NEVER EXPECTED TO SEE WELL DAY AGAIN

WELL-KNOWN REAL ESTATE MAN SAYS TANLAC FILLED HIM WITH NEW LIFE AND ENERGY

"A year ago I didn't think I would ever be well man again, but Tanlac has put new life in me and I feel as good NOW like my days of old, with some of the boys," was the characteristic statement of G. F. Hamilton, a well-known real estate man of Austin, Texas, recently.

"I suffered for eight or nine years, to speak no more, from rheumatic pains and aching that ran up and down my sides like a fire brandy. . . . and burning. I also had catarrh. . . . Sometimes my stomach a hard lump would form in my side that made me groan. For I couldn't tell what it was. My nerves were in a pretty bad state and worried me all the time. Last year when I was on my farm I got so weak I was in the garden one day and my legs grew light and then I fell as awful fell and I was so dizzy up and went home because afterwards I was afraid among in the street.

"I heard of Tanlac from a man who was and it has done me a wonderful amount of good. My nerves are now perfectly sound, my appetite is good, I am feeling more like old times than I have for years, and more energetic and want to be stirring around and doing things. Neither has there been some days from anything I ever took, it's the best in my life for here and I think it deserved to cure others, I am."

THE HOME FOR MARRIED

The marriage of Judge Nelson Little and Miss Zulime Cotton took place quietly Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dodge. The ceremony was attended with a profusion of growing plants and white flowers. The bride's home was decorated with white and pink.

The wedding processional, which was played by Esther Jameson, daughter of Mr. Charles Jameson, Jr., was followed by the Mendelssohn wedding march. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Dr. Hoffman, of the Episcopal church, in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, as matron of honor, and Judge Little was attended by his brother, Hugh Little, of Austin, who was best man. The bride wore a white silk voile dress with accessories and carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

Following the ceremony there was an informal wedding dinner at the home of the groom's parents, Judge and Mrs. Nelson Little, Sr., and Mrs. Dodge was assisted in serving by Misses Nancy Dodge, Lucy Little, Dallas Cox and Lillian Brooks.

Judge and Mrs. Little left on the late train for a trip to California. The bride's traveling dress and hat were Hudnut shades, the hat of black velvet and trimmed with black velvet and ostrich feathers. After their return they will be at home at the Nueces Hotel.

BESSIE LOVE AND TRIANGLE KIDDIES IN "CHEERFUL GIVERS"

These boys wanted to be Triangle kiddies, will entertain with "Cheerful Givers" a Triangle picture, at the Amuse theatre today.

Orphans are always interesting and appealing and when they are as pretty as Bessie Love and as clever as the Triangle kiddies they are an interesting attraction.

Bessie is Delory, the daughter of Farmer Dandy, who is superintendent of a bankrupt orphanage. When Mrs. Grey, a wealthy society woman, catches her handsome son, Kenneth Harlan, flirting with "the kitchen complex" she discharges that dumpled maid and sends to the orphanage for "the oldest boy" whom she intends to employ in the kitchen instead of a girl. But there is no "oldest boy" at the orphanage, so Bessie, to help out during the personality stress, puts on a curly wig, boy's clothes and takes the position. She deceives Mrs. Grey, but not the son.

Humor and human interest fill the play. One of the most delightful situations occurs when a band of tiny orphans comes trooping to the Grey home on a rescuing expedition. But they are so tired upon reaching their destination that, instead of rescuing her, she is forced to rescue them and tuck them in bed. Later they take an important part in bringing about the climax of the play.
