Notice is hereby given that if the Tax Interest and Penalty, charged on said List, be not paid into the County Treasury and the Treasurer's Receipt produced therefor before the time specified in this Notice for the sale of said Lands and Lots, then and in that case such lot or parcel of land, so as aforesaid delinquent and forfeited, on which the tax interest and penalty may remain unpaid, will on the 2nd Monday of December next (being the 12th day of said month) be exposed for sale at the Court House, in said county, to satisfy the tax interest and penalties due thereon, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, and to continue from day to day (Sundays excepted) until each tract or lot contained in said list shall be sold or offered for sale.

Organization of the House.

It seems to be generally conceded that the next House of Representatives will be organized, close as are political parties without much difficulty or delay. The Administration is so badly off for money that it cannot afford to procrastinate a contest for the Speakership. A Deficiency bill and the relief of the Post office Department, are measures of such pressing urgency to keep the wheels moving, that the Administration will be quite as anxious as the Opposition to proceed to business.

The Hon. John Sherman, and Hon. Thomas Corwin, of Ohio are spoken of for Speaker. Mr. Sherman will probably be the Republican candidate, and it is said will receive a portion, at least, of the votes of the Southern Opposition.—Gov. Corwin, it is thought, would get the votes of the Southern Opposition members very generally. Mr. Boocock, of Va., will probably be the Democratic nominee for Speaker, Messrs. Barksdale, Phelps, and Pryor are also named in connection with the candidate for Speaker.

For clerk of the House, Mr. Clephane of Washington City, is favorably named as the Republican candidate. He has rendered very efficient service to the Republican cause as the working member of the Republican National Committee in the District of Columbia. Col. Forney is also mentioned as a candidate for the Clerkship. Mr. Hoffman, an ex-member of Congress from Maryland, who voted for the expulsion of Brooks, will be presented it is said, as a Southern Opposition Candidate for Clerk.

Get Ready for the "Census Man."

Next year will occur the great decennial census of the United States, made by the general government. Persons will be appointed for every locality in the States and Territories to gather statistics of the inhabitants, and all the agricultural productions, manufactures, &c.—Every cultivator will be asked for a concise and accurate statement of land occupied by him, the number of acres and the amount of each crop raised by him during the year ending June, &c.

Those who were called upon in 1850 will doubtless remember the difficulty experienced in making up an accurate report of the various crops. As these reports will be called for in June, it will be necessary to give in the crops gathered this year, and the suggestion that we now make, is, that cultivators write down, while fresh in mind, the number of acres under cultivation, including the wheat etc., already gathered. The number of each kind the present year, and the gross amount will be required. The milk products also, and the amount of pork, beef, &c., will also be asked for.

"The Wicked flee, when no Man Pursueth."

The great commonwealth of Virginia, "the mother of Presidents," is thrown into a state of awful trepidation again, all about a vague rumor that an attempt was about to be made to liberate Old Brown. Some negroes doubtless, not satisfied with the "patriarchal institution" of Slavery, have been applying the incendiary torch to barns, stacks, &c., in the vicinity of Charleston, which has scared the "chivalry" almost out of their wits. They imagine that a band of those terrible Abolitionists are upon them and they fairly shiver with fear. The militia have been called out and Gov. Wise was telegraphed to for troops, so great was the panic.—Old Brown has given all Virginia the ague. The poor, rickety, God-forsaken, slave-cursed, old concern has got the delirium tremens and is about to fall to pieces of her own accord. She is in a fearful state of agitation. She has got Old Brown and, like the man with the elephant, she don't know what to do with him. She is begging piteously for somebody to help her let him go. What a blissful state of society they must have in Virginia, founded upon that "peculiar institution," which democrats eulogize so much and which they are trying to extend over all the territories.

Beauties of Slavery.

The counsel for the Commonwealth, in the trial of old John Brown, at Charlestown, Virginia, opposed a very reasonable motion from the opposite side asking a little time, on the ground "that the jurors wanted to go home to their families," and that every female in Virginia "was trembling with anxiety and apprehension." Slavery must be a beautiful institution, when a few fanatics can thus convulse a community with terror. The misery of both whites and blacks in Virginia, just now, from horrible fears of each other, are not conceivable by those unfamiliar with the peculiarities of the peculiar institution.

Doctors Differ!

Senator Wilson, the Republican Senator of Massachusetts, in his speech at Syracuse on the 28th ult., said—"The Harper's Ferry outbreak was the consequence of the teachings of Republicanism."—Advertiser.

Senator Wilson said no such thing. He is a true Republican and, although unalterably opposed to the extension of Slavery and its domination in the Government, he discountenances as wrong any forcible interference with it in the states, where it exists by law.

Not Good in Figures.

Our very correct neighbor of the Advertiser says that the state of New York one year ago, gave 70,000 Republican majority. If our neighbor would take the trouble to ascertain the "facts," he would find that he is slightly in error. It was in 1856 that New York gave some 70,000 plurality for Fremont.

LETTER FROM IOWA.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov., 16 '59.

MR. EDITOR:—Thinking that your readers would be glad to hear how crops and things in general are in Iowa, I drop you a few lines. Times are getting pretty good and a brisk time is expected here this winter. The corn crop is very large yielding in most cases 80 bushels to the acre. Wheat is about an average crop, say about 20 bushels per acre. The oats crop was exceedingly large yielding in a great many instances 60 bushels per acre. Grain is cheap, but there is a steady home consumption for corn and oats; there are large herds of cattle feeding on the prairies, which consume a great amount of grain. Farmers make their money principally on stock.

In regard to the weather, it has been a beautiful fall—dry and warm. Yesterday was the first cold day, and indeed, it has turned quite cold; the thermometer stands now at 10 degrees below zero.

There are droves of gold-seekers returning and they bring very favorable news. A large emigration is expected in the spring.

Land is gradually rising in value and an active business has been done this fall by way of selling town lots and exchanging property of various kinds. Another good crop will bring the west to its usual place, and buildings of all kinds will be put in erection next summer. The people wear a pleasant countenance, and all look much revived from the great crisis which almost engulphed the entire western country.

I will write you at a future day, about the "Starved Rock" of Illinois; an English park; Locust groves; "Buffalo Rock;" the origin of the Prairies; and many other interesting things. Yours truly

M. H. B.

Our National Trophies.

By favor of the lightning, the American people have been informed that last week the Bishops, in attendance on the Episcopal Convention at Richmond, called on the President at Washington, and that the President exhibited to them a spear taken from Brown's arms for the invasion of Virginia, which District Attorney Ould had brought him from Harpers Ferry.—Doubtless the President drew a deep moral from this terrible weapon, and impressed on the minds of the worthy Bishops the necessity of repressing all agitation except that absolutely necessary to guard and extend the divine institution. The President has certainly founded a museum of implements and relics of war that, if perfected, will vie with those of the Tower of London or the Invalides of Paris. We hope that measures will be taken at once to forward all the most notable of these weapons and curious relics to the White House, then when next the House of Bishops calls on the President he will show them through his national museum in this wise:

"Here, Reverend Gentlemen, you see the two rifles with which Clark and Gardner shot Barber in Kansas. Barber was riding quietly along the road, a capital offense at that time, and was shot in the back. Clark was my Indian Agent, an excellent patriot. It was not certain which killed Barber; but in order to make sure that justice is done, I appointed Gardner Postmaster at Lawrence, and Clark Purser in the navy. That is a copy of his commission, Gentlemen. Carrying out the scripture, you see; those faithful in a few things are appointed over many things."

"That, Gentlemen, is the cannon taken from the Government arsenal at Liberty, Missouri, with which Jones and the Missourians bombarded the town of Lawrence battered down the hotel and several dwellings after they had pillaged everything they could cary off. Here is a copy of Jones' commission as Collector of customs. True patriotism will never die, Gentlemen, while the country rewards her heroes.

"This, Reverend Gentlemen, is the knife with which Murphy scalped Hoppe. Hoppe was a free State man, a very dangerous class, gentlemen; you cannot too much warn your congregations against this agitating element. This is Murphy's appointment as Agent for the Pottawatomie Indians, where he can teach them the civilized mode of scalping. Virtue is sure to be rewarded, gentlemen. Remind your congregations of that.

"Here you see some of the muskets and pistols taken from the United States Arsenal in Missouri, for butchering the Kansas settlers. The Canaanites are to be driven out, Gentlemen. The Scriptures are clear on that head. All means are lawful, even the seizure of United States Arsenals, to put down agitation."

"Here, reverend Bishops, is a precious relic, and a great comfort to a true patriot, especially in view of the recent wicked attempt to disturb the family relation, established by the Patriarchs in the sale of their brother Joseph, by which we have the comforting assurance that the traffic in our blood relations is peculiarly blessed; this is the hatchet with which Gibson killed Frederick Brown, a son of that mighty man of valor, before whom the hearts of the chivalry became as water. With this weapon he was slain unarmed and a prisoner. His wife and one child were spared; an injudicious humanity towards such a race. Many good men strove for the privilege of killing him, but it was given to Gibson to hack him to death with this hatchet, even as "Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the Lord." You see, Gentlemen, how the devout mind is sanctified by the scriptural associations of these national trophies. That lot Gentlemen, will not be complete until we get the rope with which the father of this sinful agitator, who has been in an unreconciled condition since this dispensation on his son, is hung. Then the mind that is properly disciplined will be highly edified by trophies so full of incident and allusion.—Gibson has not gone unrewarded; in a government office he shows to a wicked and perverse generation that republics are not ungrateful.

"I now come gentlemen, to the choicest relic in this collection, and the one best calculated to inspire patriotic and national emotions. Here in this glass case are the pieces of the cane with which a true Southern, ardent as a Southern sun, with invincible courage and pockets full of revolvers, walked up to a sitting Senator who had indulged in the profanity of free speech, smote him to the floor and continued beating him till there is hope that they have silenced his profanity forever. These are the revolvers and bowie knives with which two of the bravest sons of the South guarded the patriotic deed, to prevent interference; and here is an engraving of the monument which the admirers of true heroism in South Carolina are erecting to her most heroic son. Future generations, gentlemen, will judge us by the monuments we build. I will send you copies of this engraving for your Sabbath schools, that the youthful mind may be stimulated by the reward of true virtue."—O. S. Journal.

☞The Southern democratic journals fairly howl at the result of the late elections in New York and New Jersey.

☞Joseph W. Thornton, who shot Joseph Charlton, in the street at St. Louis in June last, was hung on the 11th inst.

☞The Chillicothe Advertiser, and other Democratic papers of the State, favor the nomination of Hon. William Allen, for the Presidency.

☞Lewis S. Young, a clerk in the Land office at Washington City, committed suicide on the 3d inst., by blowing his brains out with a pistol.

☞Senator Seward is now traveling in the Holy Land. It is probable that he will endeavor to be home in time for the meeting of Congress.

"Democracy IS the South"—exclaims the Atlantic, Ga., Intelligencer. That may be so, but how is the South going to elect a Democratic President without the North!

☞Horatio G. Phillips, an early settler of Dayton, and one of its most respected and wealthy citizens, died at his residence in that city on the 10th inst., at an advanced age.

☞Tyler, the Deputy, U. S. Marshal convicted of the murder, in the second degree, of Captain Jones, has been sentenced to six years imprisonment in the Penitentiary.

☞Daniel S. Norton, Esq., one of the most eminent and highly valued citizens of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, died suddenly on the 28th ult., of congestion of the lungs, aged 72 years.

☞Gen. Joe Lane returns to Washington in sorry plight. He feels bad over the Oregon election. He finds his Presidential prospects gloomy enough. Like all great men, Joe will doubtless die without having been President.

☞George T. Curtis, of Boston, has written a reply to Douglas on the Territorial question, under the title, "The Just Supremacy of Congress over the Territories." Mr. Curtis is the author of an elaborate "History of the Federal Constitution," published by the Harpers.

☞A new suspension bridge, just erected across the Scioto at Portsmouth, at an expense of $40,000, fell down last week, killing two men who were on it at the time. The accident was caused by the water undermining one of the abutments from which it was suspended.

☞Judge Wilson, of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, in a late charge to the grand jury, has picked up all the reports of Johnson and Vallandingham, and insinuations of Locofoco editors, to implicate prominent northern Ohio men in the Harper's Ferry tragedy, and even defines it to be treason to hold meetings to denounce acts passed or deeds enacted by administration officers. He equals Jeffreys in despotism.

☞The Tribune's Washington correspondent writes that "there is proof in the hands of the Administration that Gov. Douglas intended taking possession of San Juan the day before Gen. Harney did; in fact, that the proposed and consumated events were only separated by twelve hours. The British Government is now aware of this fact, and hence one reason, among others, for the intended removal of Gov. Douglas. The President, as a matter of courtesy, will, in that event, recall Gen. Harney, but not otherwise, since such an act might be constructed into an abandonment of the American claim to the Island."

Cassius M. Clay made a speech at Covington, on Wednesday evening, in which he denounced slavery with his accustomed force and bitterness, and predicted the triumph of the Republican party. The Cincinnati Gazette says that near the close of his remarks, he was interrupted by some one calling out, "Let him down," "Tar and feather him, &c." The speaker informed those parties, in reply, that he was used to that kind of a thing, and he "would like to see it done."

It was not done.

Harmony of the Organs.

Our cotemporary, the Enquirer, thus compliments its Richmond namesake and fellow-organ of "National Democracy:"

"It may, perhaps, be a question whether Ossawatomie Brown is perfectly sane or not; but it appears to us there can be no doubt as to the lunacy of the person who is daily writing such articles for the Richmond Enquirer. All the lunatics in Bedlam could not indite so much crazy and insane matter as daily appears in that print."—Cin. Gaz.

Massachusetts Election.

The following is the total of the vote polled in Massachusetts, at the late election, for the three candidates for Governor:

Banks, Republican,	58,[illegible]
Butler, Democrat,	35,163
Briggs, Whig and American,	14,309
Banks plurality	23,258
Banks majority	4,423

Of the Senators elect, 34 are Republicans, 4 Democrats and 2 doubtful. Of Representatives, the Republicans have 182, the Democrats 50, and the opposition 4.

The entire Republican State ticket is elected.

Kansas Election.

The Republicans have a majority in both branches of the Legislature, and Parrot's, Republican, majority is upwards of 3,000.

Brownsville Believed.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.

The Arizonia arrived from Brazos with $720,000 in specie.

Brownsville is safe. Capt. Tobin with 80 rangers arrived there on the 13th.—Thirty men from the cutter Dodge, and fifty more from Baton Rouge, left Brazos for Brownsville on the 16th inst., making nearly 300 troops, volunteers now there.

On the arrival of Tobin, Cortinas' chief officer, who had been held as a prisoner, was hung without trial.

An Editor Killed in a Fight.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 18.

An encounter took place to-day between Allen A. Hall, editor of the News, and G. G. Poindexter, editor of the Union and American. Poindexter was shot dead. The quarrel which led to this catastrophe was an editorial.

Useful Lessons.

During the last State canvass in Virginia Mr. Letcher, the democratic candidate for Governor, proclaimed throughout the State on the stump, that Virginia herself should be the judge of the limits of the federal compact, and that while he was Governor no federal soldier should set a hostile foot on Virginia soil, either to compel her to submission to federal jurisdiction or to cross her soil to invade her sister States of the South.

Texas has also taken a leading part in gasconading against the Union, and for a Southern confederacy.

Now the Governor of Virginia rushes to Washington for federal troops to save the State from an invasion of twenty-two men, and her army is powerless to take them.

Texas also is invaded by a gang of Mexican robbers, who have taken possession of a town and held it for some weeks while the State has not made an effort to drive them out, and impotently calls on the federal government that she has continually defied, to save the State from an invasion of three or four hundred Greasers, whose numbers will probably become as rapidly as she sight of federal troops as they did at Harper's Ferry when the Marines arrived.—State Journal.

Arrival of the Overland Mail.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18.

The overland mail of the 28th has arrived. Accounts from Carson Valley have been received. The Walker River mines continue to excite great attention, and a stampede of Californians in that direction has already commenced, which promises to equal that of Frazer River. These mines on the East side of the Sierra Nevada have been discovered, supposed to extend from Honey Lake North, to Walker's River South; distance two hundred miles. The principal discovery yet announced is called Gold Hill a mound sixty feet high, five thousand long, two thousand wide, and twenty miles North of Carson Valley, which is traversed with veins of auriferous quartz, partly decomposed. There has been realized from five hundred to twenty-five hundred dollars per ton. Large quantities of silver ore from Carson Valley continued to arrive at San Francisco, for shipment to Europe.

Emigration in the Spring will probably result in the complete exploration of the whole country East of Sierra Nevada and the discovery of equally rich mines as any in California.

Gov. Weller appointed Judge H. P. Hann, formerly of Kentucky, U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Broderick. The new Senator was to leave for Washington in the steamer of the 5th inst.

Loss by previously reported fire at Carlionville $50,000.

The committee appointed by the recent Pacific R. R. Convention has published a report recommending the immediate organization of a company to construct a road from San Francisco to Stockton, with the view of its ultimate extension to the boundary of the State. Colonel Sanders, Superintendent of the Fort Kearney and Harney Lake Wagon Road Expedition, having completed the work for the season, is about to repair to Washington, having on hand an unexpected balance of seventy-five thousand dollars. His stock purchased in Missouri last spring at $135 per head, had been sold for the benefit of the government at over $200 a head.

Cortinas in Possession of the Rio Grande Country.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.

The Indianola Courier, of the 12th inst says that an express from the sheriff of Nueces county had arrived, reporting that Cortinas, with 1500 men and nine cannon has full possession of the Rio Grande from Brownsville to Roma, and his forces are scouring all the surrounding country. All mail communications west of the Nueces are said to be cut off. Corpus Christi is, however, not threatened.—Capt. Tobin with 100 men from Corpus Christi, has been defeated, and it is feared that his retreat is cut off. The reports are conflicting and probably very much exaggerated. The latest accounts are by New Orleans merchants, who left Brownsville on the 4th inst., when affairs were unchanged. Gen. Twiggs telegraphed the Government yesterday in relation to the matter.

Quiet Reigns at Charlestown.

CHARLESTOWN, VA., Nov. 19.

All now quiet in this town, but the military forces are augmenting. The barns stack yards and implements, amounting in value to several thousand dollars, belonging Messrs. John Burns, Geo. H. Tate, and Mr. Shirley, all of whom were jurors in the recent trials, have been burned.—Hon. Alex. Hunter professes to be convinced that an attempt will be made to rescue the prisoners, and and a letter from Urbana, O., addressed to Brown, written in cypher, which has been deciphered, tells him to keep in good spirits, that his friends are mustering and will drop along one at a time.

From the Gold Regions.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.

The Leavenworth Express from Denver City, with $10,000 in treasure arrived this afternoon. The provisional government has gone into full operation by the organization of both branches of the Legislature. Steele, Governor elect, delivered his message in which he argues the necessity of the present form of government until Congress shall take action in reference to the Territory.

Miners continued to work in several localities; many are preparing winter diggins.

Writ of Error in Brown's Case Refused.

RICHMOND, Nov., 19.

The petition of John Brown for a writ of error to the judgment rendered by the Circuit Court of Jefferson county was presented to the Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday. The Court to-day refused to award a writ of error, being of the opinion that the judgment of the Circuit Court is plainly right. The execution will therefore take place as appointed on the 2d of December, Judges Allen, Daniel, Moncan, Lee, and Robertson on the Bench.

Safety of the Steamer North Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.

Information has been received of the safety of the Steamer North Star. She went ashore on French Keys on the 23d ult., where she remained seven days and then got off without assistance. She proceeded on her way to Aspinwall on the 2d.
