BLIND MAN BLACKED THE CRIPPLE'S EYE

TWO UNFORTUNATES FIGHT A HOT ONE-ROUND GO AND THE LOSER APPEALS TO AUTHORITIES

Allan Coleman, a cripple, this morning applied at the prosecuting attorney's office for a warrant for the arrest of Martin Johnson, a blind man, on a charge of assault and battery. Coleman, who has a palsied arm told Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Craven that Johnson attacked him on account of an old grudge and in spite of his handicap of blindness come off winner in a short but highly exciting one round go. As proof Coleman exhibited an eye in mourning.

Johnson is a shoe string peddler and quite old, but has the reputation of being hot headed and prone to fight when angry. The trouble occurred at 512 First avenue south.

Mr. Craven refused to issue a warrant on the ground that Coleman's testimony uncorroborated would not go far in court against a blind man.

Coleman promised, however, to bring other witnesses and if he does so a warrant will be given him.

Song of the Siwash
(By Lou Cohen)

I'd like to find some joyous spot
Where now and then the weather's hot,
Where city streets are always clean,
Where smoky skies are never seen,
Where coal is cheap and ice is free,
Where politicians all agree,
Where vaudeville shows are still unknown,
Where flats are made for kids alone,
Where franchises [illegible]
Where dinner's early, breakfast late,
Where ragtime songs are never sung,
Where cycle-scorchers cash in young
Where cooks to please are all intent,
Where landlords gladly cut the rent,
Where airless gas is ever made,
Where "Hiawatha" isn't played,
But though I found this joyous spot,
At times I'd be contented not,
The only perfect place, I claim,
Is where my team ne'er drops a game.

CAPT. W. J. BRYANT HAS PASSED AWAY

Capt. William J. Bryant, one of the most widely known mariners in the Pacific northwest died at his home at 408 Queen Anne avenue last night from a complication of diseases. A fall sustained three years ago was a remote cause in the opinion of Dr. W. C. Hastings and Dr. J. P. Sweeney, his attending physicians, worry over his recent troubles on the local board of marine inspectors hastened the end.

Capt. Bryant was a sailor from childhood, having been born in 1842 aboard the ship of which his father was master on a voyage from Liverpool to New Orleans. He came of a family of seafaring men, his grandfather having been in the British navy. He worked his way up from a cabin boy to the command of numerous vessels, the most famous of which was the Roving Sailor.

In that vessel he made many voyages until she was wrecked in a typhoon on the Japanese coast in 1871. His last command was the ship A. C. Dickerman, which he left to live on Puget Sound. In 1887 he was appointed local inspector of hulls, a position which he held almost until the time of his death.

Capt. Bryant was a Mason and was held in high esteem by his friends. He leaves an estate valued at about $50,000. He leaves a widow and six sons, all but one of whom are residents of this city.

THREE TIMES PINCHED WAS PINSCHOWER

Sam Pinschower, manager of the Midway cribhouse, has been arrested, booked at the police station and bailed out three times within the past three days on three separate charges of conducting a house of ill fame. Each time the bail has been $100.

The explanation is that the power of the police judge is limited to a fine of $100.

Chief Sullivan has of late made it a rule to bring none of the fallen women from the tenderloin into the police court, but merely to arrest the proprietor of the places once a month. The proprietors of the resorts are fined on a basis of $100 for every 10 women in their places. For 30 women in his resort Pinschower was arrested three times. There are about 40 women in the resort.

A BATTLE IN WHEAT

CHICAGO, June 25.—The big battle in wheat between Cleage, the leader of the St. Louis blind pool, and Armour was resumed immediately after the board opened this morning. That Cleage has Armour in a bad fix is the general belief, and his statement that July and September wheat will be sent to a dollar a bushel before the week is out carries dismay to the Armour followers. Armour denies that he is being squeezed, but men in a position to know say if wheat goes to a dollar a bushel he will lose $5,000,000.

SUPERINTENDENT LAYS DOWN LAW TO IRRIGATIONISTS

Supt Youngs, of the city water department, is sending out notices that the department will no longer tolerate violations of its rules as to the use of city water for irrigating purposes. For infraction of rules in the future he threatens to cut off water from the guilty parties. In explanation of this notice he said today:

"We are not doing this because we want to be arbitrary in the matter, but because it is for the best interests of the city, as a whole. It often happens now that people living in the lower districts will let water run all day in sprinkling their lawns. When they do this people living on the hills frequently can not get water for any purpose. It is not right and those living on the lowlands should have some consideration for their neighbors.

"The cause of this shortage of water on the hills when all are using water for irrigation throughout the day is not a lack of supply, but a lack of pressure to force the water we have up to the high points. The distributing mains and service pipes are not large enough to give the pressure when there is a constant drain on them.

In a number of districts the old two by large pipes and it will be readily seen that with a number of taps wide open constantly draining the main it is impossible to maintain any pressure in the main."

"The hours when water may be used for irrigation are between 6 and 9 o'clock morning and evening. Those living on top of the hills, where the pressure is light can secure special permits to irrigate at other times during the day.

UMATILLA TAKES WARMING UP SPIN

The Pacific Coast Steamship company's San Francisco liner, Umatilla, after undergoing at Moran's repairs that cost nearly $150,000, sailed on a trial trip around the sound at 11 o'clock this morning. She went about half way to Port Townsend and then returned to Bremerton arriving there at 2 o'clock this afternoon. She will be placed in the government drydock to have her bottom scraped and to be inspected. She was laid up six months.

The big steamship was a pretty sight as she passed up the sound, saluted by every passing vessel. The Umatilla will take the place of the Valencia, which arrives from San Francisco Sunday.

She goes out July 3 in command of Capt. L. N. Nopander, who succeeds Capt. Cousins, now on the Queen, and than whom there is no better known mariner on the coast. Capt. Nopander has been in the employ of the Pacific Coast Steamship company for the past 25 years, working himself up from a deckhand to the command of eight of the vessels of the company.

CHARGES A FORMER FRIEND WITH THEFT

Joe Beauregard, a Frenchman, was arrested this morning on suspicion of stealing $55 from A. Donocourt. Beauregard and Donocourt were out doing the town Tuesday night. Donocourt had the sum mentioned when they went to bed. When he awoke his money was gone and so was Beauregard. The latter was caught this morning by the police and sent to the city jail.

Beauregard was recently involved in a prosecution for the importation of French women into America for immoral purposes. The police believed that he was wanted by the federal officers, but were told this morning that he was not.

"AMERICA WILL BE REFUGE OF THE JEWS"

LEON LEVI, PRESIDENT OF BIG HEBREW ORGANIZATION, SAYS MASSACRES WILL SEND HIS COUNTRYMEN HITHER

CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—"Jews will come to America in increased numbers, because of the massacres in Russia."

The speaker was Hon. Leo. N. Levi, who is in a position to obtain the best information on the subject of the Russian massacres. As president of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, the world-wide Jewish organization, he has means of getting private advices which others have not.

Levi looks every inch a president—or some other important personage. There is strong character in his face and in every move. In private life he is a New York lawyer, and, his friends add, "a good one." He looks like a man who does things. Added to this is a dignified bearing and an eloquence of speech which attract attention.

"This latest trouble in Russia was caused by the old superstition that finds believers among the people of eastern Europe. For many centuries the ignorant people have believed that Jews require the blood of Christians for the making of the Passover bread—motza. If it happens near the Passover festival that some Christian is missing the conclusion is that he was murdered by the Jews for ritual purposes. In Kishineff, Russia, a child disappeared about Passover time and the old charge was revived. That someone should be missing in so large a city is not strange, because the population is dense. Kishineff is a city of 250,000, and is surrounded by many suburban towns. The Jewish population is 53,000.

"It goes without saying that intelligent Christians do not indulge the superstition. Had it not been for them the massacre would have assumed vastly greater proportions. They gave refuge to Jews and risked their lives to stem the fury of the mob. Unfortunately their class is in the minority.

"Seven million Jews live in that section of Russia, and those who can secure means will emigrate. The majority prefer to come to the United States. In 1891 the arrivals of Russian Jews reached 10,000 a month. It was feared their coming would be hurtful to the country, but in a few years they were assimilated and have proven a valuable acquisition to our citizenship.

"Yes, our organization is making preparation to take care of them when they arrive," he said, in response to a question, "and we will assist them in falling in readily with American ideas."

President Levi said the king of Roumania had been influenced by American public opinion regarding the massacres.

"Most drastic legislation against the Jews was pending," he said, "when Secretary Hay's note was delivered. The legislation passed parliament, but I have private advices that the king received a delegation from B'nai B'rith to protest against the measures and his approval of them was withheld.

"Public opinion in America will influence the czar's government, also, I believe, but it must be dignified in expression and must not antagonize that government."

EIGHT HOUR LAW UPHELD BY COURT

George D. Price, the city teamster who was discharged because he refused to groom his horses after working eight hours, was ordered reinstated yesterday afternoon by a decision of Judge Bell reversing that of the city civil service commission.

If upheld in the superior court, the ruling will mean that city teamsters will be allowed to groom their teams on city time, instead of after having completed their day's work.

Street Superintendent A. L. Walters discharged Price. The teamster made application to the civil service commission for reinstatement, on the ground that under the charter, city employes could only be required to work eight hours a day. The commission upheld the action of Walters, and Price promptly appealed to the superior court.

REJECTED LOVERS' CLUB

A DOZEN NUTMEG SWAINS MEET IN "THE CHAMBER OF WITHERED HOPES" AND TELL THEIR TROUBLES

DERBY, Conn., June 25.—(Special.)—Ten young men of Derby, who have been rejected in love affairs, have formed "The Rejected Lovers' Club."

The membership of the club is limited to 12, and each candidate must present a sworn statement that at least two women have rejected him, and he must give all the circumstances attending such rejection. He must further agree to the following rules:

No member shall again propose marriage to any woman.

No member shall attend any dance or reception unless chaperoned by a married man.

No member shall smile, smirk at or ogle any woman not a relative, nor converse with any such woman over five minutes at any one time on any topic but business.

No member shall converse with operators at the central telephone exchange further than to give number of call desired.

No member shall attend any wedding or wedding reception whatsoever, or eat wedding cake.

The penalty for a breach of any of these rules shall be immediate expulsion.

In "the chamber of withered hopes" the members gather and amid returned engagement rings, old love letters and crushed violets recount their sad experiences with the fair sex.

TONIGHT
And every evening this week. Summer season of polite vaudeville. Our list of top-line specialty artists: Ernie and Honneger, Mann & Franks, Harry Sawyer, De Ruiz & Granville, the De Long Dainty Company, Thompson's beautiful illustrated songs, the Marvellous Polyscope Pictures.
A great novelty. Bring your wives and children and spend two hours in a cool place and enjoy a first-class entertainment at people's popular prices—10 cents and 20 cents no higher.
