UNIVERSITY HILL

Lots 40x105, only $150 up.

Located just west of the University, but on higher ground. About same elevation as Queen Anne Capitol Hill.

SUPERB VIEWS.

University Hill will be one of the finest residence sections of the city. Values will double and treble.

WHY?

Because our property lies directly between the University and the new HIGH SCHOOL, facing the 70-foot boulevard. Miles of cement sidewalks are now going in. Beautiful homes are being built. These substantial improvements stamp the district as first-class.

On account of the street improvements partly completed, the approach from the University is in bad condition. Take the GREEN LAKE car. Get off at 50th and Interlake ave. Go due east to the end of the board walk at 1st ave. northeast. Salesman on the ground.

Curtis Coming Home

★Edward S. Curtis, artist and student of Indian life, the man who has done more than any other to give Seattle national and international reputation, returns to Seattle Sunday from a two months' sojourn among the Indian tribes of Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California.

Letters from him have already indicated that this has been one of the most successful of his many trips into the primeval abodes of the Indian. He has on this trip been particularly successful in studying the Pueblos at close range, while he has also done some valuable research work among and secured many valuable studies of the California Indians.

Curtis is in Portland, taking in the last day of the world's fair, and leaves for Seattle Saturday night.
