Marriage Licenses.
Since our last report the following Licenses to marry have been issued:
COLORED:
J. Columbus Dorsey and Catherine Jackson, George Bryan and Alice Biscoe, Ignatius Barber and Jennie Whalen.

A Card.
Messrs. Editors:—Please say to my customers and the public generally that I am selling goods as low as any one in the county and invite them to call and see for themselves. Am too busy to write out price lists.
Respectfully,
F. OSCAR MORGAN, Leonardtown.

The Babercock Post Tobacco.
When during Court our friend Dick Jarboe reached Port Tobacco and took his place in Norris's Hotel, Mike, the little Irishman, who stammers a little, exclaimed: "Well, J-J-Julian—y-you—h-h-have—been—e-e-carrying—on—here—f-for—s-s-some—time—and I'll be d-d-damned—if—y-you—a-a-nt—not—the—J-Jarboe—at—last."

Personal.
Miss Lena, daughter of Capt. Sol Foxwell, of this county, graduated last Thursday at the twenty-second annual commencement of the State Normal School.

The Railroad News.
Since our last paper, Mr. Wild and the cashier of the Commercial Bank of Philadelphia, have visited the scene of operations at St. Mary's City and inspected the work. The pier is ready for the flooring and the road-bed from the wharf to the road leading to Rose Croft is ready for the ties. A commissary has been started and the number of hands is daily increasing. The amount paid per day for horse team, cart and driver is, we are informed, $2.50. Not counting losses, engineers, carpenters, etc., about 60 men are now at work. Anyone applying for work is, we are told, at once recommended. In all about three-quarters of a mile of road has been graded.

Attempted Outrage.
Friday night, the 27th instant, Benjamin Hancock, colored, was committed to our county jail on warrant of Justice John C. Hurry, charged with an attempt to commit a felonious assault upon the prisoner, it appears, met the girl on the road leading to Stone's wharf, asked her the way to the landing and then made indecent proposals to her. The girl started to run and Hancock after caught her and threw her down, but owing to her screams and desperate resistance he failed to accomplish his purpose. There is considerable excitement over the affair, and we hope for the county's sake that the offender will be given a speedy trial and, if convicted, be promptly punished. The young lady is a daughter of Sheriff Bailey, a worthy former of the St. Joseph's section. The scene of the attempted outrage was near Mr. John V. Camalier's gate.

Mr. Inigo's Items.
[From our Regular Correspondent.]
The building boom continues, and a number of neat dwellings are being erected. Messrs. Courtney and Edwards are the principal contractors.
The current warm weather and dews are conducive to the growth of vegetation. Tobacco plants are growing rapidly. The beds are sufficiently thick, and unless the dry interferes the demand will be amply supplied.
Strawberries are ripe, and truckers will commence shipping garden peas at an early day.
Farmers are considerably worried just now, as many (80) of their employes have come to the Eastern Shore to pick berries at two cents per quart.
Roads are in excellent condition, and no persons enjoy traveling upon the same more than Tom Yates and Peter Smith. These gentlemen are said to have the best roadsters hereabout.
W. B. Bean of Baltimore is visiting friends in Leonardtown. Friend Billy is as lively as ever, and expresses the opinion that there is no place like St. Mary's Co.
Anglers are tolerably successful in catching croaker, rock and shiners.
Crabs are plentiful and large. Captain W. T. West, W. A. W. Clark and B. M. Dunbar of St. Jerome's and Walter Wood, Benj. Combs, John Moore and Wallace Dunbar of Smith's Creek are the largest shippers. Thousands of dozens are shipped every week from Cornfield Harbor.
The Confederate Cemetery seems to be abandoned since the death of James R. Langley, judging from the desolate looking appearance of the inclosure. Such alas! is the condition of the resting place of men who, when the tocsin of war resounded throughout the South, considered it "a glorious, golden opportunity" to show their devotion for their country.
We trust that you and your many readers will not think that we have indulged our imagination to embellish our report, when we say that Hon. Barnes Compton is the choice of the democrats of St. Inigo's for governor.
Decorative day was observed as usual. Beautiful and fragrant wreaths, bouquets, and crosses of choice flowers were placed upon the graves of departed friends.
The health of our citizens at present is good.
Insects—bugs and worms—are very annoying. Several farmers have rolled their corn to destroy the latter.
Rev. Fr. Gaffney delivered an able sermon at St. Michael's 26th. He never aims to please the fancies of men.
"When sent with God's commission to their hearts."
RALYAT.

New Store—New Goods.
Mrs. J. Simms Fenwick has opened a Millinery and Fancy Store, Dry Goods and Notions at the stand lately occupied by Mrs. E. T. Burch in Leonardtown, Md., and will be pleased to see her old customers and as many new ones as may see fit to call. As Mrs. Fenwick proposes to conduct business entirely on a cash basis, she can and will sell at such figures as to make it to the interest of all desiring goods in her line to deal with her.

Says the Controlle Record.
"Politics are beginning to blossom as the rose in St. Mary's county. The last issue of the Beacon announces six candidates for the Legislature, two for State's Attorney, four for sheriff and several for Orphans' Court and County Commissioners."
Yes, Brother Robert, and these are not all. Others who are not yet announced are in the hands of their friends and before the primaries, if our information be not at fault, the names of James T. Abell, Spencer Harrison, Harry Reeder, Josiah Hancock, Robert Bean, Combs and many others will be added to the list.

Baseball.
[Reported for the Beacon.]
A match game of baseball was played last Monday between the Charlotte Hall and Marlboro' clubs on the grounds of the latter. The game opened with the Charlotte Hall club at the bat. They placed six runs to their credit in their first inning securing a safe lead and were never headed during the remainder of the game. The battery work of Messrs. Peed and Plummer was especially commendable and with sharp fielding by the Charlotte Hall boys secured the victory for their club. For the Marlboro' club, Messrs. Robbins and Macpherson deserve notice for their excellent playing. The features of the game were a home run by Peed and cutting throw by Sasser from left field, cutting a man off at home. Appended is a list of the players and score by innings.

THE SHERIFF.
Besides having been born that way, and not knowing how to act other than the perfect gentleman, Sheriff of the Port, Hon. Edward Warfield, is a newspaper man himself and knows how it is. A reporter is always welcome in his office and is sure to get all the news there even to the slightest detail. Mr. Warfield possesses the true spirit of Maryland congeniality and hospitality and has a fine taste for good cigars.

COL. WILLIAM HENRY LEGG,
his deputy, is one of the old school Eastern Shore gentlemen, jolly, jovial always happy, and has a well developed appreciation for Kent Island Turkey, Terrapin and wait for some time before their evidence was taken, and becoming impatient, one of them asked Capt. Groghegan if he thought they would get away before Christmas. The gallant Captain replied: "If I thought I had to stay in this place until Christmas, I'd kill a lawyer and have my case removed to another county."

The Biscoe Case.
At 10:33 o'clock Saturday night, Biscoe's second trial ended. Twelve men "good and true," again find him guilty of the wilful murder of Capt. Robert B. Dixon. The prisoner had a fair and impartial trial, we believe, generally conceded. Experience would seem to prove that further delay will only increase the burdens of our taxpayers and not save the culprit from paying the penalty of his crime and we had hoped that the last scene of the tragedy was soon to be enacted. We see, however, that the end is not yet and that notice of another appeal has been given. The reasons upon which a new trial is asked appear to be mainly based, not upon grounds that justice has not been done the prisoner, but that the Court has erred in constraining points of law. That this should happen twice in the same case argues, we think, rather strongly than the majority of our people are willing to admit. On the second trial, the State made out a stronger case against the prisoner than upon the first and it is hardly to be supposed that if a third trial is reached that its cause will be weakened. It is eminently proper that lawyers should study the interests of their clients but it is likewise meet and just that they should regard a little the interests of the community. The great City of Cincinnati bears recent testimony that the law's delay sometimes quickens men's worse passions and results in an outbreak requiring the rifle's grim argument to put down. That our people are exasperated over the delay in this case and the expenses thereby entailed, is only too plain to anyone who will use his ears that he may hear. That there is present danger of their forgetting their character as law abiding citizens, we do not believe, but we do think that it would be well to remember the Cincinnati lesson and see to it that no case is given for its repetition in St. Mary's. The larger number of witnesses and the drawing, at a request of counsel for the accused, of a panel of 25 extra Jurors instead of summoning twelve as is customary, will likely make the expenses of the second trial greater than the first. Our taxpayers are already overburdened and for their sakes, we trust that the case may be allowed to stop where it is and not again go to the Court of Appeals. We append the grounds upon which the prisoner's counsel ask a new trial.

"1. Because the verdict is contrary to the evidence."
"2. Because of erroneous admission of alleged statements of the prisoner."
"3. Because of the discovery since the trial of new evidence tending to show the insanity of the prisoner."
"4. Because the verdict of the jury is against the law applicable to the case."
"5. Because there is no sufficient reason to be presented at the hearing of this motion."

Also a motion in arrest of judgment will follow this upon the following grounds:
"1. Because the Circuit Court will for St. Mary's County, where this cause originated, has no jurisdiction."
"2. Because there is no jurisdiction in this county to hear, try or determine this case."
"3. Because, although the prisoner by his counsel made affidavit in the Circuit Court for St. Mary's County a suggestion and affidavit for the removal of this cause, yet while the cause was still pending in the said court, and before any valid order for the removal of the cause to some other court for trial, the prisoner withdrew the said suggestion and affidavit for removal, and so this court has no jurisdiction in the premises, and the trial and conviction herein are wholly null and void, and can give this court no power to pass any sentence whatever upon the prisoner."
"4. Because before the trial the prisoner moved the court to remand this case to the Circuit Court for St. Mary's County."
"5. Because the prisoner is wholly without validity, and the prisoner, before the trial, denounced thereto, and the court erroneously gave judgment thereon against prisoner."

SAMOHT SAYS HIS SAY.
BALTIMORE, May 30, 1887.

Forty years ago a newspaper reporter was a machine. He was employed not on account of intelligence but because he had a "nose" for news. He took notes and the editors wrote the articles. This is not the case now, though there are a great many people who have no idea of what a reporter's requirements are or what his work is. The reporter of to-day must have a good education, must be well bred and a man fit to visit and interview the highest man or woman in the land with credit to his paper and competent to write his article in comprehensive shape.

Our public men recognize the reporter as he is to-day and as a rule they are friendly to him and treat him well. The present Federal officials in the city and the majority of the city officers are personally very popular with newspapermen.

HON. JAMES BLACKBROOME,
Collector of the Port, is a special favorite. He is easily approached, always in a good humor and invariably extends his left hand when a scribe enters his sanctum. He imparts his news concisely, answers all proper questions courteously and always says, "I will be pleased to see you at any time," when the reporter is bowing himself out. He is a shrewd politician and has a weakness for hand sandwiches.

THE SHERIFF.
Besides having been born that way, and not knowing how to act other than the perfect gentleman, Sheriff of the Port, Hon. Edward Warfield, is a newspaper man himself and knows how it is. A reporter is always welcome in his office and is sure to get all the news there even to the slightest detail. Mr. Warfield possesses the true spirit of Maryland congeniality and hospitality and has a fine taste for good cigars.

COL. WILLIAM HENRY LEGG,
his deputy, is one of the old school Eastern Shore gentlemen, jolly, jovial always happy, and has a well developed appreciation for Kent Island Turkey, Terrapin and Oysters. He is so polite that he takes off his hat to every foreign German immigrant in short skirts and wooden shoes, who lands at Locust Point. He has all the Eastern Shore politics right at his tongue's end all the time and generally keeps them there. He will tell you anything in reason you want to know but won't talk politics much to members of the press, though he will go six blocks out of his way the hottest day in August to give a reporter a news item. The Colonel edited a paper once himself.

I. FREEMAN RASER,
the Naval Officer, is affable at all times, but has little to say and puts that little in the fewest words possible. What he knows about politics would fill several large volumes, but he seldom vents his knowledge in that direction except to his most trustworthy friends. His most prominent characteristic outside of politics is his hatred for J. Frank Morrison.

POSTMASTER FRANK BROWN is one of the easiest going public officers in the county. He gives close attention to the business of the office. He is perfectly conversant with every detail of the work of the office but performs his duties in such an easy style that a stranger would think he was doing nothing. He has done a good deal for Baltimore and the whole State in the matter of increased mail facilities. He is never too busy to receive a newspaper man. He generally has a half smoked cigar in his mouth and always carries in his bosom a strong desire to be Governor.

REVENUE COLLECTOR ROBERTS was so busy when he first got into office that he hardly had time to talk to anybody. The reporters thought they had struck a rap but they have changed their opinions now. The Collector since he has become acquainted with his office is a genial gentleman and a great favorite. He appreciates all the good things of life and likes a midday lunch.

MAYOR JAMES HODGINS is easy to interview sometimes and at other times he is not. His Honor is a good talker and when he strikes a favorite theme his words flow like oil out of a barrel. Sometimes his verbosity outreaches his memory and the next day he sees things in print which he does not recollect having said. Then he is as cold as ice for awhile and keeps as quiet as a clam. He soon thaws out however and goes at it again. He has a particular weakness for the pronoun "I" and often makes use of it in his conversation with decided emphasis. He has strong aspirations toward the Governorship of Maryland or the Presidency of the United States, but if he fails in either or both of these would be willing to be Mayor again, but — Gossip.

Local news that past week has been exceedingly scarce. Politics are at a stand still except that the reformers are hammering away in futile efforts to make a breach in the Democratic wall.

Col. John M. Brome, Mr. Robert Cole, Rev. Mr. Vaughan and several others from your county are in the city last week. Miss Mallie Dent is in the city on a visit to her sister Mrs. Evans. Reports are that she will be a Judge's bride before the robins go into winter quarters.

The St. Mary's colony has received an addition in the person of Mr. G. Edgar Smith, who has secured a position with the Baltimore City Passenger Railway Company. Rev. S. Spencer Greenwell, formerly of St. Mary's, but now located in Baltimore county, was in the city to-day. He is a handsome young divine. I am told that he is quite an eloquent speaker and a great favorite with the better part of creation in his parish.

COMMUNICATED.
CHAPTAIN, MAY 31, 1887.
Editors of the Beacon.—We are credibly informed that the Post Master of your town is obtaining signatures to a petition to create a new route from Mechanicville to Leonardtown, via Morganza, and to establish a daily route from River Springs to Mechanicville, via Milestown, St. Clement's Bay and Choptico. We are glad for your people of the 7th district to have a daily mail and think they should, but not at their St. Clement's Bay, Choptico and Budd's Creek, detourment. By such a route as your Post Master suggests, it would in a letter two days from Budd's Creek to be delivered at Leonardtown. A letter from River Springs, Milestown and St. Clement's Bay would have to go all the way to Mechanicville to be delivered in Leonardtown, a distance of 40 miles; whereas, they could be delivered at Leonardtown from St. Clement's Bay, a distance of 20 miles. Vice versa, your Beacon would require 3 days to reach Budd's Creek and about a day and a half to reach St. Clement's Bay, Milestown and River Springs and Bitters would be subject to the same delay. It now seems to me that the BEACON and letters we will reach here from Leonardtown, and if this route is put in operation Budd's Creek and Budd's Creek would get a letter a month after date.

We have, as we think, very kindly suggested and are willing to aid you in getting a direct route from Mechanicville to Leonardtown, via Choptico and St. Clement's Bay. This route would put in direct communication with Leonardtown, and instead of all the way round by Mechanicville. Some say, then the Morganza postoffice established with this route is not and don't want to receive their mail from Mechanicville or Laurel Grove, either by the California route or special messenger. If this be true, they are like the trumpeter who killed the bear that was laying him a golden egg daily. If served from Mechanicville or Laurel Grove, they would not receive their mail from one to two hours earlier than now by the Choptico route. They may say our mail will not reach Leonardtown as early. True, but a letter carried by Morganza at 11 A. M. will reach Leonardtown by 2 P. M. Then contrast the small office of Morganza to be put in direct communication with Leonardtown, or a distance of 14 to 15 miles, different from what is served—thereby depriving Budd's Creek, Choptico, St. Clement's Bay, Milestown and River Springs from receiving their county papers—direct. Then this can be done in 18 miles directly in 2 to 3 miles difference.

We think that your printing office and the business men of Leonardtown should oppose the Post Master's petition, as you should be for the best good to the great-est number. We are willing to aid you any way possible to get a direct line to your own, via Choptico and St. Clement's, and to aid the 7th district people in a daily mail connection at St. Clement's Bay, but we are certainly opposed to our route to Leonardtown that we have had for years to be taken entirely from us by a new source; and Leonardtown could only be advantageously by mail facility from Baltimore 14 to 2 miles on time of delivery.

AQUILA BURROUGHS.
Saved His Life.
Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Public, also, Rheumatic pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Wm. J. Edelen & Co. and J. T. Ballenger.—6

ADVICE TO MORGANZA.—Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth?
