The morn [illegible];
And dusky hours to me have come;
Life's landscape now looks drear and dumb,
And quenched, and ceased the hum,
With which my way was rife.

I now look backward on the path
Whereon I've walked 'mid wrong and wrath;
I look, and see how much it hath
Of bitterness to tell,
But life's hard lesson must be learned,
By goading care to wisdom earned;
Then upward let the eye be turned,
And all earth's scenes are well.

Onr'ol the years, the swift, still years;
And as they pass, how feeling scars!
How drieth up the fount of tears!
Emotion's fires grow dim;
This pulse of life not long can last,
And as the years go hurrying past,
The blooms of life are earthward cast,
And withered hearts and limb.

The years, the years sublimely roll,
Unfurling, like a lettered scroll!
Look on, and garner in thy soul
The treasures of their love.
It is God's writing there we see;
Read with deep intensity!
Truth shall with thy spirit be
When years shall roll no more.

LECTURE OF DR. J. BECKENRIDE ON POPERY;

This distinguished gentleman, at the request of a number of most influential citizens, delivered a lecture on Popery in the Christian Church, on Wednesday last. The high reputation of the speaker, the deep interest of his subject and the excitement of the public mind of the American question, which necessarily involves that of Popery, drew together one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city. The field over which the lecturer was compelled to sweep, in order to touch all the salient points of his subject, is very comprehensive and of course he could not elaborate many of the positions that he assumed as fully as desired, but met all the objections commonly urged against those who aiding the great revolution now going on. He demonstrated the fact that the existing excitement in the country was the result of a natural anxiety upon the part of the American people to preserve their Saxon Protestant civilization.

The people had found many of their political leaders to be false and corrupt, and had revolted They had been bought and sold by the two great parties of the country and had witnessed the "unweavering of the golden arras" of the Union by their intrigue, their treachery and their strife, and had knit themselves together to preserve that Union and their Protestant republican institutions. The people were not particularly agonized about religion, and their instincts told them that Protestantism was a friend of American institutions; and that the Roman Catholic Church was yet an enemy of freedom, as it had been in past ages. The politicians of the country were not to stand up in opposition to this voluntary uprising of the native Profest American people for the axe of the executioner certainly awaits them.

The lecturer stated that he believed that our country would have been plunged in civil war but for the opportune springing up of the American party and that the inevitable tendency of the slavery agitation could not have been arrested by any other power in the country. The new party would subvert the power of the demagogue, and annihilate those allowed themselves to calculate the value of the Union. He stated that those who deemed the new party the offspring of sudden excitement were mistaken that it had been coming on for year, and in the nature of things it must inevitably have occurred.

The Roman Catholic element in our civilization was at war with the Protestant element and though there might be peace so long as the Catholic element saw insignificant, yet that there would be strife when it grew strong enough to threaten the other. The lecturer proved that this was the case at present and that the struggle now going on in this country is merely the repetition of the old contest of the Catholic Church with the Protestant or Schismatic branch, and that the only difference is the name under which the adversaries fight. Albigenses fought the Pope, the American people contended against the Priests: but the conflict is the same. The issue is the same, and the parties are the same.

The Romish Church has declared the Protestants of the earth to be heretics, and after starting wrong could not correct her error because she was infallible, and therefore the conflict would be eternal, and in any country where these antagonisms clashed, that one or the other would be compelled to succumb. The historic review of the Roman Catholic Church and its conflicts, displayed the most profound research and intense study, and we hope that we will again have the pleasure of hearing Dr. B. upon the same subject. It is one that cannot be disposed of in single lectures and the only complaint that we have yet heard against the Doctors effort on Wednesday night, was that he stopped speaking much too soon.

☞ A lawyer, after sawing with a very dull saw, exclaimed:—"Of all the saws that I ever saw, I never saw a saw saw as that saw saws."

Sharp.—"I say, my son, where does the right hand road go?" "I don't know, sir; it hain't went nowhar since I lived here."

TALLAPOOSA, CO., ALA., Jan 2, 1852

Dear Sir—I send you this to certify to you that your Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsparilla has performed one of the most wonderful cures on me that has ever effected on man.

I have been afflicted for forty years with eruptions on my legs and feet; in 1848 they got so bad that I was to go on crutches and in 1849 I had one leg amputated over the knee. In about nine months after my other leg broke out in large eating and running sores from my head to my foot and discharged a great deal of offensive matter. My groin also broke out in large biles which discharged much offensive matter, and at the same time my left hand broke out in large running sores nearly to my elbow.

The misery that I suffered for the last two years I cannot describe to. I was in such agony, that I never rested day or night.

In October last my son brought me one of your bottle wrappers; I read it and found record of some wonderful cures performed by your "Extract of Yellow dock and Sarsparilla" I sent and got two bottles of it and commenced taking it. In two weeks to my great astonishment my sores all became easy and I could sleep all night a thing I had not done for two years. When I had taken six bottles my sores were nearly all healed My eight bottles of your "Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsparilla" and I now consider myself well.

I entreat all of the afflicted to try this medicine, for I believe it will cure any disease in the world. Lay aside all prejudice and just try it, and proclaim its great worth to suffering mankind and entreat them to take it for it will cure them.

My case is well known in a large portion of South Carolina, Alabama and if any should doubt the above cure, I invite them to call on me and I will show them the scars; I can be found in Tallapoosa county Ala., one mile from Stoe's Ferry.

RENAJAH HUGHES.

The Yellow Dock and Sarsparilla is peculiarly adapted for females of delicate health resulting from irregularity of menstrual discharges, and other diseases peculiar to their sex. The proprietor has in possession a great number of certificates of cure performed of the above description We assure the afflicted that a bottle or two of Dr. Guysoots Extract of Yellow dock and Sarsparilla will at once regulate those difficulties and renew the natural energies.

It requires no confinement no change of diet. In offering this preparation to the human family Drs Leroy and Peltier fearlessly hazard the assertion that it is not only not surpassed but unequalled either for its curative properties or for mildness safety and certainty in the operation by any other preparation compounded for similar purposes now before the public.

This mixture is a combination of approved medicines mingling the excellent qualities of each into one sanative whole so as to produce the most efficient compound which has never yet been known to fail. It is impossible to produce certificates of the power of a medicine of this peculiar nature or otherwise a host of facts might be advanced to show the broad and deep foundation upon which the character of this mixture rests for support. Long standing cases gonorrhea, gleet strictures affections of the kidneys &c, have yielded to the command of this amiable and instances of gleet of the most inveterate description have fled before its best astonishing sanative influence.
