TWENTY EXCURSIONISTS PERISHED MISERABLY

And Twenty Others Were Injured In a Bar Harbor Ferry Accident.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 7.—By the giving away of a 40x10 foot gang plank yesterday at the Mount Desert ferry slip, over 150 people were precipitated into the icy waters and 20 were killed and 50 injured.

Those who perished are as follows: Mrs. Wm. Murray, Irving Bridges, Albert Colson, Mrs. Alonzo Oakes, J. Murrray, Mrs. Hollis Estey, Clifford Cushman, Miss Lizzie Wood, Miss Louise Bartlett, Miss Grace Sumner, Charles W. Downes, F. A. Sweetzer, Orr M. Langdon, G. R. Bennett and wife, Mrs. A. H. Billings, Mrs. S. C. Stover, Mrs. George Derwent, Mrs. G. R. Bennett, Miss Lewis.

It is believed this morning that all of the bodies have been recovered. Those injured are doing well.

Yesterday the Maine Central railroad arranged for excursions to Bar Harbor, the feature being the warships which were expected to arrive. At the Mount Desert ferry the train is left and the people take a steamer. The first train arrived with eleven car loads. As the excursionists left the cars and struck out for the ferry the weight on the big gang plank was too great and it fell. Three sides of the slip is enclosed by piles. As the people fell the scene was terrible. Men and women grabbed one another. Ropes and other life saving apparatus were thrown and all possible assistance was given the unfortunate. A strong current runs underneath the slip and many were carried out of reach. The work of rescue went quickly on and with the aid of a diver every one was placed in a place of safety and the bodies were recovered.

MOSQUITOS HAVE PICKS AND SHOVELS

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Chicago, and especially the west side, is being visited by a mosquito plague. The dampest, darkest river bottom in the backwoods never sheltered a more vicious specimen than the Chicago mosquito, who, with a tin bill and a kit of tools, goes through the screen door with the alacrity of a burglar.

Citizens in the western and southwestern parts of the city have been holding indignation meetings to devise measures for exterminating the pest. The mosquito this year is bigger and hungrier than he has been for many years, and he is as persistent as a book agent. His gladsome voice is heard on every porch and in every bed chamber in the city. He swoops down at the approach of evening from his lair in the south branch and draws the blood of the aristocrat as well as the laborer.

POISONED BY HIS OWN SISTER

CARMI, Ill., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Ivy A. Crabtree, aged 16, who has confessed to having put poison in the food of her father, stepmother, brother and a neighbor, Berry Carter, resulting in the death of the boy and serious illness of the other three, has been taken to jail. The girl placed arsenic in the cabbage and rough on rats in the coffee served for dinner last Friday and Floyd Warthen, who was only 14, died last night.

Revenge for wrongs supposed to be imaginary was the motive of the young woman in attempting to destroy the lives of her parents.

The Penn forest trout hatchery, near Mauch Chunk, Pa., is said to be the most complete propagation plant of the kind in the world.

HE SECURED HIS MONEY EASILY

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Thos. Maguire, receiver of the wrecked Middlesex County bank at Perth Amboy, N. J., has unearthed some startling evidence in the desk of George M. Valentine, the defaulting cashier in prison now.

There are papers and documents to show that Valentine has, with the knowledge of the bank officers, been using the bank's money in large sums without furnishing tangible security. There are other papers indicating the manner in which much of this money was used.

The contents of the desk are a startling revelation to the business men of Perth Amboy as to the financial methods of the men who held their money. Valentine is in prison but there is serious talk of other criminal prosecutions.

Impossible to Kill Him.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 7.—Louis Liston, of Ironton, O., was run over by a freight train for the third time in his life and escaped uninjured, save for a gash in the back of his head. He and four other Ironton boys tried to catch a freight to get back to their homes. Liston fell under the trucks, was doubled up like a ball and rolled under 15 cars, escaping with slight injuries. The same thing had happened to him twice before.

HEIRESS TO $5,000,000

A Telegraph Operator Becomes Suddenly Rich.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—Miss Adelaide Wright, a pretty girl of 18, who was an operator in the Alton, Ill., office of the Western Union until March 15 of this year, has inherited from her aunt Adelaide Coryelle, of London, England, a fortune estimated at $5,000,000.

Miss Wright went from Alton to Evanston, Chicago, and the story of her good fortune comes from there to her Alton friends.

She says the news came to her on the wire as she worked at her desk, and she rose from her work and walked out of the office almost rich enough to buy out the concern that had employed her and offer the general superintendent a job. The news was a surprise. It was a shock. It made Miss Wright's heart flutter like a frightened bird in bondage and filled her pretty head with a jumble of hopes and fears which never settled until she had the news confirmed and knew beyond all doubting that she was rich as rich could be.

Her aunt, she says, was a maiden lady of great riches. She had castles in Spain, and much of her estate is there. And, like the story of "The Pride of Jennico," she was alone and proud of her lineage, and desired her wealth to remain in the family. She looked over the list of her people and chose the little American telegraph operator as her heir.

FELL OVERBOARD AND DROWNED

A Sunday Carouser Meets Death in the Lake.

An unknown man, said to be a logger, fell from the steamer City of Renton, on Lake Washington, yesterday and was drowned. Capt. E. H. Munsen states that several men who were in an intoxicated condition boarded the steamer on the 5 o'clock trip from the west side. They were told to keep inside the cabin. Just as the steamer rounded Point Yarrow, one of the men leaned over the rail, and, losing his balance, fell overboard. Lines were thrown to him and the steamer brought to a stop. The man disappeared before help could reach him. The body lies in about 100 feet of water.

UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT PLAN

Carried at Kirkland—To be Tried Elsewhere.

Reports of a special election held in the school district of Kirkland and Houghton for the purpose of determining whether it was the wish of the two districts to form a union district, have just reached Supt. Meredith's office. The union district plan carried by a good majority and a high school will now be established.

Prof. Meredith expects to make a trip to Vashon island soon and ascertain if it is possible to form a union district for the establishing of a high school on the north end of the island. The districts so situated that they could advantageously enter upon such a plan are: Nos. 40, 101, 102, and 103.

Prof. Meredith hopes also to establish a high school at Enumclaw by means of the union district act. The following districts could easily consolidate: Nos. 19, 36, 37, 28, 56, 62, 85, 107 and 108.

TO SETTLE CASE OF CAPT. CARTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Attorney General Griggs will return to Washington this week with the paper in the case of Capt. Eberlin Carter, who is recommended for dismissal from the army and imprisonment on a charge of aiding in stealing more than a million dollars worth of government funds. When he reaches his decision he will go to Lake Champlain and lay the matter before President McKinley.

WILL BEAT THE AIR.

Seattle and Tacoma traveling men will meet on the diamond at Y. M. C. A. park, in this city, August 19. The game promises to be equally as interesting as the one between the Seattle and Portland railway passenger agents, played here July 29.

CORN CROP IS SAVED BY RAIN

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7.—Yesterday Nebraska's vast corn crop was on the verge of destruction from heat. Today the crop is practically assured for rain has fallen in great volume all over the state. The downpour has continued since early last night. It is raining tonight in nearly every county in the state. It is conceded that this rain makes the crop certain. There are eight million acres of corn in the state, two million in excess of any previous year, and the lowest estimate under present conditions places the yield at 315,000,000 bushels. The damage by heat has been slight; probably a loss of 5 per cent. can be traced to that source. No hot winds have occurred, but for 15 days no rain has fallen in the state, and the mercury has stood at 103 in the shade most of the time, with very hot nights and no dew.

MINING NEWS.

The Alaskan Commercial company is making some extensive developments on mines near Prince William sound. On the copper property at Landlocked bay a tunnel has been driven 175 feet. Three 8-hour shifts of 10 men each are being employed. The ledge is over 2 feet wide, and is running in 26 per cent. copper.

* * *

At Port Dick, on Prince William sound, 20 men are at work developing a gold, copper and silver mine. The property is on the Sound side of the Kenai peninsula. The ledge is 7 feet wide, and assays $16.50 per ton.

* * *

F. B. Chapman, who has mining properties on Cooks inlet, is in Seattle, and is thinking of taking hydraulic machinery to his mines in the north. "Most of the mines," he says, "are summer diggings. The Polly mine was showing up well when I left."

* * *

Fifty men are at work on new developments at the Golden Tunnel, one of the best King county properties. A new tunnel is being driven, and crosscuts are being made. The ore is improving with the depth of the mine, and the assays are promising.

* * *

A syndicate of English capitalists are said to be negotiating for the purchase of two of the Berners bay quartz mines for a consideration of $2,500,000. E. A. Digby, the expert who has been north inspecting the property, is now at the Hotel Butler with C. J. Alford, a member of the syndicate. Thomas Newell, the head of the company, which owns the mines, is in Alaska, but he expressed himself as feeling assurred the deal would be consummated some time. It is reported that another syndicate is making preparations to develop a large crosscut of low grade ore across the bay from the Nowell property.
