GLORIOUS VICTORY IN MAINE.

Hurrah for the Pine-tree State! On Monday last she held her election for Governor, and the result is a Republican majority of over 23,000. Last year the majority was 11,614, so that she repudiates the greenback party by a majority almost double that of last year. Vermont and Maine, have thus opened the campaign worthy of our cherished principles, and the entire Northern tier of States, with all our once "erring sisters" will "fight it out on that line." Such is the determination of the American people, and SEYMOUR, BLAIR, their bottle-holders, and their entire party may as well commence "packing up their duds," preparatory to their jaunt up Salt River.

Three times three for Maine and Vermont! They have spoken in clear, clarion tones, and have effectually silenced "that rebel yell."

LIQUIDATION OF THE NATIONAL DEBT.

In a speech recently made before the Massachusetts Republican Convention, by Mr. EDWARD ATKINSON, of Boston, he proves conclusively that the actual debt of the nation has been reduced during the past three years about one-fourth. He presents the actual facts in their true light, showing that the actual indebtedness, liquidated and unliquidated, was on August 1, 1865, $3,287,733,329; that it was on June 30, 1868, $2,485,000,000—being an actual reduction of $802,733,329 in the principal of the debt. By the same rapidity of payment we could pay off the entire debt within ten years. The figures are as follows: The total amount of revenue received by the Government for the three years from April 1, 1865, to June 30, 1868, has been $1,540,058,583. Out of this there were paid for back pay of the Army and Navy and war contracts, within fifteen months after the close of the Rebellion, $714,835,851. And there were paid for bounties, pensions, prize money, reimbursing States for war expenditures, claims of loyal men, Freedmen's Bureau, expenses of Reconstruction, and National Cemeteries, $145,912,401. These two sums amount to a total sum to be added to the National Debt, as it stood on the books of the Treasury April 1, 1865, of $920,778,252. The ascertained debt was $2,356,950,077, making the aggregate of $3,287,733,329, as above stated. We have, therefore, actually reduced our debt by $802,733,320.

We can now arrive at the ordinary expenses of the Government, exclusive of war expenditures:

Income 3½ years	$1,540,058,583
War Debt	$802,733,329
War interest paid	438,484,883— 1,241,218,212
Ordinary expenses	$298,840,371

—or a little less than $92,000,000 a year in currency, or $55,000,000 in gold, while the expenses of James Buchanan's last year were $76,841,000 in gold, or about $1,000,000 in gold more than those of the Government during the past three years. Hand these facts and figures to your Democratic brother who thinks the National Debt cannot be paid and must be repudiated.

Earthquake in South America!

82,000 Lives Lost—300,000 Persons Shelterless and Starving—Entire Cities Destroyed—$300,000,000 of Property Ruined—Suffering, Horror, Devastation and Death.

On the 13th of August a terrible earthquake visited the cities along the coast of Peru and Ecuador, whereby thirty-two thousand lives were lost, and property valued at $300,000,000 destroyed. A rumbling sound preceded the earthquake, and the sea was terribly agitated, and flooded the land for a great distance. Arequipa, a city of thirty-five thousand inhabitants, has passed away; scarcely a vestige is left. Only four hundred lives were lost here.

Arica, a town of twenty-five thousand inhabitants, was also destroyed, leaving not a house standing. Five hundred people perished.

A tidal wave, forty feet high, rolled with terrific force on the shore, carrying ships further on land than was ever before known. The United States store ship Fredonia was capsized, and all on board lost. The Fredonia had $1,800,000 worth of naval stores. The vessel was rolled over and smashed to atoms. The United States steamer Wateree was carried a half mile inland and left high and dry. Only one sailor was drowned.

Owing to the great distance she never can get afloat again. The Peruvian corvette America was also carried ashore, and thirty three men drowned from her. The American merchantman Rosa Rivera, the English sloop Chancellor, and the French barque Edwards were also lost.

The towns of Iquique, Moquega, Zoruma, and Pisagua were all utterly destroyed. Over a hundred persons perished at Iquique. The American merchants' losses are heavy, and nearly all of them are totally ruined.

The towns of Igarra, San Pablo, Ahuabgui and Imanteo are in ruins. Where Cutacachi formerly stood is now a lake.

The population of the above-named towns were almost entirely destroyed. Pamelos, Pue lara and Cachiguanio were also destroyed. The dead are so numerous that the surviving inhabitants have been forced to fly from the stench of the putrefying bodies.

A letter from Arica says two other vessels, the brig Chancariccle, and barque Edwards, are also high and dry, the former losing eight men.

The scene beggars description. Railroad rails, cars; machinery, gun carriages, household furniture, barrels, dead animals, and mutilated corpses, are lying about in confusion. The city numbered 70,000 inhabitants, and its multitudes stand hopelessly beggared on the beach. Three hundred lives were lost. A conflagration burned nearly all that was not demolished by the earthquake, and a drunken rabble robbed what remained. Heavy cannon were carried away up the hill from the island battery, and now lay buried in the sand. The above stench is sickening.

At Arequipa the cathquake commenced a few minutes past five in the afternoon, and in five minutes nearly every house was leveled to the ground. The tower of Santa Catilana Church was the only thing left standing, and that will have to be pulled down. Nearly all the inmates of the prisons and hospitals perished in the destruction of these buildings. The shocks continued at intervals, nearly one hundred having occurred in three days. The city is one mass of complete ruin. The river has changed to three colors, showing volcanic eruptions, and Mount Misti was actively throwing out lava, smoke and quantities of mud. The river emits a sulphurous odor, and rocks are constantly falling from the mountain's crater. No one dare go where the city was. The people are living in tents on the banks of the river.

At Pancatripata, hundreds of lives were lost by being crushed to death by falling houses when the quake occurred.

From Guayaquil, under date of August 26, we have brief accounts of the earthquake in Equador. In the City of Guayaquil but little damage was done. The towns of Ibarra, the capital of the Province of Imabura, Sanpabilo, Atimtaqui and Imatio, are in ruins. A lake of water is now occupying the site of the town of Cotacachi. The entire population of these towns and of Otovalo perished, amounting to nearly 20,000 souls.

At Quito the earthquake commenced at 20 minutes of 1 A. M., August 16, and continued, at intervals of a few hours, up to the last date. Eighteen churches, public buildings and private dwellings, are already in ruins, and the people were living in tents in the great square. The towns adjoining Quito, Peruche, Puellaro and Cacidquargo have almost entirely disappeared with their inhabitants. The few left alive being obliged to flee to escape the pestilence arising from the decomposing dead. The towns of Pimocho and and San Antonio have also disappeared.

The number of deaths in the city of Quito is not known, but a large proportion of the wealthy inhabitants had died from pestilence or disaster.

Other accounts state that an American barque laden with a cargo of guano, name unknown, was swallowed up completely in the harbor of Arica and nothing more seen of her. Terror, horror and desolation reign. Where Arica once was, not even a tree remained. The town of Maquerga nine leagues from Arequipa, was destroyed. Tacua, in the same neighborhood, lost sixty houses and one hundred and fifty lives, mostly children who were returning from school. The town of Majia was swept away. Only twenty out of five hundred inhabitants escaping.

The earth has opened in several places on the plains and pampas, and water has appeared; in some places, hot water vomiting from the new chasm. All habitations at Tilo were destroyed, and 20 lives lost. Three vessels with their crews were also lost. All the nitrate works at Iquique were destroyed as well as those in the suburds, entailing great loss.

The port of Los Lomes has been united to the islands, in the Bay of Callao, by the action of the earthquake. Over 300,000 persons are without shelter and bread. Commissions are being formed. The ladies are making clothes, and the Government of Peru is straining its utmost to alleviate distress.

THE RADICAL MILL—A PARODY.

BY CARRETERO.

AIR—"Villikins and his Dinah."

Two jolly old Democrats sat in an inn,
Discussing their politics, brandy and gin;
Says one to the other, "I'll tell you what, Bill,
I've been hearing to-day of the Radical Mill.
Singing, to ral, etc.

"You must know that this comical mill has been built,
By the mountains of treasure and blood that was spilt;
The nation's put in like an Omnibus Bill,
And Treason's ground out, in this Radical Mill.
Singing, to ral, etc.

"There's a wheel in this mill that they call 'Equal Rights,'
Manufactures the law for the blacks and the whites:
Old clothes are made new ones, and, if you've been ill,
You're very soon cured in the Radical Mill."
Singing, to ral, etc.

Bill listened with wonder, at length he cried out,
"Why Tom, it 'tis true what you're telling about,
What feels we are to be here sitting still,
Let's go and look into that Radical Mill."
Singing, to ral, etc.

They gazed with astonishment, there came a man,
From Copperhead venom his visage was wan;
He mounted the steps, went to work with good will,
Ground out his disease, in the Radical Mill.
Singing, to ral, etc.

The next that went in was old Tommy Hall,
With Belmont, Heatts, Francis and all;
But Seymour and Blair very soon got their fill
Of Salt River ale, in this Radical Mill.
Singing, to ral, etc.

The long was made short, and the short was made long,
The poor were made rich, and the weak were made strong,
These miracles astonished both Thomas and Bill,
And they went in for a turn, in the Radical Mill.
Singing, to ral, etc.

A little while after I heard a great shout,
I turned round to see what the noise was about;
The people were waving a flag on the hill,
And shouting, "Hurrah! for the Radical Mill!"
Singing, to ral, etc.

[From our Grand Rapids Correspondent.]

MATTERS AT GRAND RAPIDS.

CASE OF POISONING.

The west end of our village was in quite an excited state on Sunday evening, owing to the poisoning of a little son of WILLIAM ENTYS, aged about three years. He was out with some other little boys, and picked the burrs off some thorn-apple, commonly called "jimson-weed," and ate some of the seeds, and put some seed into a tincup and turned on some water to make tea, and drank of it. It was some time before it was discovered, and then by his staggering. By the prompt use of emetics and afterwards vinegar, his life was saved. It was about sixteen hours before he recovered.

It does not appear to be generally known that this weed is poisonous. It ranks amongst the the most poisonous of the vegetable kingdom, and as it is used a good deal as a domestic remedy, it is a wonder more are not poisoned.

GRAND RAPIDS SCHOOL.

The select school of Rev. Mr. WRIGHT has opened very favorably with a goodly number of good-looking "school marms" and young pedagogues. The primary school opened Monday under the charge of Mr. JAMES KEAN. At the close of the select school, Mr. WRIGHT will take charge of the public school, Senior Department, and the Rapids School will equal any public school in the county. It will be open for scholars residing out of the district at a reasonable charge.

WORK ON THE SIDE-CUT.

The contracts for improving the side-cut canal are getting along very well, and our citizens are now looking with interest to the completion of the work, which it is hoped will be soon.

THE STATE FAIR.

The indications are that the State Fair, which commences in Toledo, on Monday next, will be the most successful of any ever held in Ohio. The preparations are now about complete, and all the railroads centering there will carry passengers at half the usual rates, and articles for exhibition free. Two special trains will be run on the Dayton and Michigan Railroad, in addition to the regular trains, commencing on Tuesday morning. The time table for these trains is as follows:

Sunshine and Shadow in New York. J. R. Bunn & Co., subscription-book publishers, of Hartford, Connecticut, have in press and will shortly issue a volume entitled Sunshine and Shadow in New York, by MATTHEW HALE SMITH. Mr. SMITH has long been a correspondent of the Boston and New York press and has established a nothing of a reputation as a narrator. His opportunities for seeing the metropolis and collecting material for a book of the kind named, have been ample. He has not wasted words, but in a condensed style, and short, spasmodic sentences, has gone at once to the heart of his subjects, and exposed the tricks of gamblers, black-mailers, speculators, etc. The book will be of some service to those who visit the metropolis, and will prove interesting to the general reader. From a list of the contents, and a few specimen pages before us, we are impressed with the idea that the work will prove to be one of great value to every citizen of America, both old and young. The book will contain 700 closely printed octavo pages, beautifully illustrated with full-page engravings, and printed on good paper. It will be sold by subscription only, and agents are wanted in every county and town to canvass for it. For full particulars and terms, address the publishers, J. R. Bunn & Co., 18 Asylum-street, Hartford, Conn.

Thanks.—The Superintendent and members of the Beaver Creek Union Sabbath School would return their thanks to Mrs. DAVID H. BASSETT, of this place, and Miss. EMMA HOWELL, of Bowling Green, for their valuable assistance in the concert given for the benefit of the school, on Wednesday evening, August 26.

The concert gave general satisfaction, and although the price of admission was but ten cents, the receipts were $23, which will be quite an addition to our Library fund.

JOHN MCKEE, Superintendent.

GRAND RAPIDS, OHIO, Sept. 7, 1868.

The Prize Banner.—We want to see every township in this county work earnestly from now until the election to secure the beautiful Prize Banner offered by the Republican Executive Committee. It will be worthy of a big effort. The same banner will continue to be a prize at each succeeding election, and the township securing it will be known as the Banner Township of the county, until some other township is fortunate enough to carry off the Prize. Republicans of Perrysburg Township, go for that Banner!

"The Maumee Valley."—The beautiful schooner, built at this port, and appropriately named The Maumee Valley, was taken to Toledo on Monday afternoon, in tow of the steamer Cora Lock. She attracts the attention and admiration of all who see her. From the Toledo papers we learn that the Inspector recommended her a "Star," a mark of merit that is rare in these days and which speaks well for her builders. She is probably now on her first trip to Buffalo.

Mr. Parton asks: "Will the coming man drink wine?" If he is a good Democrat he will prefer whisky, and take it straight, too.
