TEUTONS CHANGE TACTICS IN THE BALKAN CAMPAIGN, FACING FRENCH

MAIN SERBIAN ARMY DRIVEN TO FRONTIER IS ENGAGED BY THE AUSTRO-GERMANS WHILE BULGARS TURN UPON FRENCH LEAVING MONASTIR SIEGE

KUROPATKIN LEADS RUSSIANS INTO BALKANS

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The main Serbian army, which was driven back to the Montenegrin and Albanian borders, has been attacked by the Austro-Germans, while the Bulgarians have moved East to engage the French troops. Bulgars apparently have abandoned the Monastir siege to attack French positions at Gevgeli. The French positions thus far are reported good, but Salonikl advices hint that it may be necessary for the French to withdraw from Krivolak.

It is reported that the Russian General Kuropatkin is leading the new offensive in the Balkans. But it is not known how these Russians get access into the country.

The Turks are showing activity on the Gallipoli peninsula.

TURKS FALL BACK.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Turkish troops resisting the British advance in Mesopotamia are falling back on Dilah, six miles from Bagdad, says an official statement tonight. The English wounded number 3500. The number of dead is not known. Thirteen hundred Turks were captured.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—War Secretary Kitchener is reported here to be at home where he has gone to interview the Italian premier and other of Polonia.

Viscount Bryce in the House of Lords tonight told of further measures of Armenian relief he described as supplemental to those of the previous week.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The official announced classification of the French "Victory Loan" is indicated by telegraphic reports from all sections of France tonight.

PEACE CONFERENCE WOULD SUIT MOST BELLIGERENTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Madame Schwimmer, of Hungary, and Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of the British member of Parliament, called on President Wilson today bearing definite information that a majority of the belligerent nations will listen to suggestions from any neutral gathering concerning peace.

Wilson was urged to initiate the formation of a Peace Conference or at least to appoint a United States delegate if another neutral nation suggests a conference. He made no definite promise.

Henry Ford expressed optimism that his slogan "Out of the trenches by Christmas, and never again" would now prove fast.

MANY STOCKMEN AT BALL

THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL BALL IN SAN ANTONIO ATTRACTS HUNDREDS FROM ALL SECTIONS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26.—Hundreds of cattlemen from all parts of the state are attending the Thanksgiving Festival Ball here tonight. All incoming trains today were crowded.

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING DESTRUCTION MUNITION SHIPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—Charles Crowley, charged with conspiracy to destroy ships bearing munitions to the Allies, was arrested here today. He was released but was released under bond of five thousand dollars.

He is alleged to have used both fire and dynamite methods in the conspiracy charged.

J. L. M'BRIEN, SCHOOL EXTENSION SPECIALIST ADDRESSED TEACHERS

MEMBER OF NATIONAL BUREAU OF EDUCATION, BEFORE 2,000 OF THE DELEGATES HERE FOR TEACHERS CONVENTION, LAST NIGHT DELIVERED POWERFUL ADDRESS ON "PROBLEMS IN AMERICAN EDUCATION".

IDEALS FOR EFFORTS OF TEXAS TEACHERS PRESENTED

The following address was delivered by J. L. McBrien, School Extension Specialist of the United States Bureau of Education, before the Texas State Teachers' Association last night:

[illegible] of every child of school age through a larger taxing unit than is now the policy in many states. This larger taxing unit must come sometimes through the consolidation of a sufficient number of weak rural school districts to establish a good centralized school. This may be effectively done in many cases without the free transportation of pupils at public expense as an instance. In many cases it must come through consolidation with free transportation at public expense for all children living more than two miles from the school house. In other sections of the country this larger taxing unit must come through township organization and in still other sections of the country it must come, as it has in several states, through the county unit of taxation and administration.

But after all has been done that is possible and practicable to secure this larger taxing unit there will still be thousands of one-room, one-teacher weak rural schools in existence, especially in sparsely settled sections of the country. For example in some sections of the country there are weak one-teacher rural school districts comprising a township of land within themselves and yet not under township organization but an independent school district. I know of one such district in Nebraska that contains 144 sections of land with 24 to 30 pupils. [illegible] of taxpayers [illegible] of a township of land within itself. [illegible] school district.
