WEST END NOW MAKING RECORD IN PRODUCTION

Weekly Output Averaging Near Twenty-One Hundred Tons of Some Splendid Ore.

EARNING SHOWS STEADY GAIN

Production for Present Year Promises to Outdo All the Activities of the Past.

The usual production, aggregating 2100 tons of ore was made by the West End Consolidated Mining company during the seven-day period ending Saturday morning, April 29. That the mine is operating at top speed is evidenced from the tonnage that is produced, the company mill being operated to capacity, with the overflow of ore being consigned to the MacNamara mill which insures that plant handling the maximum of ore possible.

Official report of development at the West End covering the week follows:

"From the West End shaft workings crosscut 441 made good progress on low grade quartz. Raise 600 No. 3 made a small advance with no change to report. Crosscut 683 A made the usual advance with no change. Drift 970 has been discontinued and crosscut 972 has been started. Small footage was made in the 971 raise with no change to report.

"From the Ohio shaft workings intermediate drift 519 has been discontinued and stoping operations started. Raise 536 No. 1 has been discontinued and crosscut 536 No. 1 started to cut the vein. Drift 555 No. 3 made good headway with no change. Crosscut 614 made good progress with no change of formation. Crosscut 802 continued to advance without change. Drift 848 No. 2 made fair headway on a full face of ore. Crosscut 872 made the usual headway with no change. The footage for the week was 243 feet.

"Tonnage and grade was normal with production of 2100 tons for the week."

Jean Burrow Observes Her Ninth Birthday

Little Jean Burrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Burrow, this afternoon celebrated the ninth anniversary of her advent into this world at the family home on Belmont avenue. A number of little friends were present to assist in the festivities, and following refreshments served at the Burrow home, those assembled proceeded in a body to the Butler theater, where they enjoyed the matinee. Jean was the recipient of numerous gifts from her invited guests who wished her many returns for similar occasions. Those present were: Madeline Thompson, Elsie Thompson, Milka, Dan and George Chiatovich, Burrell and Ralph Foote, Lavera Stevenson, Denica Chiatovich, Virginia Russell, Eleanor Bateman, Seward and Helen Blair, Helen Branden, Averill and Ruth Brown, Thelma Wright, Jennie Burt, Clinton Stephenson, Beth Kind, Arvin Southworth and Nancy Burrow.

If you would enjoy yourself and make the week complete, then attend the dance to be given at the Eagles hall Saturday night. William F. Logan, popular violinist, will be included in the orchestra. A28-2t.

WATTERSON BANK IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

As the Register was about to go to press, fire, caused by the explosion of gasoline used for cleaning, broke out in C. E. Craig's Suitatorium, in the second story of the Owens Valley Bank building at Bishop on Thursday. The origin of the fire set all that part of the building to blazing immediately, and the place became a volcano of flame. It was early clear that the destruction of Lutz's store building, adjoining, and belonging to G. H. Dusenberry, was probable, while the other was apparently doomed.

The fire was finally checked, confined to the one place. F. V. Craig's music store and the Suitatorium, on the second floor, and Griffith's auto electric shop, on the first, were completely burned out. The Owens Valley Bank portion, at the southwest corner, had less inside fire damage, but was wrecked.

Most of the merchandise and the bank fixtures on the first floor were moved out, and some of F. V. Craig's goods were saved, but only a comparatively small portion.—Inyo Register.

OLD FRIEND PAYS TRIBUTE TO FORD

In the foregoing letter, written to a friend in Tonopah, H. G. Dohrman, of Steubenville, O., and who spent some time here years ago, pays a touching tribute to the life of the late "Billie" Ford, with whom he became acquainted with, and knew him for his true worth. The tribute follows:

"Was away at the time you so thoughtfully wired of the sad happening and wired you a message of sympathy immediately upon receiving and reading the message. My one sorrow is that at the present time the state of my finances did not admit of my seeing to it that he had every last attention, however, I take it from the press reports that his faithful friends on the ground attended to that. Some of these days I intend to ship to you to have erected over his grave a modest tombstone with a fitting inscription, as a slight evidence of my genuine affection for and appreciation of the many sterling virtues of the man.

As you know, my feeling towards Billie was always of the warmest and deservedly so, for there never breathed a cleaner, truer man, a more thoughtful and generous man than Billie Ford. If it is not too much trouble, will ask that you verify his exact Chinese name, also the date of his birth and demise, which I shall use later for the above purpose.

While some thousands of miles away, I always felt that I had in Billie a genuine friend, friends of his ype are so rare that we can illy spare them, and I do feel a deep and genuine grief—am sorry that all these years have passed without being able to see him—but you know how it has been with me—always busy—yet after all, how hollow sometimes are the so-called successes of life—to my notion, Billie was one of the most successful of men."

CONWAY TEARLE IN "AFTER MIDNIGHT"

Conway Tearle, in "After Midnight," will be the attraction at the Butler today, and it presents him in a play not only out of the ordinary, but full of the thrills and mystifying situations that are so dear to the heart of all theater-goers. "After midnight," is a Ralph Ince production and that is equal to saying that the situations and plot have been developed to their highest dramatic value and that the picture will be marked by action and more action. There are some unusually interesting scenes of Chinatown and the underworld of New York that have been worked out to the minutest detail and fairly breathe the atmosphere of the famous Chinese dens. A half a hundred real Chinese play a prominent part in the picture and lend an air of impressive reality to the scenes.

Also on today's bill is a two-reel Toonerville comedy, "Toonerville Tactics."

Tomorrow, the popular film star, Will Rogers, in "One Glorious Day," one of his very best, and he never made a poor one.

Monday—Pola Negri.

Fun galore a the Eagle dance Saturday night, and music par-excellence with William F. Logan playing the violin. Of course you going. A28-2t.

PRESBYTERIAN CHOIR.

The choir will practice at the church Saturday night at 7:30.
