PROSPECTUS
OF THE HORNET.

"THOUGH—AND WE THINK."

THE undersigned proposes publishing a weekly journal under the above title, commencing the first number on the 11th day of July, and continuing it until the November election. Prompted by no other motives than the welfare and prosperity of our beloved State, we enter the field with buoyant spirits, and shall use all honorable means to rescue her once fair name from the iron grasp of Repudiation. A well conducted Press, being the great lever by which public opinion may be directed to the right path of moral justice and good faith, it behooves the friends of this righteous cause, to come boldly to the rescue, and give that assistance which will be calculated to crown the enterprise with brilliant success.

Perhaps no one period has existed since the formation of our Government, fraught with so many dangerous, ill-devised and revolutionary measures, and calling louder for the aid and assistance of the true sons of liberty,—Was such a monster as REPUDIATION ever heard of, until it was promulgated in this State by a faction of political aspirants, who styled themselves "democrats" for the purpose of deluding the honest of that party, and leading them to the polls to ensure the success of their unholy cause.

Shall the foul stain of dishonor still blacken our flag of State—or shall we, like true patriots, rush to the threshold, wipe out the stain, and tear it aloft in glorious triumph from the ranks of our enemies. We are fighting in a good cause, and let us, like the revolutionary patriots, invoke the blessings of a divine Providence in our behalf.

In the language of some distinguished and able writer, "the patriot may wonder at, and lament the ruin and misrule now being performed under the influence of the unmeaning, ever-varying and lawless thing called anti-bond democracy, as it now rolls in majestic billows, wherever its cry of exclusive devotion to the rights of man—to the inviolate preservation of Constitutions—as well as the honor of States, can gain it a reception. As understood and practiced by the ruling party in Mississippi, what is called democracy, signifies, one day, to charter and build up banks, the next day, to borrow from them the largest possible amount, and the next day to refuse payment, depreciate the paper, and to abuse and repudiate the institutions, in every possible way, with a loud cry for a gold and silver currency."

Such abhorrent and detestable doctrines will meet a fatal doom at the next election, if the true spirit is manifested by the bond-paying party of Mississippi. We appeal to the true Democratic party, who claim to be disciples of Jefferson, and implore them to put their shoulders to the wheel and assist us in pulling the wheels of State out of the mire—and we are assured, from the tone of the Democratic bond-paying meetings which have been held in different parts of the State, that our exhortations are not made in vain.

Aside from the bond-question, our sheet will contain Foreign, Political, Miscellaneous, Poetry—Agricultural, N. Orleans Prices Current, Legislative Proceedings of the Extra Session, with all other news of import.

In order to put this publication within the reach of every body, we propose to furnish it to subscribers until the November election, at the reduced price of ONE DOLLAR, in advance. All who are in favor of the paper, and wish it success, will please act as our agents and procure subscribers. A little activity on the part of our friends, would do great good towards us in a pecuniary point of view, and would more fully enable us to print a spirited sheet. We expect this much from them, and have no doubt but that our anticipations will be fully realized.

☞ We have the promise of contributions from several of our worthy co-laborers in the cause, and in fact would be pleased to receive communications from all sources, and upon any subject that would be of interest to our readers.

☞ We would respectfully request the citizens of Carrollton to take each a Prospectus, and make an effort to increase our list.

DR. HULL'S
Fever and Ague Pills,

A certain and speedy cure for Fever and Ague.

THE extensive prevalence in this country of that troublesome disease FEVER AND AGUE, or INTERMITTENT FEVER, and the vast amount of suffering and distress which it has occasioned, has naturally led to the adoption of many compounds and mixtures for its mitigation and relief. Among these some few have been found temporarily beneficial in particular cases while the great majority are not only utterly useless, but absolutely deleterious—in many instances operating as a mulct to the disease intended to be cured. In other cases the deleterious nature of the ingredients used in these empyrical compounds, has been found extensively prejudicial to the constitution, not unfrequently resulting in other affections of a highly dangerous character.

It must be evident to all persons of reflection, that FEVER AND AGUE, to be treated successfully, must be approached scientifically, and with a full knowledge of the peculiar character of the disease, and particularly of the leading causes of its appearance. Though differing materially in many of its features from other fevers, INTERMITTENT FEVER, OR FEVER AND AGUE, is almost always accompanied by a deranged and sometimes an irritable condition of the digestive apparatus. This condition is indicated by a quick pulse, thirst, pain in the head and loins, and other evidences of fever.—To afford the desired relief by the adoption of a medicine calculated to operate upon the digestive organs, remove the afflicting disease, and correct and improve the tone of the stomach, the most earnest attention has recently been directed by several medical gentlemen of extensive experience, and the result of the investigation is the adoption of the preparation here recommended as HULL'S PILLS, which having been prepared with the sole reference to this particular disease, and with strict regard to medical science, is admirably adapted to restore the deranged organs of the system to a healthful state, and of course to remove, simultaneously, both the disease and its causes.

In renewing the healthy action of the digestive organs, the effect of this medicine is to operate in a highly beneficial manner upon diseases originating in similar causes with Fever and Ague. Among these may be classed, Bowel Complaint, Dysentery, Heart-burn, Flatulency of the bowels, Want of Appetite, Night-Sweats, Water-Brash, and that most obstinate complaint, DYSPEPSIA; the extensive prevalence of which, in this country, has become a matter of serious alarm. For all these diseases, these Pills is an excellent remedy. Each box contains 20 doses. Price, only One Dollar.

For sale by C. & G. STANCILL.

Carrollton, March 21, 1843. 3–6m.

DR. SPENCER'S VEGETABLE ANTI AND ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS

THE universal estimation in which these Pills are held, is satisfactorily demonstrated by the increasing demand for them in every section of the Union, and by the testimony of those who have resorted to their remarkable efficacy which is now offered. It is not less from a decided conviction that they are the means of restoring health, than from the estimate good among the afflicted, that the proprietor of these pre-eminently successful Pills is desirous of keeping them constantly before the eye. The sale of every additional box is a guarantee that some persons will be relieved from a greater or less degree of suffering, and restored to health. For in no case of sickness can they be taken in vain. The proprietor has never known or been informed of any in which they have failed to do good. In obstinate cases of chronic disease, such as dyspepsia, torpid liver, rheumatism, scrofula and billious headache, costiveness, piles, debility, scorbutic swellings and eruptions, and all other chronic affections of the stomach and bowels, they effect cures with a permanency which few persons would believe, but to which thousands have been happy experience. In colds and coughs, when neglected, superinduce the most fatal diseases of the lungs, and indeed the viscera in general, they are invaluable, if taken but for three or four days. Taken at night, they so promote the perspiration, and so relieve the system of all obstructions, as to produce a cheerful sense of convalescence in the morning, though the usual symptoms of a cold should strongly return during the day; the repetition of a pill or two at the next hour of bed-time will invariably effect permanent relief, without a cold. Their effect upon fevers of a more acute kind is not less sure and speedy if taken in a considerable quantity; and persons retiring to bed with inflammatory symptoms of the most acute kind will awake with the gratifying consciousness that the fierce enemy has been overthrown, and easily be subdued. In the same way, rheumatic complaints, though long established, and constitutional debilitations, however critical, will yield—the former to small and the latter to large doses of the Pills; and so also hysterical affections, hypochondriacal restlessness, and very many other results of the Neurotical class of diseases, yield to the efficacy of these Pills. Price, twenty-five cents per box, with full directions. For sale by C. & G. STANCILL.

HULL'S WORM LOZENGES,

PROVED in more than 1,500 cases to be infallibly only certain Worm-destroying Medicines in use, are the greatest discovery ever made for destroying the various kinds of worms, that so frequently and distressingly annoy both children and adults. Many diseases arise from worms, and occasion much intense suffering and even death, without their being suspected: grown persons are very often afflicted with them and are doctored for various complaints, without any benefit; when one dose of these Lozenges would speedily cure them. They are an infallible remedy, and so pleasant to the taste that children will take them as readily as common peppermint Lozenges.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.—Pain in the joints and limbs, offensive breath, picking at the nose, grinding of the teeth during sleep, and at times a flush about the lips with flushed cheeks; bleeding at the nose, a gnawing sensation at the stomach, flushes of heat over the surface of the body, slight chills or shiverings, headache, drowsiness, vertigo, dizziness, disturbed dreams, sudden starting in sleep with fright and screaming; with a troublesome cough, feverishness; thirst, plaid hue, fits, bad taste in the mouth, difficult breathing, pain in the stomach or bowels, fatigue, nausea, squeamishness, voracious appetite, leanness, bloated stomach or limbs, griping pains in various parts of the body, a sense of something creeping in the throat, itching of the anus towards night, a frequent desire to pass something from the bowels and sometimes discharges of slime and mucus.

Read the following Letters:

New-York, September 13, 1841.

DEAR DOCTOR:—According to your request, I have used your Lozenges in several cases of worms and found them uniformly successful. We have no difficulty in getting children to take them, as they are perfectly pleasant. We shall use them in our practice whenever occasion offers, believing them to be the best vermifuge medicine in use. We have used your Cough Lozenges very extensively, and find them fully to answer the purpose you recommend them for. We are yours, respectfully,

ZACHARIAH B. LANE, M. D.
W. E. PLEASANT, M. D.
GREEN H. BARRY, M. D.

Dr. Smith knew a child that was cured of fits by these Lozenges, after three years suffering, and that nothing else would give her the least relief. He has used them in his practice for the last two years in several hundred cases, and always with success. A boy on Board of one of the New Orleans Packets was cured of fits by only one dose of them.

Mr. Fulsom, of Spring street, cured three of his children of worms by only one box.

Captain Griffin, cured his child 8 years old, by three doses: she had been given up by the physicians as incurable, and was fast wasting away, being reduced to a skeleton. The doctors could not tell what ailed the child, and the father in reading the symptoms of worms, thought probably they might be the cause of all the difficulty, and consequently applied to Dr. Hull, who gave her a box of his Worm Lozenges; after the first dose the child ran to her father, frightened at the large quantity of worms that came from her. She is now as well and hearty as any child, and no doubt has been saved from an early grave by only three doses of these Lozenges.

Mr. W. Hopewell, East Broadway, gave them to his child and they brought away worms by hundreds.

Parents should always keep those Lozenges in the house, for they are the best medicine that can be administered to children afflicted with worms. Children will take them as readily as most delicious candy. Price, twenty-five cents a box, with full directions. For sale by C. & G. STANCILL.
