NEWS OF STEELTON

ONE HURT AS MYSTERIOUS FIRE WRECKS NEW HOMES

Man With Broken Leg Suffers Further Injuries When He Scrambles Out of Bed—Double Dwelling, in Course of Construction, Is Destroyed

A fire of unknown origin this morning destroyed the three-story frame double dwelling owned by Elio Dimeff, at 420 and 422 Main street, and badly damaged the roof the adjoining dwellings, owned by Samuel Goldsmith, 424 and 426 Main street. The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock.

The destroyed structure was in course of erection, having recently been placed under roof, and preparations were being made to plaster it in a day or two. There were no stoves in the dwellings and, according to reports, the owner had no insurance. In the opinion of borough fire officials, the blaze was started by some enemy of the owner.

So far as known, only one man was injured by the excitement of the fire. This man is a boarder at 426 Main street. When the roof ignited from sparks from the Dimeff property he, although confined to his bed with a broken leg, managed to get out of bed. He fell on the floor, however, inflicting additional painful injuries, before other men of the household managed to put him back to bed.

Dimeff has had a streak of bad luck. During the latter part of May a double dwelling, 473 and 475 Myers street, which he owned, was gutted by an incendiary fire, following which two men were arrested by the State Fire Marshal's orders, but at a hearing before Squire Gardner the charges against the accused men were not sustained.

C. W. M'COY HOME ON VISIT

Local Man Is Now Postmaster of the U. S. Battleship Utah—Will Next Visit Cuba

Charles W. McCoy, Jr., postmaster on the U. S. battleship Utah, is spending a five-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McCoy, Sr., 24 South Harrisburg street. Since the Utah left the vicinity of Vera Cruz in August its time was spent in the vicinity of Fortress Monre and cruising along the Atlantic coast as far north as Maine.

McCoy will leave to rejoin his ship Monday, but will spend another five-day furlough at home during Christmas week. About January 8, the Utah will sail for Cuba to spend one month, after which it will again return to Hampton Roads where it will be put in shape to go through the Panama canal on a trip to San Francisco to take part in the opening of the Pan-American Exposition in 1915.

Last April, when Admiral Fletcher was ordered to seize the customs house at Vera Cruz, McCoy, then an officer's clerk, was among the first landing party and he took an active part in its capture, subsequently holding the position as chief of police for a short time until order was restored in the captured city.

INDIAN ATHLETE HITS THE TRAIL

panied trail-hitters, as usual, where his wife was, and, upon learning that she was present, he went to her seat to bring her to the front. His efforts were in vain, and after the choir had finished several verses of "Almost Persuaded" he came to the front and continued the handshaking.

One man when asked by the evangelist if he had a home said: "My home is wherever I hang up my hat," making the second hobo among the penitents in consecutive nights.

Another man, dirty and tattered, was led to the front, seeming not to know what he was doing. Dr. Stough turned him over to some ministers nearby, who took him to a room and washed him, trying meanwhile to sober him.

Finally one of the trail-hitters, to add to the general excitement, told how his wife had left him and how he had been out of the Dauphin county jail for only a few days. He had promised Professor Spooner at one of the meetings at the prison conducted by the Stough party that he would go to the tabernacle and hit the trail when he was released.

Meeting at Jail To-day

At the jail this morning another meeting was held, with 135 members of the tabernacle choir present. Miss Palmer and Mr. Patterson spoke and vocal solos were given by Mrs. Harris and Prof. Spooner. While the services were being held three new convicts were taken to their cells.

"The warden tells me," said Prof. Spooner after the meeting, "that there are fewer arrests now in this city than usual at this time of the year, due, no doubt, to the influence of the Stough campaign."

"The mail that comes to my desk in a day would be enough to make a dog laugh," said Dr. Stough before beginning his sermon last evening. He told of a letter he had received asking him to condemn the plan for a municipal Christmas tree on the ground that the money should be given to the poor, and also ridiculed the faith of a business man who had sent him a long list of bad debtors and requested him to collect the money. He said that some correspondents are accusing him of not being hard enough on the rich, and others of being too harsh.

No collections have been taken at the week-day meetings during this week, but offerings will probably be received for several nights, it has been announced, for the benefit of worthy local objects, and for Belgian sufferers. There will also be a "pound night," possibly next week, on which admission can be gained only by the payment of articles of food or clothing, which will be heaped on the platform and later distributed among the needy poor of the city.

Definite Announcement To-night

Dr. Stough is expected to announce from the platform at the tabernacle tonight that he will stay in this city an additional week beyond the six weeks designated in the contract, closing the campaign on the Monday before Christmas, December 21.

The evangelist last night occupied the greater part of his time enacting the experiences of Mr. John Jones, of Harrisburg, in Heaven. He told how the man, who had on earth, "paid his honest debts, treated his wife and family well, and kept out of State prison," entered through the pearly gates with much self-confidace, but how after he had met persons who had accepted Jesus Christ in the world, and done work in saving of souls, he began to lose faith in himself and finally saw his unworthiness.

Morality and Holiness Differ

"Morality is all right here on earth," shouted the revivalist, "as far as it goes, but I say it doesn't go far enough * * * God demands not morality but holiness. There is a deal of difference between the two. Morality only affects the outside of a man, but holiness touches the inside."

To-night will be patriotic night at the tabernacle. Veterans of the Civil war and of the Spanish-American war will march to the tabernacle in bodies. As they come down the aisles to the seats reserved for them, persons in the audience will wave flags which they are asked to bring with them.

Out-of-Town Students Coming

Students of the local High schools have been busy inviting High school students from surrounding towns to be their guests at the tabernacle to-morrow night. Committees of the boys and girls of this city will meet the delegations as they arrive here on the suburban cars, and conduct them to the meeting, where there will be singing and yelling.

At the Victoria To-day

Intensely dramatic and marked by splendid acting is the four-part Pathe photoplay, "The Money Lender," which is the special attraction at the Victoria theatre, 223 Market street, for to-day only. The story, which is one of the most recent Pathe productions, portrays life among the Polish Jews and has made a lasting impression on movie fans where it has been shown during the last few days. The plot is woven around the love of a Gentile for a fair Jewess, which has taken complete mastery of her and results in her death and her father's mental agony, wherein he resorts at last to the sacred words prescribed by his religion.

Another headliner at the Victoria today is the two-reel Thanhouser special, "The Center of the Web," featuring Clarie Kroell, Frank Wood and Sam Niblack. It is the love story of a girl counterfeiter and is intensely interesting.

"Leading Lizzie Astray" is to-day's Keystone comedy at the Victoria, which has some extraordinarily interesting and amusing features.

To-morrow's special will be "The Sea Nymphs," featuring Mabel and Fatty. Adv.

Early Impressions

Early impressions are not easily erased. The virgin wax is faithful to the signet, and subsequent impressions seem rather to indent the former ones than to eradicate them.
