TEXAS BAKED IRISH POTATOES.—Boil some good Irish potatoes. When done mash, season with salt, pepper and butter. Mince a large onion fine, mix with the potatoes, put them in an oven and brown nicely.

PLAIN LEMON PUDDING.—Quarter of a pound of suet, half a pound of bread crumbs, four ounces of sugar, the juice of two lemons—the rind of one lemon—and one egg. To be well boiled and served with pudding sauce.

DELICIOUS BREAKFAST DISH.—Take any family of six, take three cups of mashed potatoes, one cup of flour, and half a teaspoon of salt. Mix well together, shape them small and drop into hot lard, or roll them into little balls and fry them in a frying basket in boiling lard, season with salt.

OATMEAL SAUCE.—Put a pint of oatmeal to soak in warm water a few hours before cooking it just water enough to cover it; then pour this mixture into boiling water, a little at a time, with a good pinch of salt, and let it cook slowly, the same as a cornmeal hasty pudding, for half an hour longer. A pudding can be made of it by using eggs, milk, sugar, raisins, and cinnamon, the same as for other puddings.

BREASTS OF VEAL BAKED WITH TOMATOES.—After wiping a breast of veal with a wet cloth, lay it in a small dripping pan and brown it quickly in a hot oven. Season with salt and pepper, and a little tomato sauce, or use those which have been canned; when the veal is brown, season it highly with pepper and salt, pour the tomatoes over it, and bake it until the meat is done. Serve it with the tomatoes on the same dish.

SOUTHERN CORN BREAD.—Take one cup of the meal, add one pint of water and stir well, add one teaspoonful of salt, same of yeast powders, and add meal enough to make a batter that will pour out of the pan. Put a tablespoonful of lard in the baking pan, set in the oven and let it get hot, pour the batter in it and bake a nice brown. I assure you that you will never make any other kind after eating this.

FILBERT TART.—Grind one-half pound of filbert kernels fine with orange-flower water, mix with one-half pound of powdered sugar; add gradually eight yolks of egg, well beaten, two ounces of flour, and eight whites of eggs, beaten firm; spread this paste out into three layers of equal size, three-quarters of an inch thick; bake in a moderate oven; spread peach or apricot marmalade between each layer, and top with something like this.

BAKED HAM.—To successfully bake ham, it ought first to be boiled until almost tender. Take from the water, wash it, and put it in a dripping pan in the oven for half an hour; then drain off all the lard that has collected, powder the ham with fine white sugar, and wet the sugar slightly with Madeira wine. Put it in the oven again and let it bake an hour or more, according to size. Less than a pint of wine is sufficient to impart flavor and to moisten it.

CHICKEN BROTH.—Roast or bake, till turning yellow, two old fowls. Put them in a soup kettle, with three quarts of cold water, and cook them over a rather slow fire. Skin, add a small onion, a stalk or two of celery, and two stalks of celery. Simmer gently till the fowls fall to pieces, for five hours; strain, and set the broth aside. The next day carefully remove all the fat, beat up the whites of two eggs, with two gills of the cold broth. Heat the rest of the broth to boiling, then stir in the egg whites, and strain it through an absolutely clean cloth. The perfection of this soup depends upon having it as clear and limpid as possible.

[Daily Chicago Times.] Mr. George Barnes, of Bagnall & Barnes, South Water street, said that his wife had been a severe sufferer from rheumatism, and had tried many remedies in vain. St. Jacobs Oil is the only thing that brought her relief.

Toward the conclusion of a diplomatic dinner, a Frenchman selected a toothpick from a tray lying next him, and politely passed the receptacle to his neighbor, a Turk, who declined his offer, exclaiming: "No, thank you; I have already eaten two of these things, and I want no more."

Two horns will last an ox a lifetime; but many a man wants a number every morning before breakfast.

For thirty long years we have been suffering from rheumatism, and we are now cured by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. It is the only thing that brought us relief.

A HUSBAND'S LOVE.—It is easy enough to win a husband. Most any attractive little dumpling with a bright eye and coaxing voice can gather in a noble husband, but it is pretty difficult to retain him. Noble husbands are like the dog, but the great difficulty is to draw out their true nobility and secure it at home.

If the wife only understands her business she can introduce the soothing racket in her new field of operation and walk away with the whole business. Most men like to be loved and soothed. There is something in the man's great, rough, earnest nature that can be won quicker and easier with gentleness and pie than with the logic of the broomhandle and a bilious course of reasoning with bread and milk dishes.

We have seen a girl who understood her business take a reformed road and get by the nose, so to speak, and lead him through life in such a way that he would not know that he was a reformed man. So perfect was the illusion that when she asked him to bring a couple of coal, or get up in night shirt and kill a burglar, that he knew no more than a bobtailed cow four blocks away, he says, "Yes, my dear, I will do it."
