MEXICAN ITEMS.

The Federal telegraph office of Mazatlan earned during the two years closing December 1st, the sum of $15,011.86.

The Indian marauder Jo, has offered to surrender to the government, and a few days since with a party of his followers presented himself to the authorities at Casas Grandes, Chihuahua.

A line of stage coaches has been running for a week between the City of Durango and Presidio, a station on the Mexican Central Railroad. The coaches each have nine seats, the trip lasts two days and the price of passage each way is $12.

A policeman in charge of the Mexican Central Railroad station at Villa Lerdo, Durango, was beaten to death a few nights since. He saw some of the river men trying to break into the station and fired at them, wounding one. This enraged the Indians, and they beat him till he died.

General Carlos Fuerte, it is said, will succeed General Bernardo Reyes as the governor of the sixth military zone, which includes the States of San Luis Potosi, Zacatecas and Aguascalientes. General Reyes is the newly appointed Governor ad interim of the State of Nueva Leon.

A paper in Tuxpan, Michoacan, says that the people of that place are greatly excited over a tragic event which occurred there last week. A young man, son of the wealthy farmer Miguel Rubio, had been married nearly a month, and the young couple seemed happy together. On the night in question they retired as usual. Soon several pistol shots were heard in the room, and when the alarmed family broke open the door, the bride appeared bathed in blood. She fell to the floor and died. Her husband was lying on the floor, also dying with a pistol wound in his chest. Both died with the fearful secret untold, and no cause can be assigned for the double tragedy.

From Galveston.

GALVESTON, December 29.—It leaked out to-day that two slick crooks had tried to work one of our leading banks on Saturday. They arrived on Saturday morning from Houston and registered at the Tremont as George L. Sanders and Charles M. Morris, of Cheyenne, Wyoming. About 2 o'clock they leisurely strolled into the First National Bank and presented a draft for $2500 on the Fourth National Bank of New York. The draft purported to have been issued by the Stock Growers' National Bank of Cheyenne. They did not desire all the money, but would be obliged for an advance of $2000 on the draft, the balance to be placed to their credit. They presented letters from Cheyenne, certifying that the draft was regular, etc. The First National Bank is noted in this city for its shrewd officers and careful management. They didn't bite, and the two strangers hostily packed their grip sacks and departed by the 2:30 train. One of the men had an elderly appearance, with gray hair. The other was a young man, with a very knowing countenance. It is since learned that they tried their racket at Houston, and also failed. Detectives are looking for them.

The Jennette-Owens shortfally contest was renewed yesterday in the District Court, having been remanded for a new trial by the Supreme Court. The Galveston public would much rather the Supreme Court had forever settled the matter one way of the other, as everyone, including, it is said, the litigants themselves, is heartily tired of the case. A jury has been secured, and taking of testimony begun. All the old election frauds changed ballots, broken seals and irregular returns will be again exhibited to the patient public's gaze. The case will probably continue for several weeks.

A Great Southern Newspaper.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 29.—To-day the novel spectacle is presented in this city of a gathering of correspondents of the Atlanta Constitution, 300 in number, from all points of the Union, about 100 from Georgia, 50 from North Carolina, 50 from South Carolina, 50 from Alabama, and the remainder from New York, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville. They are here as guests of the Constitution, their expenses for traveling, etc., being furnished by the paper. To-night they were tendered a magnificent banquet at the Kimball House, at which 350 plates were laid. Speeches were made by Hon. E. P. Howell, H. W. Grady and a number of correspondents. During the day the visitors were shown around town in carriages and introduced to the Governor. They also received many attentions from the citizens.

The First Colored Man.

WASHINGTON, December 29.—About a month ago John F. Morton, of Arkansas, was appointed through the Civil Service Commission to a $1,000 position in the Pension Department. Nothing was known of him, however, except that he was a school teacher, and that the result of his examination had been entirely satisfactory, and when this morning a colored man presented himself everybody was surprised. He was the first colored man appointed to a clerkship in that office.

A Call for Bonds.

WASHINGTON, December 29.—The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a call for $10,000,000 2 per cent. bonds, the principal and accrued interest of which will be paid on February 1, 1886; and the interest thereon will cease on that day.

Children Feasted.

The large dining hall of the old Vance Hotel on Houston street, was a scene of gay festivity yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the Christmas entertainment for the Sunday school scholars of the First Presbyterian Church. An elegant feast was spread for the little ones, who did full justice to it, as did also the older heads later on.

The ladies to whose untiring efforts the success of the entertainment is due, were the Mesdames Mitchell, Needham, Weller, Geddes, Thompson, Norton, Alexander, Moffett, Harman and, the Misses Geddes, Barbour, Westcott, Newton, Weir, Gaines and others.

A Small Fire.

GALVESTON, December 27.—About 2:30 this afternoon the residence of Major M. C. McLemore, the lawyer, on the northeast corner of Sixteenth street and Avenue K, was discovered to be on fire, having ignited from a defective flue. The department quickly responded and the fire was extinguished before serious damage was inflicted. The flames had reached the roof. The damage by water is considerable. The family were just seated at dinner when the fire unceremoniously broke up the feast. The fire on Christmas night at the foot of the new wharf proves more serious than at first reported. Some 80 bales of cotton standing on the wharf, consigned to the ship Marco Polo, were burned or badly scorched. Fortunately, the tug steamship Mersey lay alongside the wharf between the burning cotton and the steamship Marco Polo, else the conflagration would have proven serious. The origin of the fire is unknown.
