Judge Williams Threatens Life Term in Liquor Cases.

Alexandria, La., Jan. 11.—Repeated liquor law violations will subject the offender to life imprisonment in the penitentiary, according to announcement by Judge J. A. Williams in passing sentence upon two persons chargee with that offense in the district court today.

"Let this be a warning to you or any other person who may come before this court charged with keeping a blind tiger," declared Judge Williams. "For it is within the discretion of the court to double the sentence and treble it and, if deemed wise, to send you to the state penitentiary for the balance of your natural life, which I will do if necessary to stop the manufacture and sale of this vile and poisonous stuff."

Judge Williams made this comment in sentencing Charley Williams, a young white man, and Sam Foster, a negro, who were arrested several weeks ago in connection with the operation of a still on the Barrett place, several miles above Alexandria, when a still and a quanity of liquor and mash was seized.
