During the past week High McDonald sold one of his mines to a party of Phenix for $150, the mine was undeveloped, hardly more than a mere location.

Two soldiers, while attempting to cross the river at the old McDowell crossing, Wednesday morning, lost two government mules and a wagon; the men themselves had a very narrow escape.

E. Irvine, while out riding last Sunday accidentally broke his fine new buggy. He came back to town on foot while the buggy was brought back in installments—a little piece at a time.

Ellis & Co. commenced unpacking their large stock of merchandise to-day in the building north of the flouring mill, formerly occupied as a warehouse. They will occupy this place until their new store is completed in Woolsey & Wentworth's hall.

We learn that the little prospectors mill brought to the territory a few months since by Messrs. Allison & Simons, has been purchased by a gentleman doing business in town, who will put it up on one of the many dikes near town. Its capacity is between one and two tons, daily.

The coach leaving Wickenburg for California, Friday evening, April 16, was robbed four miles west of that place by three masked men. They ransacked the mail, and took about $250 from two passengers who were on the coach. Considerable treasury was in the express box. No clue has been as yet discovered of the robbers. The Governor has offered a reward of $500 for their apprehension; the express company have, also, a standing reward.

Two saloons are camped under the trees at Cave creek, awaiting developments.

Some vandal last week stole 300 feet of rope from the deep well north of town, on the road to the Tiptop, property of Messrs. Buck & Son.

Jose Arviza, died at his home in Wickenburg, on the evening of the 22d. Deceased was a brother in law of M. L. Peralta; was well known; having relatives living in different parts of the Territory. He died of inflammation of the bowels.

The first party at the Terpsichorean Pavaillion on Wednesday evening was a pleasant affair. The attendance was not large, but the music was most excellent and the boys and girls had a splendid time. The proprietors, Messrs. Roundy & Birt, expect to enlarge the pavilion, so as to accommodate the crowd that will be at the May Day festivities next Wednesday evening.

Wednesday morning last, about 3 o'clock, M. Ezekiel, while enroute to Phenix, attempted to cross the river at Gray's Crossing, but not being acquainted with the ford took a wrong direction and soon found himself in a precarious situation. The wagon drifted to a shallow place in the river where he succeeded in cutting the animals loose in time to save their lives. Mr. E. camped in the wagon the remainder of the night; in the morning he was rescued by Messrs. Goldman and Goldberg. The wagon is still in the river.

Since the construction of the Magnolia saloon entirely of wood, our citizens seeing its many advantages over adobe are considering the advisable of using lumber entirely. The advertisement of Messrs. Clark & Adams, proprietors of a new saw mill south of Prescott, will be found in this issue. We are acquainted with these young men and any of our people having business with them will receive fair and honest dealing; years ago they came to this country without money or friends, now they are in the front ranks of the business men of the territory. Mr. Clark is Territorial Auditor.

At John Mullen's, Lower Verde, settlement, on Sunday evening the 14th inst., Daniel McCormick was fatally stabbed by Edward Kennedy alias Kurum. The murder was a cold blooded one and grew out of a boyish altercation, McCormick having a mutal friend to stay for supper, to which Kennedy, who was cook for the party, objected. The difficulty had been amicably settled, the parties shaking hands, and McCormick was assisting Kennedy in preparing supper, when the latter suddenly buried a butcher knife to the hilt in his body. Kennedy is a fugitive. McCormick died on Thursday, the 18th instant.

C. H. Weber, while the new deal lasts, will fill the position of Superintendent of the Tiptop Mining company. Phenix was full of departing superintendents during the past week, thrown out of employment by the change, on their way to San Francisco. Mr. Goshwiler left by way of Florence; J. Finley by Wickenburg; C. E. Hoffman, who cit the previous week went via Maricopa Wells, and Mr. Gillett, the last one, left the country by the Mohave route. Our wish is that they may all return to Arizona in the near future interested in other mines, that they will develop with as much energy and enterprise as they did the Tiptop.
