HELP WANTED—ONE CENT A WORD

LINEMAN DIES AT TOP OF POLE

Forty feet above the ground, H. A. Ham, a lineman of the Seattle Electric Company, was electrocuted at 7th av. and Spring st. last evening while repairing a broken insulation.

Ham had both wires bared and accidentally grabbed one with each hand, sending 2,300 volts through his quivering body.

With a cry of agony he attracted the attention of his companion at the foot of the pole. The companion shouted for assistance and after a rope was secured he climbed to the top, where the nearly lifeless body was suspended, seared and writhing as the current passed through it. The contact was broken and the body was lowered to the ground. Here efforts were made to revive Ham but they proved of no avail. An automobile was called immediately and he was taken to the Seattle General hospital. He was pronounced dead on being carried inside.

Ham lived at 221 Battery st., and was 30 years of age. Nothing is known of his family.

USE OF WATER TO BE LIMITED DURING SUMMER

The regular summer water inspection maintained by the water department will be inaugurated on May 1. A large number of extra men will be required during the summer to keep tab on the users of city water, but at first only twelve extra men will be started out.

The same rules will govern the use of water this summer as were in force last year. This applies to sprinkling of lawns and prohibits the use of stationary nozzles except where meters are installed.

Lawns can be sprinkled only between the hours of 7 and 8:30 o'clock, both morning and evening. For violations of the rules a fine is provided.

The new pipe line will be completed about the middle of July and as this will practically double the supply of water it is not anticipated that there will be any water famine, such as has been threatened during the hot weather for several years past.

RAILROAD FORCES IN PITCHED BATTLE

(By United Press.)

MISSOULA, Mont., April 26.—News of another physical clash between Hill and Harriman engineers, rivaling in violence the famous battle between surveyors of the same railroad interests when the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad was being built, reached this city today from Lolo Pass, where the encounter occurred Friday.

Fists, rocks, surveyors' staffs and other convenient weapons were used in the conflict. The battle ended only after members of both gangs were badly beaten. However, the surveyors are still on the contested ground. The trouble arose over a cut-off between Missoula and Lewiston.

The engineers for the Harriman line had been in the field several weeks by the time the Great Northern party arrived and were surveying their route along the Lolo river, west of the Bitter Root mountains and the pass, which is the point of contention between the two systems.

When the Hill party reached the river, it was ordered off by the rivals, and a pitched battle followed.

BLOODY DUEL

(By United Press.)

MEADVILLE, Miss., April 27.—Cornelius Pritchard is dead and three persons are wounded as a result of a six-handed shooting affray here, the outgrowth of a political feud.

Dr. A. M. Newman recently defeated Pritchard's father for chancery clerk and feeling between the two factions became intense. When Pritchard met Newman weapons were drawn and the firing was begun.

POISONED BY EATING CANNED BEANS

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., April 27.—Canned beans may exterminate the entire household of Sidney Boardman, of Needles. One daughter is dead and the other children and the mother are not expected to live. The family dined on beans Saturday and ptomaine poisoning followed.
