A prophet is not without honor save in his own country and among his own kin. Within his own country and among his own kin he is liable to be considered a fool. If he ventures a prophecy in his own country and among his own kin and the prophecy comes true, the fact will have to be recognized by his own people. Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel company, addressed a gathering of men from all over the Mojave, and called attention to the fact that an industry which has been in operation for years in Tonopah, but which has been regarded by many as a sickly infant, is now a milling plant to be reckoned with. Schwab said the Tonopah Extension mine, which he visited, is now in a position to supply enough ore to keep the mill busy for years to come. Schwab said the mill will have its mill-fed capacity increased from 100 to 200 tons daily. Schwab said the Tonopah Extension mine is one of the richest properties he has seen in the west, and that the management of the mine is in the hands of men who know how to operate a mine economically and who are able to make good on any promise they may make. Schwab said he was impressed with the Tonopah district, and that he was convinced that the district would become a producer of importance.
