LIGHTER RECEIPTS AND SOME STRONGER PRICES

LAMBS AND BEST FED EWES IN GOOD DEMAND.

Extra Effort to Maintain Hog Prices Above the Government Deadline of Seventeen-Ten At Missouri River Markets—Country Buyers In Much Evidence For Cattle Here of Late.

The Sun Special Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 18.—Although there was a heavy run of cattle today, thirty-five thousand head, prices were steady to strong on all the grades. Best steers here around $17.00. Hogs sold strong to ten cents higher. Top $17.60 with receipts of fifteen thousand head. Sheep and lambs steady. Native yearling breeding ewes $19.00 and native lambs $15.50. Receipts five thousand head. Corn and cakefed steers are comparatively scarce and sell at $12.00 to $15.00, which means that every fifth lot of added quality or flesh increases the selling price materially. Prime steers are quotable up to $19.50, Colorado and Wyoming steers are coming freely and grass beef steers from these states selling at $12.00 to $15.75. Good western cows bring $4.80 to $10.50, including a three-car drove of Idaho cows today at $9.75. Canner cows are plentiful and sell at $4.25 to $5.75, which is fifty cents above a week ago. Best native cows are up to $12.00. Veals are higher at $10.00 to $12.50. A large number of country buyers are here today, combining the business of purchasing cattle with the pleasure of attending the American Royal show, which is being held this week. Prices on all good kinds are strong, good stock steers selling at $9.00 to $12.50, feeders $9.50 to $14.00 and common stock steers $6.50 to $8.50.

There appears to be a genuine effort to maintain the hog average above the $17.10 deadline established for Kansas City, and the heavy Monday receipts of fifteen thousand head today sold at strong prices. Best heavy and mediumweights at $17.60, best lights $17.55, bulk of sales $17.00 to $17.50 and with the average cost of packers' droves close to $17.25 today. Chicago's average Saturday was $17.56, only six cents above the minimum set for that market. Stock pigs are lower. Sales at $13.50 to $14.50. Receipts here so far this month are almost 90 per cent greater than the same time last November, and it is safe to say that without the operation of the fixed price minimum the market would have been a dollar or more below what it is.

Sheep prices are strong with natives and returned fed western lambs selling up to $15.50 and best fat ewes $9.25. Prospects favor light receipts and strong prices. A feature today was the sale of four cars of yearling native blackface breeding ewes at $19.00, a hundred pounds average.

PROFITEERING IN LAMBS UNSETTLES MARKETS EAST

Profiteering in lamb and mutton by Eastern butchers and retail dealers was a factor in recent unsatisfactory market conditions, which were made the occasion for a special visit to Chicago by Frank J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Woolgrowers' association. According to a communication received by Dr. S. W. McClure, secretary of the association, the food administration of New York imposed fines on several hundred retail butchers for making excess charges on lamb and mutton. Referring to such action, Hagenbarth says:

"Despite the break in the live market it appears that restaurant keepers and retailers have actually raised prices to consumers, who have no recourse but to restrict purchases. Investigation of packers' records shows that they are selling dressed lamb at $13.00 to $22.00 per hundred, which is in line with the live market. The situation is deplorable, and unless something can be done to eliminate September and October demoralization, it will be necessary for some sheepmen to go out of business.

"Fortunately, we secured a good price for our wool this year. Otherwise our condition would be even more serious. A few years ago we were satisfied when we had fixed ourselves for a thirty-day feed. Now we must make preparation for a four-month period and with hay at fifteen dollars to twenty-five dollars per ton, cottonseed cake costing close to eighty dollars, herders' wages sky-high and all other expenses in proportion, loss is inevitable. When fat lambs sold at six dollars a hundred net profits were more assured."

Hagenbarth has advised Dr. McClure that he will be in Salt Lake City to attend the annual convention of the National Woolgrowers' association, January 16 to 18, 1919. At that time Hagenbarth will probably offer a resolution to bring about an official investigation of the reason why periodical slumps in the markets occur during the range season.

PROTECTION IS NEEDED FOR THIS COUNTRY'S LIVE STOCK

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A warning that the animal industry of this country must be safeguarded if the United States is to supply its own wants and also feed devastated Europe for the next year or more, has been given here by Dean William Horace Hoskins of the New York Veterinary college. The food problem calls for the zoning of the country with an animal engineer in charge of every zone, he declares, and zone abattoirs and rendering establishments should be established where unprofitable and sterile animals can be turned into food, leather, wool, fats and fertilizers to save the waste of food on the farms.

"In the last fifteen years," Dean Hoskins declares, "the population of the country has increased 20 per cent, whereas in the same time there has been an actual decrease of 2 per cent in the number of beef cattle, which explains the high cost of beef, shoes and leather. The loss sustained by the United States from infectious and contagious diseases among animals in the last year has amounted to $250,000,000."

Federal, state and municipal government, he asserts, will have to employ a large veterinary service to reduce the tremendous preventable losses of live stock and to foster the increase of animals on the farms.

CATTLE ON THE RANGES ARE IN GOOD CONDITION

Winter ranges and the live stock thereon are reported to be in "fair to good" condition, according to the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture issued at Salt Lake City last Wednesday. The report states: "Favorable weather conditions continued over the fall and winter ranges of the district this week and sheep and cattle were holding their own nicely as a rule. A light but fairly general snowstorm toward the close of the week left from a trace to two inches of snow over the pastures and ranges, though this moisture had practically disappeared at the time of reporting except from the more sheltered places. Thus sheep and cattle bound for winter ranges were still confined pretty close around the waterholes where feed was getting short and scanty. The best fields and other fall pastures continued to carry large numbers of animals, and some feeding was being done locally. The winter ranges and the live stock thereon are reported in fair to good condition as a rule. The stock movement to the western deserts continued, while the Wah Wah and other more southerly ranges have already received most of their winter quota of stock."

Progress Is Reported.

George E. Holman, government director in this state of the warfare against predatory animals, said last Tuesday that gratifying progress is being made in this work. He called attention to the burning at Provo the other day of three thousand coyote scalps representing the saving of $40,000,000 worth of live stock. Strychnine is found better adapted for the elimination of these pestiferous creatures than trapping or shooting. Bisulphide of carbon is specially adapted to the extermination of subterranean pests, as directing the chemical into their holes smothers them. But they breed so rapidly that a systematic warfare extending over years is necessary to get rid of them. The state of Montana has in twenty years paid out $120,969 in bounties, and other commonwealths have also expended large sums annually for this purpose. Holman says rabies appears to be dying out, as very little of it has been reported of late.

WITH THE LIVE STOCKMEN OF THIS SECTION OF UTAH

Sheepmen are paying five cents per acre rent for grazing land out around Myton. Some of the homesteaders are getting enough out of it to pay taxes.

The Macsons of Scofield are figuring to this week or next ship out about a dozen carloads of cattle to the Kansas City market. A. C. Madsen will accompany "em.

A. C. Madsen, Joseph Seely, C. T. Madsen and R. LeRoy Barton of Mt. Pleasant recently disposed of their lambs to feeders at Bismarck. They were more than a thousand head in the sale which brought the flockmasters twelve cents a pound.

Tapping right at the heels of the influenza epidemic, which has been scourging all of Summit county, rabies has made its appearance again, and two men named White and Peterson are being given Pasteur treatment for the disease by Dr. T. R. Beatty, state health officer. The men were both bitten by the same dog. Dr. Beatty says an analysis of the animal's brain showed it to be suffering from the dread malady.

The United States government will spend forty thousand dollars this winter to eradicate predatory animals, according to E. W. Nelson, chief of the United States biological survey. The state live stock board and Nelson met a few days ago and approved an agreement wherein the government and the state will each pay half the expense of the campaign against the destroyers of live stock. Nelson later conferred with Fish and Game Commissioner Siddoway about proposed changes in the state fish and game laws, which would make the state regulations conform to those of the nation.

The November price basis of a minimum of $17.50 for hogs will be continued for the month of December under an agreement reached by the food administration, a sub-committee of the agricultural advisory board, hograisers and packers. The food administration, in announcing a continuation of the present price basis says it is highly desirable that the lighterweight hogs be held back for the next thirty days. If withheld at this time the possibility of breaking down present price levels because of excessive receipts of the lighterweights will be avoided.

D. O. Mackay, a sheepman of Salt Lake City, doesn't lay claim to occult powers or to being the seventh son of a seventh son, but he has proved to be a good enough guesser to win two thousand nine hundred dollars by predicting within four days of when the war was going to end and doing it more than two years ago. Mackay's high grade guessing powers brought him a tidy pot of two thousand nine hundred dollars, made up by twenty-nine sheepmen, each subscribing one hundred dollars to a fund which was to go to the one naming a date nearest the day on which the world war would come to an end. The guessing was done two years ago last February and Monday chose November 11, 1918.

Plans are under way for the holding of the third annual intermountain fat stock show in Salt Lake City next April under the auspices of the Intermountain Stock Show association. The date has not yet been definitely fixed, but it is probable that the show will be held during the first week of April. United effort will be made to make this the greatest and best fat stock show ever presented in

HEAD OF CHURCH WINS SUIT FOR REAL ESTATE

President Joseph F. Smith, as trustee for the Mormon church, wins in the Raleigh estate case, by decision of the supreme court of Utah lately handed down. Orson P. Rumel as administrator with the will attached, of the estate of Alonzo H. Raleigh, who died in 1901, loses the appeal he took from a decision on a demurrer in district court. Alfred Solomon, a former executor for the will, was also made a defendant in the suit, but the issue of the suit was the question of whether property willed to the church should be held chargeable for other bequests made in the will, when it was found that the remainder of the estate was not large enough to bear the expense.

GREATLY BENEFITED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS.

"I am thankful for the good I have received by using Chamberlain's Tablets. About two years ago when I began taking them I was suffering a great deal from distress after eating and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a torpid liver. Chamberlain's Tablets corrected these disorders in a short time, and since taking two bottles of them my health has been good, writes Mrs. M. P. Harwood, Auburn, N. Y.—Advt.
