WORDS TO WOMEN.

In a lecture on hygiene, before a Rochester, New York, audience, a well known physician of Syracuse touched upon the health of women; and said: As to the hair, just think of the beauty and benefit of a head of hair that has been burnt, banged, jammed, jumbled, frizzed, montaged, bandaged, bleached, dyed and tousled until there is no life in it. Ten to one its proprietor will be bald headed and wear a forty dollar wig before she is fifty. Now, add to this modern head a modern bonnet, with an area of four to six square inches. If a bonnet is of any use it is to protect the head from the sun, wind and cold, and the woolen hood or the poke bonnet is the nearest the ideal. Next comes the corset, but I must leave unsaid much that might say. Why is it that a little waist is the pet ambition of a majority of the gentler sex? Nature never made a woman in the shape of an hour glass, and when I see such a waist I cannot help thinking what a babel of discords is going on inside. Heart, liver, lungs, pancreas, spleen and stomach all jumbled together in a perpetual panic, not one of which can perform its functions as it ought. Can we wonder that pale cheeks, billious disorders, consumption and death are the ghastly heritage that many fashionable mothers bequeath to their offspring? I have never heard a reasonable argument in its favor. Among all the monstrous absurdities of our barbarian sisters, there is nothing half as absurd or detrimental as the corset. All their deformities are confined to non-vital parts of the body, while this impedes the actions of some of the most vital organs of the body. Physicians, upon opening the bodies of women who have laced in accordance with the fashion, often find the liver marked off in furrows, by the pressure of the ribs, and the stomach and abdominal organs grown together. And yet no woman will admit that she wears her corsets tight.
