Hawaii Wild with Joy.

San Francisco, July 29.—There was great rejoicing on the Hawaiian islands when it was learned that the Newlands resolutions had passed congress, and that Hawaii was at last a part of the United States. The residents are fairly wild with joy. News of the annexation was brought on the Coptic, and when the signal flags in the steamer's rigging announced the victory for the annexationists, a salute of 100 guns was fired, and cheers greeted the welcome news. H. M. Newell, United States minister to Hawaii, will probably be the choice for governor, as President Dole has declined the honor.

Money for Wounded Rough Riders.

New York, July 29.—The wounded rough riders now being cared for in the barracks and hospital on Governor's island have been visited by Major Brodie of their regiment. He gave each of them a new $5 bank note by instruction of Colonel Roosevelt to pay for minor expenses and such little luxuries as the men may wish to buy. Major Brodie also informed the heroes that Colonel Roosevelt would give more money to them if it were needed. The wounded cavalrymen were pleased. One of them said: "That's just like Colonel Roosevelt; he's continually doing things for his men."

WERE STARVING

Spaniards at Guantanamo in a Bad Way.

HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE.

Ignorant of Surrender and Expected to Die a Lingering Death by Starvation.

The First General Parejo Knew of the Capitulation of General Toral Was When Admiral Sampson Sent Word to Him Asking What Number of Rations Should Be Sent to His Garrison—Two Thousand Sick People in Sanitariums.

Newport News, Va., July 29.—The transports St. Louis and Massachusetts, with General Brooke, started for Porto Rico at 2:30 p. m. Other transports will follow at once.

Washington, July 29.—Secretary Alger has given orders for the removal of all of General Shafter's army as soon as the men in the discretion of the commanding officer may be safely brought back to a camp on Montauk point, L. I.

Santiago de Cuba, July 29.—Lieutenant Colonel Angel Rosell, who, after taking confirmation of the instructions to surrender from General Toral to General Parejo, military governor of Guantanamo, has returned here, said to a correspondent that the first information that Guantanamo had of the capitulation of Santiago and the terms thereof was on July 21, when Admiral Sampson sent a letter to General Parejo asking what number of rations should be sent to his garrison, as it had been surrendered on the 17th. General Parejo, being ignorant of the capitulation, refused to credit the message and accept rations, answering Admiral Sampson to that effect. The admiral then sent a copy of the terms of surrender, whereupon General Parejo decided to inquire of General Toral at Santiago whether the news were true, and Lieutenant Colonel Rosell was appointed to bear the intelligence. The surrender of Guantanamo accordingly took place.

Suffering Among the Spanish Troops.

Colonel Rosell says that the conditions at Guantanamo are awful and the troops are literally starving. For the last eight days they have had little or no food. On morning guard the soldiers were obliged to sit, being too weak to stand, and it was impossible to make them build trenches, as they fell from exhaustion. There are 2,000 sick in Guantanamo, suffering from diseases increased by hunger. The French cruiser Rigault de Genouilly was refused permission by Admiral Sampson to land grain and provisions for the relief of the French colony at Guantanamo. All hope was therefore abandoned and the sufferers were awaiting death from starvation. The conditions at Guantanamo, Colonel Rosell says, are worse than those at Santiago. Lieutenant Colonel Rivera of the Ninth infantry received the surrender of Guantanamo. The Spanish troops will remain in the town until transported.

Additional Train Service.

Commencing Sunday, July 24, train will leave Calumet (daily except Saturday) 9:45 p. m., and connect at Nestoria with the night express for Duluth and also with the east-bound express for Sault Ste. Marie and Lower Michigan.

A sleeping car will be run through from Calumet to Sault Ste. Marie, making connection at that point with the through Canadian Pacific railway sleeper for Montreal, Boston and New York. Westbound, through sleeper will be attached to the night express leaving Sault Ste. Marie 5:30 p. m. and Marquette 10:50 p. m., arriving Calumet 6:20 a. m.

The advantages of this service are numerous and far reaching. In the first place it will establish a line ten hours shorter than any other from the copper country to Boston and New York.

Passengers from the east, via the Canadian Pacific railway, for the copper country will go through without the layover at Marquette, which is experienced under the existing schedule and will arrive Calumet 6:20 a. m., instead of 2:00 p. m. as at present. This will afford a double daily service for lower Michigan points, as connections will be made at Soo Junction with the day express via the Michigan Central railroad, arriving Bay City 5:25 p. m., Saginaw 6:27 p. m. and Detroit 10 p. m.

Passengers for the head of the lakes and all points west will leave Calumet 9:45 p. m. and arrive Gogebic range points, Ashland, Duluth and the Superiors same time as they now make leaving Calumet 2:30 p. m., effecting a saving of over seven hours.

Commercial men will be able to leave the Marquette iron range towns at night and be in the copper country for business early the next morning.

For additional advantages and further information, readers are respectfully referred to the ticket agents of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, or to George W. Hibbard, general passenger agent, Marquette, Mich.

ABOUT WAR ALBUMS.

HOW TO MAKE AN INTERESTING AND VALUABLE SOUVENIR.

You Will Wish You Had Begun One When You See Some That Are Under Way—A New York Girl's Plan For Recording the Deeds of Her Soldier Lover.

(Copyright, 1898, by American Press Association.)

Every woman who is the mother, wife, sister, sweetheart or cousin of some brave lad now fighting in the American army or navy is anxiously scanning the papers every day for some news of her loved one and trying to do something to help him.

A bright young woman living in New York, whose lover is an officer in the Seventy-first regiment, has evolved a unique plan by means of which she can keep track of the doings of her sweetheart, or at least of those of his regiment.

When his regiment was first called out, she determined to cut from the newspapers every day all mention of it and especially of his company and himself should he so distinguish himself as to have his actions recorded in the papers.

For a time she kept these clippings in a large manilla envelope, but after awhile they became so numerous that she found it necessary to try some better plan. At last she hit upon a method. She bought a large scrapbook and pasted the clippings in it according to their dates. First she had clippings telling of the encampment at Camp Black. Interspersed with these were pictures of the camp, showing his tent and himself and other interesting features, which she had taken with her camera. Then came clippings of the march to the transport which conveyed them to Tampa and a snapshot of the boys boarding the steamer.

The story of the two days' enforced fast which the regiment was obliged to undergo at this point came next, and the page is blurred with tears which she shed at thought of the hardships undergone by her lover and his brave companions. Here and there is inserted a letter which she has received from him, giving vivid accounts of his life and doings and other matters not so interesting to any but these two. He also sent her views of places when he could get them and of the vessel, all of which are religiously inserted in their proper places.

Then comes an account of the voyage to Cuba, the landing at Baiquiri and that dreadful charge up the hill of San

COVER OF THE WAR ALBUM.

Juan behind the famous rough riders. The story of the terrible baptism of fire of the Seventy-first before Santiago follows, and then accounts of the less exciting but safer work of making roads to which the regiment was put. The poor girl, wrought up though she had been by the terrible news of the previous days, could hardly imagine her spick and span, well dressed lover engaged in the task of road building.

In the front part of the book are pasted maps of Cuba and the region surrounding Santiago, and marked on them is the route followed by the regiment as closely as she could make it out from the descriptions in the reports.

Besides being a very interesting record of current events in a circumscribed form, this souvenir album is very artistically got up, for the young woman, being something of an artist, substituted for original covers of the book others drawn by herself on stout cardboard covered with cloth.

These souvenir albums or scrapbooks may very easily be made by any one, and not only are they most interesting to their owners, but will be highly valued when handed down to future generations as family heirlooms and indisputable records of the valor of heroic ancestors.

The designs to ornament the covers may be either painted or embroidered. The most serviceable color is dark blue linen or butcher's cloth. The embroidery should be in wash silk or linen thread. On the covers American flags, shields, eagles, regimental colors, cannon, tents or other appropriate patterns can be worked, according to the wishes or ingenuity of the owner.

Many other interesting schemes and ideas can easily be thought of and employed by any one who takes up the idea of making such a souvenir book. Should the warrior at the front possess a small camera he could send home a set of pictures illustrating the scenes and incidents of the campaign that would be of the greatest interest. Specimens of the wild flowers of the region and many other things would be valuable in after years as mementos of this history making epoch.

The wives of many of the high officers in the two services are making just such scrapbooks. The wife and daughters of Admiral Sampson have a most complete collection of clippings referring to their distinguished relative and take especial delight in cutting out and pasting in their books any verses and cartoons published in reference to him.
