Valuable Property,
FOR SALE.

AGREEABLE to an order of the Court of Probate of Jefferson County, I shall proceed to sell to the highest bidder, at my Plantation, near Union Town, on Tuesday the 12th day of January next,

the following valuable property of my ward, FRANKLIN MONTGOMERY, (a minor.) son of the late Jefferson Montgomery, dec'd., of Jefferson County,—to wit:

19 NEGROES,
428 ACRES OF LAND,
Seven or Eight
HEAD OF HORSES,

25 or 30 head of Cattle,
Seven pair of Oxen,
YOKES & CHAINS,
Eight or Nine Hundred Bushels of Corn,
One Ox Waggon, One do. Cart,
A variety of Farming Utensils and several articles of Household Furniture.

This property will be sold on the following credits,—say for the land, 1, 2, 3 and 4 years; and all the personal property on 1, 2 and 3 years, in equal instalments. This Tract of Land is within 14 miles of Rodney, and 8 miles of Payne's landing on the Mississippi, adjoining lands of Capt. Bullin, Daniel Huey, and others. This is perhaps not inferior to any estate of the same magnitude in the State. All the negroes, except three, are young and very likely; the most of them having been raised in the State, comprising about 14 working hands. Every acre of the land is of the most fertile quality: about 100 acres cleared, and in 1st 2d and 3d years cultivation—the balance principally covered with cain and valuable Oak, Walnut, and Poplar Timber.

Notes with approved security, and a deed of Trust on the Land, will be required, to secure the payment. A credit of twelve months will be given on all sums under $500.

CINCINNATI SPECTATOR,
AND FAMILY NEWS-SHEET.

On the second day of January, 1836, the undersigned will issue, if he reads aright the wants and feelings of this community, the first regular number of a Weekly Journal with the above title. The SPECTATOR AND FAMILY NEWS-SHEET will comprehend, in its general plan, all local and distant matters of interest to the family circle:

1. Copious extracts from New Works in the various departments of Literature and Science.—These will be made by the editor of the SPECTATOR, directly from the works themselves. There are many distant and interior towns and villages, where a new book seldom shows its face; and in these it is hoped that the SPECTATOR will have a respectable number of intelligent readers, of eager and inquiring minds. By pursuing the proposed plan, the Editor will be enabled to gratify the curiosity of his distant friends, and to keep them informed of the progress of literature, science, and the arts—of the general state of the politics of Europe and America—and the advancement of the principles of civil and religious liberty. This feature will, it is believed, distinguish the SPECTATOR from every other weekly periodical in the Union, with one or two exceptions; and to insulated individuals, and families who are not in the habit of procuring and reading the current issues of the press, it will constitute a department of much interest.

2. Poetry, Tales, Sketches, and Essays.—The Editor, being on terms of Correspondence with many of the ablest and most eminent writers throughout the western country, will have it in his power to render this department of his paper very acceptable to the Lovers of a wholesome and original Literature.

3. Critical Notices and Reviews of New Works—There is, in this land, a spirit of friendship [illegible] together with a loose and stereotyped [illegible] tion and a lack of in[illegible] animadversions, which [illegible] rous and healthy state [illegible] Believing with the s[illegible] spare the rod is to spoil the child, and it shall be the aim of the editor of the SPECTATOR, as it will be his duty, to start out and persevere in a course materially different from that which is now so generally pursued. He will not forget, that tree flourishes, and bears better fruit, for being properly scored—nor that even the lion occasionally slumbers, and arouses only with an energetic application of the lash. On the other hand, it need hardly be said, in this community, that he will not be slow to acknowledge merit, come it from what quarter it may.

4. Brief but careful Abstracts of the proceedings of Congress and of State Legislature.—The editor expects to complete arrangements which he has now under way, for publishing in the FAMILY NEWS-SHEET, a regular series of Letters from Washington City and Columbus, during the sessions of the above-named bodies.

5. A copious summary of News.—Foreign and Domestic.

Our community has good Political and Commercial papers, in abundance. It has also a Monthly Magazine, good in its way and a Weekly Literary paper of great popularity and extensive circulation. But it has not a periodical of the character of the one which the undersigned proposes to publish.—A husband and a father, and not inexperienced in the avocation, he has confidence in his ability to prepare an agreeable, wholesome, and entertaining companion for the Family Fire-side.

☞Letters from a distance—post-paid—will receive proper attention.

WILLIAM D. GALLAGHER.

FOURTH YEAR OF WALDIE'S LIBRARY
BOOKS BY MAIL.
PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW VOLUMES FOR 1836.

THREE YEARS have now elapsed since the proprietor of Waldie's Select Circulating Library laid before the public his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the facility of rapid transportation by mail. The most ample success has attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading community, it is believed, have been wholesome.

The fourth year will commence on the first Tuesday of January, 1836, at which period it will be necessary to determine the additional amount of copies to be printed, subscriptions being taken only from January of each year. The entire success of the Library is the best guarantee that can be given of its continuance. It was the first to supply books by mail at a mere per centage of their former cost; it has outlived more than thirty puerile attempts at imitation; and has now an extensive list of patrons who are of the most solid and valuable class of citizens in every part of the Union, as well as in foreign countries.

The object of Walde's Library, its use and purpose, is enjoyment liberal and intellectual. To all who love a mental banquet, without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication furnishes a most valuable desideratum, suplying polite literature of a character to enlarge and improve the mind. The time and attention of the editor, himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procurement of works of an elevated standard of intellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most scrupulous, and become a rallying point for all its members promoting social bells letters reading and conversation. The variety thus collected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches, Tales, and Select History, personal memoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure, &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty London duodecimo volumes is thus annually furnished in weekly numbers at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole range of popular literature, and the work has now become so universally diffused in every part of the Union as to form a considerable portion of the literature, of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for those who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted disseminates books to all parts of the country in from five to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in this way will supply good reading for a whole circle or family; for a cent and a half a day, postage included, a duodecimo book is sent every week, making in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia. One volume of the Library, containing from fifteen to twenty entire works. can be bound, at an expense little exceeding that of binding either separately. and constitutes a concentrated collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must always be worth the price that has been paid for it. The most ample testimony has been spontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with minds unoccupied, or thrown into unprofitable and uncongenial society. This immense supply of periodical reading has thus been welcomed every where as a means of improvement, and a substitute for the small talk or idle listlessness so apt to employ a large portion of the time of the many.

Waldie's Library is published every Tuesday, accompanied by a cover of four quarto pages, entitled, The Journal of Belles Letters, containing reveiws of new books, literary intelligence of all kinds tales lists of new books, &c. thus combining the advantages of the Library, and the amusement of a magazine and newspaper; the whole for $5 00 per annum, or clubs of five individuals obtain five copies for $20 00, a reduction which pays the postage. Payment always in advance.

WALDIE'S PORT FOLIO AND COMPANION TO THE LIBRARY.

This periodical contains half as much matter as the Library, at half its price; or both are furnished to clubs of five for $6 00. Its contents consist of a reprint of the best matter from the London Magazines and Reviews, more especially Chamber's Edinburgh Journal. Its object is popular instruction and amusement, combined in such a manner as to enlist the feeling of every member of the social circle. It enjoys an extensive circulation: price to single subscribers not taking the Library, $2 50, postage paid.

* * A very limited number of complete sets of Library and Port Folio, at the original subscription price, may be had for a short period. The Library has been published three years and the Port Folio one; an individual may now form a club by himself, and by paying for the past three years and the volumes for 1836 of the Library, and the Port Folio for 1835 and 1836, the whole can be had for $20 00. For this amount of matter may be pocured which public approbation has stamped as truly valuable and unique of its kinds. The privilege must, however, be of brief continuance.

Address post paid,

ADAM WALDIE.
Seventh, two doors south of Chesnut street, Phil'a

The Museum of Foreign Literature and Science, price $6 00 per annum, the Library and Port Folio, will be all supplied for $12 00. OCTOBER 1835.

☞Editors who exchange with Waldie's Library will confer a favour by inserting the above prospectus in their several papers occasionally, till the first of February, 1836, and the exchange will be continued.

LAST NOTICE.

ALL persons owing the late firm of MONTGOMERY & ROSS, are informed that any accounts and notes not settled before the last return day of the ensuing Court will be put in suit without delay.
