WORLD'S ALLIANCE OF THE PRESBYTERIANS

Begins Its Annual Session Today in the City of Washington.

HISTORY OF THE ORGANIZATION

Also Sketches of the Men Who Are Most Prominent In Conducting the Affairs of This Evangelical Combine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.—About the year 1870 some of the leading Presbyterians of this country and Great Britain conceived the idea that an alliance of the churches of the world holding the Presbyterian system of government would be of great value, giving an opportunity for the holding of interdenominational conferences where methods might be compared and the people of the reformed churches enabled to show to the world an inspiring fellowship and unity of purpose. The Rev. Dr. James McCosh, then principal of Princeton university, and the Rev. Dr. William Garden Blaikie, of the Free Church college, Edinburg, Scotland, were the chief leaders in the movement in their respective countries. In 1873 the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in Ireland, each adopted resolutions appointing committees to correspond with the Presbyterian and Reformed churches throughout the world with a view of bringing about a council of such churches.

The work of these committees resulted in a general council, which was held in London, England, in 1875. At this council representatives of Presbyterian and Reformed churches from the United States, England, Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Germany and Spain were present, and the work of the council included the organization of the "Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the world, holding the Presbyterian system," and the adoption of a constitution. The next meeting of the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance, as the organization is usually called, was held in Edinburgh, Scotland, and at it churches in Asia, Africa and Australia, as well as Europe and America, were represented. Since the Edinburg council the alliance has had five meetings—at Philadelphia, Pa., in 1880; Belfast, Ireland, in 1884; London, England, in 1888; Toronto, Canada, in 1892, and Glasgow, Scotland in 1896.

Delegates have been making their way here, where a conference of the organization is to be held, beginning today. About 80 delegates from British churches are expected and about 200 Americans. Besides these there will be a few from other parts of the world. Among these delegates are some of the principal men in the churches. The president of the alliance is the Rev. Dr. John Marshall Lang. He has been for twenty-six years pastor of the Barony church, Glasgow, and about ten years ago built a new church edifice at a cost of $150,000 to take the place of the old building, which had been erected about the beginning of the present century. Dr. Lang has been active in the educational and philanthropic work in the city of Glasgow, and was also for some time chairman of a commission appointed to inquire into the religious and moral condition of the people of Scotland.

The Rev. Dr. G. D. Matthews is the general secretary of the alliance. He has held pastorates in New York, Quebec and London, but now spends all his time traveling about the world inquiring into the condition of the churches and furthering the work of the alliance. He comes here from Persia, and as soon as the council adjourns, he will start for Paris. One of the delegates is the Rev. Dr. James Stewart, who is moderator of the Free Church of Scotland, and resides in Edinburgh. He is a well known man in the church life of Great Britain, being best known for his wonderful work in Africa, where he was associated in the work with Livingston. Other foreign delegates are the Rev. Dr. John Robson, of Aberdeen, Scotland, moderator of the synod of the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland; the Rev. Dr. William Beatty, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland; the Rev. Dr. A. D. F. Salmond, principal of the Free Church college, Aberdeen, Scotland; the Very Rev. Dr. Alexander Stewart, principal of St. Mary's college, St. Andrew's, Scotland; the Rev. N. B. Ross, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and Mr. Samuel Smith, member of parliament.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

SEATTLE, Wash., Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1899.—United States Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Washington section, for the week ending Monday, Sept. 25, 1899:

There has been no rain during the past 10 or 12 days, and the weather has been warm and fine, the average temperature for the past week being 5 or more degrees above normal. The nights have been cool, and some mornings foggy in the Sound country.

The growing season is practically over. Late vegetables and fruits have still to mature. Favorable weather has enabled farmers to complete harvesting, which had been so much delayed. Threshing is now well along toward completion. Oats are turning out exceedingly well in Skagit county. In the southwest counties they got wet in harvest time and were considerably discolored. Wheat is yielding somewhat better than was expected a month ago, but, as a rule, the yield is not up to average, and is in some cases shrunken, and in others bleached. Early fall sown wheat is now coming up. The weather has been very favorable for fall plowing. It has been ideal for hop-picking, which is progressing satisfactorily, with a prospective yield at least as good as average. With continued favorable weather, picking will be completed by the end of the month. Late potatoes will be a good crop, except for blight in some localities.

Altogether, the crop season of 1899 has been more successful than the very adverse conditions during the winter and spring, and also during August at the height of the harvest season, threatened to make it. There has been one exception; that of fruit, which has been a short crop in all but a few localities. The hay crop was one of the best ever secured in the state, the hop crop a fair average, the oat crop slightly above the average, and the wheat crop somewhat below the average, except that a larger amount of wheat having been sown, the total production may not fall far short of that of preceding good years.

PLANS FOR JEWISH FAIR

The Temple de Hirsch has decided to hold a fair some time in the latter part of November, and appointed the following committee to make the arrangements: Mrs. E. Bories, Mrs. A. Fortlouis, Mrs. S. Aaronson, Mrs. M. Burnstern, Mrs. M. A. Gottstein, Mrs. L. Schoenfeld, Mrs. E. Rosenberg, Miss F. Degginger, Miss Kate Greenbaum, Miss Jennie Rosenthal, Mr. E. Rosenberg, Mrs. E. Morgenstein, Mr. F. Hadra, Mr. S. Leopold, Mr. M. L. Grunbaum, Mr. F. Kohn and Rabbi Theodore F. Joseph, a honorary member. The proposed fair will last three days.

Prices Are Advancing.

The wholesale dealers and manufacturers are advancing prices on Pianos. We have made no raise as yet, and our assortment is complete and choice. Ramaker 1415 Second av.

A Bank Wanted.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Sept. 27.—Hon. J. W. Maxwell, who was last week appointed a national bank examiner on the recommendation of Senator Foster, is closing out his bank here, preparatory to his removal next week. His was the only banking institution in the county, and the opening here for a banker is exceptionally good. A number of persons are figuring on opening a bank, but none of the plans have as yet materialized. What is wanted is a state bank with $15,000 or $25,000 capital.

Claims the Record.

SPOKANE, Sept. 27.—C. C. Holyell claims the amateur bicycle record for one-third of a mile, having covered that distance in 29 2-5 sec. He will bring the claim before the L. A. W.

WENT OVER A CLIFF.

The transport Victoria lost 17 horses at Dutch harbor. A portion of the herd which had been sent ashore to graze stampeded over a cliff. This mishap means a loss of nearly $4,000 to the government. Two of the mules on the Port Albert died at sea during rough weather.

THE HOP CROP IN OREGON

CORVALLIS, Sept. 27.—Hop-picking has ended in this section. A peculiarity of the crop has been the wholesale damage wrought by lice and mold in some yards, and the entire absence of insects or disease in others; the conditions and care in many instances being the same. In the Sol King yard, only about 25 per cent. of the crop was picked. Of the remainder, there is a considerable quantity of good hops, but on account of the presence of bad ones, picking was abandoned, and 3,000 or 4,000 boxes were allowed to go unpicked.

FEAR FOR THE THETIS

Revenue Cutter Grant Arrives From the North.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 27.—The United States revenue cutter Grant is back. She had a rough voyage down, being overtaken by a terrible gale on the day following the earthquake. She was anchored in Dutch harbor, lifeboats were carried away, and the craft dragged anchor. On the 22d she encountered a hurricane, which lasted 48 hours. Oil was used to quiet the waters. Capt. Slamm expresses fears for the safety of the Thetis, which had to weather the storm. He reports a small seal catch this season, and says the voyage in northern waters was eventless. The cutter fleet is on its way Soundward for winter quarters.

WALLA WALLA FAIR OPENS

WALLA WALLA, Sept. 27.—The third annual fruit fair of the Walla Walla valley opened yesterday to a large attendance. Warden Catron, of the state penitentiary, has one of the most interesting booths at the fair, and one can see hemp grown in Walla Walla transformed into jute bags. Special attention has also been given to the ladies' department.

At the opening, Mayor Betz made the address of welcome, and Dr. Y. C. Blalock also spoke. Wagner's First Regiment band of Seattle will furnish the music for the fair.

FOR BETTER IRRIGATION

MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 27.—At the opening of the National Irrigation congress here, 17 states and territories were represented. Practical problems occupied the attention at the morning session, and at the afternoon session resolutions of condolence over the death of National Lecturer Emery, of Kansas, were passed. Many papers were read by delegates to the congress covering nearly every phase of the irrigation problem. The work of the congress will end this afternoon, and the citizens of Missoula will tender the delegates a reception.

DEEDS WERE DEFECTIVE

The government has again refused to accept the conveyance of the North canal right-of-way. Attorney General Griggs thinks a conveyance from the county would not insure the title, in view of the numerous errors in the deed. The United States district attorney is instructed to confer with the county commissioners and have these mistakes rectified. The greatest number of defects has arisen from the mis-spelling of names of defendants in the condemnation proceedings. There are also a number of errors in descriptions, and objections have been raised to the service of papers. The county did not have certificates of title to 40 or 50 pieces of land.

$1,000,000 HOTEL FOR JERSEY CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 27.—It is officially announced today that a syndicate headed by William G. Huey, of Philadelphia, has purchased the property of the Sea View Hotel Company, in Chelsea, used several years by the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad Company as its excursion terminus, for $360,000, and will erect a palatial hotel there, to cost $1,000,000, and have a capacity of at least 500 guests.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO A WAGON

ALBIA, Ia., Sept. 27.—While Jasper Beebe, his son, daughter and two grandchildren were crossing the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad four miles east of Albia today, passenger train No. 3 crashed into their vehicle. The following are dead: Jasper Beebe, Mrs. Effie Johnson and Mr. George Beebe. Gertie Johnson, grandchild, aged two years, is fatally injured and will die.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

Wednesday Morning.—Not as many changes occurred in the fruit and vegetable market as had been expected after the arrival of a California steamer. A great amount of fruit arrived, but the advance demand was sufficient to steady the market.

Green corn has become quite plentiful, and is now selling from $1@1.25.

Lemons are the scarcest fruit on the market, and are now selling at $5.00@5.50.

Tokay grapes have advanced to 65c, and are in good demand at that price.

One schooner arrived this morning with about 20,000 pounds of halibut, keeping the market well supplied, but causing no change in prices.

The poultry and egg markets are quite firm, as are also the meat and grain markets.

The following prices are being offered to the producer by the local dealers for delivery in round lots on the dock or in the car at Seattle:
