WILL HOLD DANCE DESPITE FIRE IN MASONIC TEMPLE

Plans for Christmas Assembly and Other Holiday Festivities Not Upset As Result of Blaze Near Ball Room

The fire which swept three floors of the Masonic Temple, early yesterday morning causing $15,000 damage, will not interfere with the arrangements of the various societies and clubs for dances and banquets during the next month.

Mrs. William E. Macklin, wife of the superintendent of the building, who is confined to his home by illness, this morning said: "There has been no damage done to the banquet hall or ball room and as far as I know, there have been no dates cancelled."

The first assembly of the season will be held Thursday evening, December 31. These assemblies, which are always very elaborate and delightful affairs, are attended by the older matrons and men of the city as well as the debutantes and the younger dancing contingent.

CHRISTMAS CAROL SERVICE

Choir of Market Square Presbyterian Church Will Sing Beautiful Carols of Long Ago

The carols chosen for the annual Christmas carol service at Market Square church at 4.30 Sunday afternoon, December 20, are taken from all ages, from the old Bohemian "Let All Men Sing God's Praises," about 1600 A. D., and the old German "Holy Night," which Mrs. Harris will sing at the conclusion of the services, to the joyful modern "All My Heart This Night Rejoices," by George C. Gow, and the beautiful "When I View the Mother," by Barnby, sung by Miss Belle Middaugh.

The choir will be assisted on this occasion by Mrs. E. J. Decevee, soprano; Dr. Ruth Deeter, contralto, and Miss Seaman, contralto, who, with Mrs. Harris will sing Bullard's "Leyste Noel," a modern carol written after the style of seventeenth century music. There will also be the traditional carol, "The First Noel," and the modern carols, "The Virgin and the Child," by Macpherson, and the plaintive "Cradle Song of the Blessed Virgin," by Barnby, arranged for chorus, with violin obligato, by George C. Gow. Dr. John C. Reed will play this obligato, as well as a prelude, 'Adoration," by Borowski, and the offertory, "Chanson," by Tschaikowsky.

The organ numbers will be: Prelude, "Offertory on Christmas Carols," Guilmant; "Chant Pastoral," Dubois; postlude, "And the Glory of the Lord," Handel.

There will be no evening service at 7.30 at Market Square church on that evening. The music for the morning service will be as follows:

Prelude, 'The Manger," Guilmant, "Noel," Augusta Holmes; anthem, "O, Holy Night," Adam, solo by Mrs. Heefner; carol, "While By My Sheep," seventeenth century; offertory, pastoral from "Christmas Oratorio," Saint Saens; carol, "A Child This Day Is Born," traditional; men's chorus; postlude, "Tollitte Hostias," Saint Saens.

The choir ir under the direction of Mrs. Wilbur F. Harris, with Miss Ruth S. Conkling, organist.

On Sunday, December 27, at the morning service, Mrs. Harris will sing "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Bach, and the choir wil sing Barnby's "Like Silver Lamps," with tenor solo by G. Douglas Andrews. The men's chorus will sing "Draw Nigh, Immanuel," with the old French melody of the thirteenth century.

INCREASE IN WHEAT SOWING

American Farmers Have Sown Record Area of 41,263,000 Acres

Washington, Dec. 18.—Influenced by the prospective heavy demand for grain by the warring countries of Europe, American farmers this fall have sown a record area for winter wheat, which the Department of Agriculture to-day estimated at 41,263,000 acres.

That is an increase of 4,131,000 acres over the area sown last fall and on which the record crop of 684,990,000 bushels of winter wheat was harvested this year. The area sown is 5,255,000 acres more than was harvested this year.

The condition of winter wheat on December 1 was 88.3 per cent. of normal. That is almost ten per cent. lower than it was last year at this time and 2 per cent. below the 10-year average condition on December 1.

FLEES WITH 6,000 CATTLE

Rancher Had Been Ordered Not to Take Stock Out of Mexico

Los Angeles, Dec. 18.—Among the visitors to Los Angeles recently was B. A. Packard, among the last of the great cattle barons of Arizona and Mexico. He was the partner of Col. W. C. Greene in rounding the Turkey Track cattle ranch, just across the Sonora line from Arizona, between Herford and Douglas, and was heavily interested in the initial development of the late Col. Greene's famous copper mines of Cananea.

A short time ago he received notice from Gen. Gil, who has his forces at Naco, advising him not to move any of his cattle, because the soldiers needed all of them. Thereupon, he told his men to round up as many cattle as possible in a pasture about five miles square.

This being done, he took thirty-five men from Douglas, among them several Arizona rangers, and carried them in a big automobile truck to his ranch with saddles and bridles.

Horses in plenty were already there. That night he told the boys that next day they were going to do a hard day's work and be well paid for it and he wanted them to ride as they never had in their lives. Ride they did, and at 11.30 the next morning they crossed the line into the United States with 6,000 cattle, and not a Mexican or American soldier in sight.

As soon as he was safely across, he made for a telegraph station and informed Secretary of State Bryan what he had done.

Defendant at Reading Said to Be From Vineland, N. J.

Reading, Pa., Dec. 18.—Arthur D. Sheeley, alleged "literary burglar," said to be a member of a prominent Vineland, N. J., family, was placed on trial before Judge Wagner late yesterday afternoon on the charge of felonious entrance and larceny, in connection with the attempted burglarizing of the home of Mrs. Fred W. Nicolls, well-known society woman and widow of a prominent attorney, on the morning of November 3.

The intruder read the works of Kipling and other authors which he found in the Nicolls library, and ate a box of bonbons. He left several notes criticising the authors and expressing his thanks for the candy, but urging a more substantial luncheon be provided for a future call.

It was testified by detectives that foot prints left by the burglar corresponded with the shoes of Sheeley.
