to November 24.

It is in the 2329 chapters of the Red Cross which still are helping solve the veteran's problem of adjusting himself to a normal civilian status that the greater part of the cost of this service is borne. Of the $10,000,000 spent approximately $7,000,000 represents the disbursements of the chapters.

That the problem of the disabled veteran will be overcrowding and will not reach its peak before 1927 is the opinion of well informed students of the subject, and that 2329 of the 3600 Red Cross chapters above a [illegible] organization remain devoted to the disabled veteran as their most important work in every case that the expenditure is not concentrated in a particular section of the country.
