The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:

Wednesday.....July 30, 1873.

There is a good deal of human nature in an Indian after all. Over opposite our window, on the Plaza, under the trees, the amiable, harmless Washoe buck-sawyers and their women-kind and their small tottlesomeness love to congregate. (We might have vented that obvious pun that they camped on the Square; but no sole but the very stupidest would have laughed at it and we should have been guilty of a mouldy old pun without the excuse and palliation of justifiable provocation.) Every day they get together here in groups, the women with their wicker-work sucklings and their jolly little toddlings full of glee and minute insects, as full of fun and frolic as white children and a deal better natured and kindly than any like number of the offspring of the superior race that we ever saw at play. There is one stoical looking old lady who seems to have a very extensive following of little folks, and amongst these are two little girls, one, we should say, about six and the other about four years of age. It is fun to see these little ragamuffins paddle off with the family second hand fruit can or coffee kettle for water at the neighboring hydrant. They seem impressed with the importance of their mission, just as anybody's youngsters entrusted with an errand always are. Then they come tugging back their tiny load of water for the mother and her baby, one on each side of the dirty old can, as proud as Trajan when he entered Rome after a successful campaign. Then these young savages have a fancy for ribbons and trinkets and oh! the dirtiest of all dirty rag-baby dolls. We saw a quartette of these unwashed innocents yesterday playing wagon with an old soap box—snaking it round with a string and letting on that one of their number was a horse. The usual crowd were gathered about a shady place under the trees playing Indian monte in the forenoon, and we noticed some tourist people, (of the kind who are apt to go into ecstacies on a C. P. sleeping car early in the morning and wake up the wicked old timers, as is so happily described by Bro. Forbes,) looking on and preparing themselves doubtless, to write an interesting and truthful account of the same for the local journal at home, or, maybe, to stuff out a nice book of travels with. But perhaps these good people are innocent of diaries and literary malice aforethought; perhaps too they are from Delaware; but the Indians kept at their gambling just as if the eyes of Delaware were not upon them.

In the name of the hope of verdure and foliage and green trees and grateful, cooling shades, and all the blessed things which cluster round and grow up in and around this beautiful oasis in the dreary desert of God's wrath, why, oh why have the Board of Trustees not passed the ban of exclusion against those insatiate destroyers of all the tender saplings of our streets, the merciless, town-infesting cows? How many years shall it be that one must stand over his young trees with a shot gun or know that it is doomed to an early vacuum destruction? And how long shall our young children and our timid women be imperilled of their lives by vicious cows and heifers which are allowed to run at large? Conscript fathers, give us satisfactory response!

Cholera Morbus has prevailed pretty extensively heretofore of late. We don't believe it is caused by fruits so much as by inattention to the principles of cleanliness by those who have the custody of things which make stinks and the like. Impure air intensified by the heat of the sun makes cholera as well as cholera morbus. Let carbolic acid and copperas be spread abroad upon the face of the stench-giving earth.

A first class bookkeeper, a man who has had a thorough education and practical training and much experience in his profession has come among us lately. Anybody who would like to interview that kind of a man with a notion of business can learn all about him by applying to Mr. Harry Hunter, Train Dispatcher, V. & T. Station.

Bladders of India rubber, light and volatile, performed a good deal of satisfactory ballooning yesterday and last evening for the edification and delectation of the little folk—and the big folk too, for that matter. We saw one go up in the gloaming and it took precisely the course that was taken by Jack Lee in his circus balloon.

Returned.—Dr. Herrick our well known homœopathic physician has returned from his eastern trip bringing his family with him. He looks as if the eastern climate had given him a chance to try some of his own pills and infusions. He complains of having suffered with asthma. This is the altitude and climate to cure that painful disorder.

Removed to Theater Block.—R. Fred Brooks' noted store for imported segars, tobacco, books, stationery, musical instruments, cheap jewelry, toys, etc., removed to Theater Block, next door to Mat Rinckell's butcher shop, Carson City. Agency for all the California papers, Gold Hill News, Pictorials and Magazines.

The Washington Guard of Virginia City are going on a picnic excursion to the Bowers Mansion on Tuesday the 5th of August and they have invited us through their polite Secretary Mr. H. F. Bond, to be there. We hope to respond by proxy, if not in person. Many thanks.

By request we suppress names and incidents of an assault and battery case which took place up street yesterday afternoon. It is a special and exceptional case of self denial to do so, for there is a good deal of "nutriment" in it, as Uncle Toad says.

Noel's wedding promenade takes place at Town Vocalin Hall to-night. We will bet something nice that it will be a mighty good time with formal mirth and the likes till the time for the cock to crow.

While mildly protesting against their omission of an anti cow ordinance let us not forget to thank the Town Trustees for having legislated against the swine and the vagabond Indians as they have in Ordinances 10 and 11 with this day's issue presented.

The Party Last Night.—We have only enough time and space to say that the Episcopal ladies party last night was like all their parties, a very delightful reunion. We will refer to it more at length to-morrow.

Doctor Sheppard, a homœopathist from Maine, came here yesterday intending to take up his residence here. He will doubtless find Carson a profitable field if he cultivates it properly—most doctors do.

Mr. H. J. Peters of the Wells, Fargo Bank, is quite sick with an attack of something like quinsy. We hope his ailing may not prove of a lasting or serious nature.

Water was yesterday let into the Virginia water pipes. A flawy piece of iron gave way but was soon replaced and it is thought the new supply will be flowing almost immediately.

That excellent eating house, the Fountain Restaurant will henceforth be conducted solely by Mr. Thomas Phillips, the firm of Hunt & Phillips being dissolved. See notice.

The following letter is held for postage at the Carson Postoffice: Mr. J. W. McLean, Philadelphia House, San Francisco, Cal.

Congressman Howard is returned looking as rugged as a bear. We congratulate him upon his apparent restoration to complete health.

Mr. Geo. Gilmore is amongst us once more. He returns from a general prospecting tour through the Great East, we believe.

There is a splendid specimen of the dahlia in the window of the Fountain Restaurant. It is of superb growth and is about flowering.
