ALASKAN MAIL TO BE CARRIED LONG DISTANCE

Amundsen Will Fly From Tip of Alaska to Europe by Way Of North Pole

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—One of the most spectacular chapters in the annals of world-wide postal delivery may be written when Capt. Roald Amundsen, famous Norwegian explorer, wings his way across the top of the world in his proposed attempt to fly an airplane from the tip of Alaska to northernmost Europe via the north pole. With him in his monoplane will ride a mail sack containing letters written by Nome residents for delivery to friends in Europe.

If weather conditions had not forced a postponement of the flight until next year these letters might have reached their destination a week ahead of the time required to make delivery by the established routes. As it is, arriving perhaps more than a year later, they will have a price-less historical value to their recipients who will doubtless follow the advice of their explorer-postman with keen interest.

According to a report by Postmaster Walsh of Nome to local postal officials the letters were written when Captain Amundsen was about to depart from the mining camp on his way to Wainwright, 100 miles south of Point Barrow, where he will winter awaiting favorable conditions for his proposed flight.

AMERICAN MULE NOW KING OF ARMENIA

ERIVAN, Sept. 28.—The American mule is 236 times as efficient as the Armenian ox, and 2.68 times as efficient as the Caucasian horse, according to figures reported by the American Relief experts in charge of the agricultural program of the near east in the Caucasus.

These computations are made on a cost-efficiency basis, taking into consideration capital investment, upkeep, energy service, and amount of work accomplished. The mule beats even the tractor in small farming operations but farms of more than 100 acres brings down tractor costs per unit of work done to a basis below that of the mule.

American mules were introduced here about a year ago. American relief organizations now use 300 of these animals on their various agricultural relief projects. Plans for the breeding of the American type mule on Armenian soil will be shortly carried into effect in northern Armenia.

A man by the name of Woodin has been named New York fuel administrator. It rhymes with coal bin, we say.

Prompt service in printing, big or small is the motto of the Bonanza.

TRANSLATION PITFALL BOTHERING RED CROSS

MOSCOW, Sept. 28.—Higher education having been the privilege of the comparatively well-to-do in Russia, the offices of the American relief administration here are crowded with princesses and an occasional countess. For the A. R. A. needed a numerous staff of translators and found them among the educated young women of the city, many of whom were adorned with titles.

They did well, for the English governesses who went out to Russia in the old days before the war were conscientious young women, and worked hard. But a translator often has his own point of view as to what is worth translating, and sometimes, also, amusing errors creep in. One young woman, a countess, whose duty it was to translate the Moscow papers, invariably added a list of the current theatrical entertainments. Based on her previous training, this was her idea of real news. One of her notes recorded "The Shaver of Seville" would be given in Moscow that night.

DEER ARE NUMEROUS NEAR CALIFORNIA CITY

QUINCY, Calif., Sept. 28.—Deer have become so numerous in this vicinity that parties of automobilists, traveling at night, were recently compelled to stop in order to avoid running over the animals, which were blinded by the headlights and stopped on the road in front of them.

From two to four deer on the average are being brought into Quincy daily. Recently a hunting party left here one morning, prepared to stay in the hills a week or longer. The afternoon of the same day, however, they returned to town with each member displaying a limit bag of bucks—six in all.
