CORPUS CHRISTI TOMORROW TO CELEBRATE LABOR DAY WITH MANY FEATURED PROGRAM

Parade, Public Speaking at Artesian Park, Basket Picnic, Baseball Game and Big Ball Arranged by Committee Local Trades Council.

Tomorrow is Labor Day. It is the one day in the year that is wholly given over to organized labor, and the one day that is dedicated to the working man throughout the United States. The day is a legal holiday, made so when the growth of organized labor in the United States became so great that when the artisans of the different crafts took their day of recreation, it left business almost at a standstill for twenty-four hours, while labor was enjoying a short vacation.

It is a day that is celebrated throughout America in the form of another with parades and field days and picnics, and concerts and excursions, and in fact, all sorts of amusement giving features.

In Corpus Christi Labor Day will be celebrated in a fitting manner with a program lasting throughout the day in which a schedule of events is included many features appropriate to the occasion. The Labor Day program was arranged by the Corpus Christi Trades Council which is made up of representatives of the various locals in the city. This body is presided over by Harry G. Smith, of the Painters' Union, as president. Frank H. Dunker of the Carpenters' Union, is vice president, W. D. Dickey of the Clerks is secretary-treasurer, B. F. Davis, of the Painters is warden, and Bob Fagron of the Bartenders, is conductor.

The Working Committee.

The special Labor Day committee, which will stage the celebration tomorrow was appointed from the members of the Trades Council as follows: T. A. White, of the Carpenters, as chairman; B. F. Davis, Painters; Frank H. Parker, Carpenters; H. A. Hollams, Tailors, and H. G. Smith, Painters. These men have succeeded in arranged a program for the celebration which is said to be one of the best that has ever been attempted in this city.

Affiliated with the Corpus Christi Trades Council, are the following local unions: Carpenters, No. [illegible]; Painters, No. 585; Painters, No. 817; Barbers, No. 872; Bartenders, No. 849; American Federation of Musicians, No. 607; Typographical, No. 338; Tailors, No. 223; Clerks, No. 1195, and Plumbers, No. 568.

The Day's Program.

The events staged for tomorrow commence at 8:30 in the morning, when the big industrial parade, participated in by the members of all unions, will march through the principal streets of the city, to the music of the Corpus Christi Marine Band and will be followed by floats entered by different locals affiliated with the Trades Council.

The parade will W. L. Dickey, of the Clerks local as marshal will form on Belden street at the sap depot. Mr. Dickey will have as his aides a detail of the city police, and Sal Dickey of the Carpenters Union, as the senior of the Trades Council flag. The parade will march down Belden street to Chaparral, thence south on Lawlor, from Laguna to Mesquite, and then down Mesquite street to Artesian park.

Following is the order in which the different bodies will march in the parade: Carpenters, Painters, Barbers, Electricians, Bartenders, Musicians, Typographical, Tailors and Clerks.

Speaking at Park.

It is estimated that the parade will consume about one hour's time, after which the speaking of the day will take place at 1 o'clock in Artesian Park, when the following will deliver addresses: Mayor Roy Miller, County Attorney James M. Taylor, W. B. Pope, County Judge Walter F. Timon, S. H. Caldwell, Judge Jesse Wright, Joe Hirsch and T. C. Brennan.

Lunch will be had at Artesian Park commencing at 12:30 o'clock which will be followed by various sports, as the fifty yard dash for girls, one hundred yard dash for boys, the fat men's race, sack race, three-legged race and egg and spoon race. Suitable prizes will be given to the winners in the respective events.

During the afternoon the Tats and the Mother Hubbards will engage in a baseball game at League Park when the cream of amateur baseballdom in Corpus Christi, graded and banned according to their shapes and sizes, will battle nine long innings for supremacy. From five to six o'clock in the afternoon there will be a fire department demonstration on the Pavillion wharf in which the new combination automobile chemical engine and pumper will be demonstrated.

To close the day a grand ball will be given to the members of the various locals and their ladies on the second floor of Lawlor's Pavilion, at the foot of Mann street, affording to some a full day of pleasure for the laboring men and union men of Corpus Christi.

Published Program.

A neat program has been compiled for the event showing pictures of the more prominent union men in the city, the officers in the locals and delegates from the different ladies. The complete roster of the Trades Council is given which is list of the officers of each body. In addition there is a list of the prominent buildings in the city which have been built by union labor, and also a list of the donors to the Labor Day celebration.

At the close of the booklet program several pages are taken up with a history of the local Trades Council since its inception on February 17, 1913, when it was granted a charter by the American Federation of Labor. At that time there were seven bodies represented and since then four locals have been added.

To Our Farmers;

On account of the war in Europe, it is impossible to ship cotton abroad. All the cotton exchanges have closed, and, for the time being, the only cotton moving, is that being taken by American mills.

We would advise you to store your cotton in the local warehouse, bringing your receipts to the bank, and if you need some extra funds we are perfectly willing to assist you, and, also, if necessary, we will extend notes due us by farmers who are unable to meet them until they sell their cotton. We do not want you to sacrifice your cotton. The Corpus Christi National Bank wants to assist you in obtaining a fair price for it. In return, we expect you to properly protect us by having your cotton under a good roof, protected from weather and fire. With this kind of collateral, you may rest easy, knowing that as soon as conditions adjust themselves you will be able to convert your crop into money at, we, hope, a good price.

This is a time when the bankers, merchants and farmers should all work together. If you owe your merchant and the bank, we suggest that you bring your cotton warehouse receipts to us, and, if you want to protect your merchants, you can give notice to the bank that upon sale of your cotton we are to make certain payments to the merchants. In this way you can deposit all your warehouse receipts in your bank, and, at the same time, protect the merchant whom you owe. We think this is the proper thing for our farmers to do, and we feel sure that the merchants will be willing to extend all reasonable accommodations to those entitled to receive them.

Now, that we have had some rain, we urge all farmers to put their ground into a thorough state of cultivation. We hope you will put in a heavy acreage in feed, and also put in some livestock, especially hogs, which are very profitable in this country. The bank is willing to extend reasonable accommodation to farmers who will invest in good livestock.

We will appreciate a personal call from you, and an expression from you regarding this letter.

Yours very truly,

CORPUS CHRISTI NATIONAL BANK
