BOSTON STOCKS.

Boston, March 30.—The news this morning was not any better than it has been for a week but prices hardened. In point of fact fluctuations are entirely on technical position and means little. It is evident market has discounted the adverse things. A rise must be ahead but when it will come is only a question.—I. J. Sturgis.

CURB STOCKS.

J. A. Minnear & Co. say today:

Early prices dragged but towards the close there was a good demand for stocks leaving about slight advance on the day. There was but little news today to affect the market. The demand for copper seems to have subsided and metal in London is showing small losses daily. Arcadian rallied today to 4⅞ and Tamarack sold at 38 after selling at 34½.

OPPOSITION TICKETS

Apparent Township Election Will Be Interesting One.

It is apparent there will be considerable opposition at the polls in the forthcoming township election. Three tickets have already been filed in opposition to the nomination ticket and it is intimated that at least two offices will be filed. The Socialist ticket was filed immediately after the Nomination Ticket and today the People's ticket was filed, with Edward Collins as a candidate for the office of supervisor also the Citizen's ticket with Arthur Reed as the candidate for the office of treasurer. It is also intimated that Fred Larson will file a ticket for the office of justice and Fred Morgan will enter the race for the office of overseer of highways, each on a separate ticket.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LA SALLE COPPER COMPANY

NOTABLE INCREASE IN COPPER CONTENTS OF ROCK IN YEAR 1913.

The La Salle Copper Co. directors submit the following results of operations for the year ending December 31, 1913:

Gross value of fine copper produced from stock pile, 42,905 lbs., estimated at 13 cents	5,583.57
Interest and miscellaneous receipts	8,948.99	$13,532.56
Expenses at mine	$61,227.92

Pounds of refined copper produced	240,798	47,900
Pounds of copper per ton of rock	14.77	19.76

No. 1 Shaft.

This shaft had been uncovered down to the 17th level and stoping was begun in July. After the cave-down caused by the strike the only work done for the balance of the year was pumping and making small repairs. The water from this shaft is now piped through the 12th level to the electric pump at No. 2 shaft. Stoping was resumed early in January.

The new rock house at this shaft was completed early in the year, and a coal trestle to facilitate the handling of coal from the railroad to the boiler house has also been built.

No. 2 Shaft.

The stock pile of copper rock from openings at this shaft was shipped in July. Interruptions due to the strike, and later to the break-down of the hoisting drum, interfered with the handling of water at this shaft until the electric pump was installed at the 12th level. This pump is now taking care of all the water from No. 1 and No. 2 shafts. Repairs to the hoist are nearly completed and stoping should soon be under way.

The new rock house at this shaft was completed early in the year. A coal trestle and a large boiler house have been built and a second Belpaire boiler has been added to the equipment.

Surface.

Railroad connections have been made between No. 1 and No. 2 shafts and the main line of the Mineral Range Railroad.

HARMONY IN SIGHT FOR THE G. O. P. IN NEBRASKA.

Lincoln, Neb., March 30.—As a result of a conference begun here today harmony is in sight for the Republican party in Nebraska, which has been split into two rival factions since the presidential campaign in '12. Plans for an amalgamation of the opposing forces were discussed by the two state central committees representing the two factions of the party. The proposed agreement for a restoration of harmony calls for the retirement of the Currie committee, which supported Taft in the last campaign, in favor of the Epperson committee representing the rival faction.

JUSSERAND MAY BE GIVEN LONDON AMBASSADORSHIP.

Washington, March 30.—A rumor is widely circulated to the effect that French ambassador Jusserand may be transferred to London. It is understood his government desires to advance him to another important post owing to his long service here. His wife is an American.

STRIKE ARGUMENT ENDS IN SHOOTING

Albert Salo of Wolverine Slightly Wounded Today

An argument over the strike resulted in the shooting of Albert Salo of Wolverine, aged about 25 years, at about 2:10 this afternoon by a man whose name has not been learned, but who has been arrested and lodged in the Red Jacket jail. It is not believed Salo's wound is of a serious nature.

Salo was standing on the corner of Pine and Fifth street, waiting for a car, as were a number of other men among them the man who shot Salo, it is said. Salo is a member of the Western Federation of Miners and he engaged in conversation with the other men, several of whom were workmen. The argument grew heated and Salo claims the other man threatened to strike him, saying: "I'll paint your face, too." Salo admits that he struck at the man and knocked his hat off, whereupon the latter drew a gun from his pocket and fired point blank at Salo. The bullet entered Salo in the front of the stomach and emerged from his side, immediately over his hip. It is believed the course of the bullet was deflected by a rib and that the wound is merely a surface wound. Salo is resting as easily as might be expected.

When the shooting occurred, Officer MacDougall was on the opposite side of Pine street and he immediately placed the man who shot Salo under arrest.

WILL COMBAT SOCIALISM AMONG FINNISH PEOPLE.

which the farmers of the copper country may cooperate to a greater extent than is possible now and which will hold frequent meetings for mutual betterment. There has recently been formed in Houghton county, an organization of Finnish farmers, but the league members believe its ultimate aim is the further spreading of Socialistic propaganda rather than the betterment of the farming conditions. A large number of the farmers in this district have refused to affiliate with the club above mentioned and the league will endeavor to assist them in every possible way and to provide even greater advantages than such club membership would provide.

The league formed last evening has also a legal committee which aims to investigate instances where Finnish residents have been subjected to campaigns of vilification and abuse in the Socialistic Press an also take the proper legal action. In case suits for redress are entered, they will be financed by the league.

The resolutions adopted are as follows:

Resolutions.

Whereas, It appears to us that the doctrines of Socialism have been spread among our people and a determined effort has been made to convert them to the principles of Socialism, and that the spreading of this propaganda has resulted in many of our people being misled, and

Whereas, during the last year, the preaching of Socialism has become more active and has been aided by the local Finnish newspapers, the Tyomies and the Paivalehti, and in consequence thereof there seems to be a widespread belief on the part of the people of this county that the great majority of the Finnish people are Socialists or in sympathy with the Socialist movement, and thus the great bulk of the Finnish people have been made to bear the odium for a political disease which, as we believe, has affected but a small proportion of them, and

Whereas, up to the present time, the Socialist movement in this county among the Finnish people has met with no concerted opposition and has gone on unchecked, and

Whereas, we believe that Socialism, as preached in this community, is false in theory and vicious in practice and is a serious menace to the future welfare and happiness of our people, and

Whereas, a large number of the Finnish residents and citizens of this county have met together and determined upon the organization of a Finnish Anti-Socialist League, and

Whereas, we believe that the time has come when we, as good American citizens, should and must take an open and determined stand against Socialism and those who preach its pernicious propaganda.

Therefore, It is resolved that the Finnish Anti-Socialist League shall proceed along the following lines:

First, To gather into its membership all the Finnish residents of this community who are opposed to Socialism in order that by uniting in action they may better meet and destroy this evil.

Second, To carry on among the Finnish people of this community a vigorous campaign of education along economic and political lines, through personal contact, by means of the press and by means of public meetings, with the view of exposing the falsity and viciousness of the doctrines of Socialism as heretofore preached.

Third, To use every other means which may be suggested from time to time to combat the growth of Socialism among the Finnish people.

Fourth, To give full publicity to the object and purpose of this organization and its methods of procedure.

DID NOT ASK CONFERENCE WITH UNION COMMITTEE

lowing men, James Elliott, John Bercich, Mike Plese, Louis Simon, Sam Nurmio and Victor Berg, and that as soon as he ascertained who the committee men were he called in a stenographer and took down the conversation between the committee and himself.

James Elliott was the spokesman of the committee, stating that the committee represented the former employes who had been out on strike and had called to see whether the men formerly employed could come back as they went out, without bad feelings and without any prejudice on the part of the mining companies. Mr. MacNaughton replied as follows:

"In reply to your request I would say that about the middle of last December a committee of business men of Laurium and Red Jacket waited on me and asked me not to import any more men for the time being. These business men thought that for personal solidarity among the strikers they could get the strikers to go back to work. I expressed to their request that is, I stated that we would not import any more outside men until the first of January, but that we were short of men and that I could not defer importing new men for a longer period than that. This satisfied the committee and they departed but there was no appreciable result from the efforts of the committee, that is, no great number of men returned to work and we were still short-handed when the first of January came, and the necessity for importing men was quite as urgent as it had been and we did import more men with the result that at the present time practically every mine in our management is full-handed.

"Our records show that we have as many men working today as we had before the strike occurred, when we leave the Tamarack mine out of consideration which we are not attempting to operate. As I have stated on many previous occasions we are willing to take back into our employ the great proportion of our former employes who went out on strike. Being full-handed at the present time it will be necessary that these former employes make application and their applications will be considered as vacancies occur in the order in which the applications have been made. We will not discharge one man from our employ from any of our mines for the sake of making an opening for a returning striker, nor will we re-employ any striker who does not first surrender his Western Federation of Miners' card.

"In making this statement I wish to say it is our intention to give our former employes the preference if they desire to return to work, but we shall always reserve to ourselves the rigid to refuse to hire such of our former employes as we have stated so many times in the past we would not hire, namely, men who have been arrested or convicted of violence or men who have incited to violence."

Mr. Elliott then, as spokesman for the committee, asked if the fact that any ex-employe was over forty years of age would keep him from getting a job. Mr. MacNaughton's reply was:

"Unless there are some other reasons prompting us to refuse employment to a former employe who has been on strike, the fact that he is over 40 years of age will not in itself be a reason sufficient to refuse that employment."

Mr. MacNaughton stated that up to the time the committee called on him he had had no talk with members of the federation nor officers of the federation in regard to the men coming back to work and that if that committee was sent by Mr. Rickard it was sent by him without any previous knowledge on the part of the mining companies.

AVIATOR LOSES LIFE IN FLIGHT OVER THE ANDES

Figueroa proposed to fly from the Chilian side over into Argentina, while Jorge Newbery and Teodoro Fels were to attempt the passage from the Argentine to the Chilian side. Three times Figueroa essayed the dangerous flight and each time was driven back by high winds, by treacherous air pockets, or other obstacles to continuous flight. Finally he abandoned the attempt until a more powerful machine can be provided. The tragedy of death marked the culmination of the attempt from the other side. Jorge Newbery, a half-Yankee, for he was the son of a dentist from the United States who has lived in Buenos Aires many years and who married an Argentine lady, was one of four daring brothers, all identified with the modern pleasures and sports of Argentina. He held the record for the highest flight on the Western Hemisphere and the fourth highest in the world. His brother, Ernesto Newbery, attempted a balloon flight across Brazil about a year ago and was carried out to sea and never again heard from. Jorge was an electrical engineer by profession, having studied in the United States, and was the pride of the aviators of Argentina. He made the attempt on March 1—something went wrong with his machine—and the Andes claimed another victim of their dangerous heights.

The passage by automobile presented a different, but scarcely less dangerous problem. As the old trail approaches the summit of the pass it narrows almost to a mule path, twisting and turning around the side of the mountain in a way to daunt the most venturesome chauffeur and demanding the acme of nerve and coolness to negotiate it. Often had it been tried by drivers and machines of other nationalities without success—until Johnson Martin's courage and endurance finally succeeded and the Yankee car with its Yankee driver crossed safely over the summit and down to Santiago on the other side. It is said that an enthusiastic reception by American automobile associations awaits him upon his return to this country. He beat the best aviators of South America—and there are none better—across the Andes.

UNDERWOOD ON DUTY WHILE HOBSON CAMPAIGNS

His friends believe that if he is elected to the senate he will eventually become a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

There are several candidates in the field for the short-term senatorship, but as the successful one will have less than a year to serve the contest is attracting comparatively little attention. Nearly all of the present representatives in Congress have opposition for renomination, but the indications are that the most of them will be returned.

Underwood Victory Predicted.

Montgomery, Ala., March 30.—Rep. Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic House leader, will be nominated for the United States Senate by an overwhelming majority, according to reports received here from every county in the state.

The race will be settled on April 6. The regular election will merely ratify that day's result. Mr. Underwood's total majority is estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000. He is expected to carry 57 of the 67 counties.

Gov. Emmet O'Neal said that Mr. Underwood's majority would be 40,000. "He is the choice of the people of Alabama," said the governor. "Mr. Hobson will carry most of the counties in his own congressional district, and possibly one or two outside, but no more."
