SPOT COTTON MARKET TWENTY TO TWENTY-FIVE POINTS HIGHER

FUTURES YESTERDAY SHOWED RISE OF FIVE TO SIXTEEN POINTS AT THE CLOSE

Continued Heavy Demand in Liverpool Figured in the Rise in American Markets—New York Spots 10c

A rise of five to sixteen points marked the trading in the American cotton markets yesterday with spots in Galveston on twenty-five points and in New York twenty points. A steadily strong spot demand in the Southern markets was especially noted. Liberal sales following an equal increase the day previous and a broad demand on the market before that it thought to have affected the trade to higher prices. An equal rise has been reported Liverpool futures came in a shade lower to ten points higher but most prices were an eleven points.

The American markets opened unchanged to a shade higher and quickly went lower and remained dull for some time when the rise that ended only at the close became noticeable.

The closing report was a little better than had been looked for and with favorable weather and heavy foreign the market is expected to hold some considerable advance unless a change in any thing is indicated. The report was 101 to 101 to 101 101.

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies

Our illustration shows Santa Claus for the coming season. And as the saying goes, the choice of connoisseurs is ever before us. We know what to do that will sell to the physical comfort of customers contributed to a subject that has concerned most women of all ages. One of the best helpful things in the maternal alphabet is generally sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many great mothers who to them personally have told how they remedied, and who, knowing it to be their own daughters that it certainly came to them the same help-ending. They have told it for so direct testimony from the mothers with their babies and babies on "A" days to effect relief from the pain and distress of the approximately severe ordeal they passed or experienced.

By my women there is no substitute "Mother's Friend" when the truth is the subject of conversation. In interesting little book is quoted the best testimonial we have read. Send for it. 200 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It offers to many things that women like to read about. It also contains many complete directions that could be put into a book. It refers not only to the relief from nausea given due to their treatment but also to causes, morning sickness, caking of breasts.

Get at nearest drug store a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today and write for the book.

The effect of this wonderful external application is an experience of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through the generations.
