

Saint Mary's Beacon.

LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY Morning, Dec. 17th, 1887.

Richard Hynson, Esq., has resigned as one of the directors of the State board of directors in the B. & O. Railroad, and Senator Arthur P. Gorman has been appointed by Gov. Lloyd to fill the vacancy.

The spectacle of five men, who deny the existence of any authority, pleading that same authority for their lives, is witnessed in the case of the anarchists in Chicago. But they have pleaded in vain, and last Friday four of the fiends, more beastly than human, were hanged.

The Democratic victory in New York State last Tuesday is the index finger, which points to the nomination and election of Cleveland for a second term. It is now in order for Democrats to heal up their minor differences and come back into line with personal animosities buried and forgotten.

The Legislature of Maryland elected in 1885 was overwhelming Democratic. Of the 26 members of the Senate, the Democrats elected 21 and there was one tie. Of the 91 members of the House the Democrats elected 79. This was unusual success. The Republicans made no effort in that contest, and were disorganized. Last Tuesday, however, the Democrats virtually repeated the success of 1885. They elected 22 of the 26 Senators and 72 of the 91 Delegates. This will give them more than three fifths majority in each house, and a majority of 67 on joint ballot. The result, too, insures the election of Democrats as Police Commissioner of Baltimore and State Treasurer, and also about insures the election of a Democrat to the United States Senate two years hence, for one-half of the Senate holds over and that insures that body being Democratic in 1890.

Editors of the Beacon.—In overlooking the official vote of St. Mary's county for the year 1887 with that of 1885, I was surprised to see that the Republican State ticket had gained only 86 votes, whereas the Republican legislative ticket had received 420 more than in 1885. For instance, in 1885 Francis Miller, Republican candidate for Comptroller, received 1,703 votes, or only one vote less than was cast for Wm. M. Marine, Republican candidate for Clerk of Court of Appeals. In 1887 Francis Miller, Republican candidate for Attorney-General received 1,789 votes, two more than were cast for Walter B. Brooks, Republican candidate for Governor, and only 86 more than he (Miller) received in 1885. In 1885 the vote for Messrs. King and Norris averaged 1,862, whilst the average for Messrs. Wilkinson and Milburn was 1,856, making the Democratic majority 276. This year the Republicans, Messrs. Wilkinson and Graves, have an average of 1,796, whilst the average of their opponents, Messrs. Lathrop and Mattingly, is 1,532, which gives the Republicans a majority of 264. Now, subtract the average of the Republican candidates for the House of Delegates for the year 1885 from that of 1887, i. e., 1,796—1,536=260, which we find is the increase for the Republican legislative ticket. Let us now subtract the average of the Democratic candidates on the same ticket for the year 1887 from that of 1885, and we have 1,862—1,532=330. Thus we find that the Democrats lost 330 votes, whilst the Republicans gained only 210, which goes to prove that 120 votes more were cast for the legislative ticket in 1885 than in 1887. The combined vote for Messrs. Greenwell and Alvey for Sheriff in 1885 amounted to 3,481, whilst the votes cast for Messrs. Mattingly and Ching for the same office this year only numbered 3,355, making a difference of 126 less than in 1885. When we consider that the increase of Miller's vote in this county was only 86, does it not look as if the result of the election was caused more by the indifference of democrats than anything else?

Taking the candidates, individually, there is not one word of censure that can be attached to any one of them. They made a glorious fight and deserve credit for it, but, unfortunately, many of them were unknown to the people, and as they had never done anything to give them precedence or recommend them to the consideration of the voters, they were not endorsed by the public, consequently those on the ticket who were prominent for their superior qualities, were made targets of by many of the voters because it was thought that they had a hand in making up the balance of the ticket. In some instances, the fight was made, not against the candidates individually, but against outsiders through them, because it was feared that they would be the recipients of favors in the event of the election of the candidates. After all, would it not have been better to have made a home run with the old Grey Fox than have been burrowed at the start for the worst of a leader? To my fellow democrats I would say, do not be discouraged, when next the barks of our candidates are cast upon the political tide, I hope it may be under more favorable auspices, and when the waters of strife shall rage around them I trust that they may find a pilot who will lend them a helping hand, and enable them to stem the current, to beat back the billows of dissension and glide safely o'er the quicksands which may beset their pathway, so that on the day of election they may with pride unfurl to the breeze our banner and proclaim to the State a glorious victory.

Respectfully,
REGNANT POPULUS.

Local Dottings.

Attention!
The Leonardtown Rifles are hereby ordered to meet at their armory on Saturday, the 19th instant.

Wm. F. CHESLEY, Captain.

Dismissed.
Harry Graves and Oscar Cryer, members of the Leonardtown Rifles, who were fined for non-attendance at the centennial celebration, had a hearing before Justice Morgan on Monday last. After arguments by counsel, Messrs. Holmes and Hammett, the case was dismissed.

Mr. Hammett's Record in St. Mary's.
State's Attorney D. C. Hammett led his party ticket in St. Mary's county, receiving 1,596 votes to 1,401 for his Democratic competitor. The call for a constitutional convention received 859 votes, and 2,109 were cast against it; 423 blank votes were cast. Mr. Hammett has been elected State's attorney three times.—Baltimore American.

Dramatic Entertainment.
The ladies and gentlemen of the Dramatic Association of the Factory, who met with such success at their late play and tableaux, will repeat the same, in the great hall of St. Inigo's villa, on Thanksgiving Day, 24th instant. Doors open at 6:30. Curtain rises at 7. The turkey and oyster supper immediately after the play. Admission to the hall, 25 cents—children, half price.

Personal.
Mr. John F. Carroll, formerly with Boykin, Corner & Co., having associated himself with James Bailey & Son, dealer in drugs, chemicals, &c., wishes to inform his friends in Southern Maryland that he can counterpoint with the best articles at rock-bottom prices.

Mr. G. B. P. Taylor, who has been for some time quite sick, is, we are glad to hear, convalescing.

Public Notice.
We found the following notice with the above heading tacked up at one of our hotels.

Look out for thieves! On Sunday last a youth came into the room of Thompson and Owens at the almshouse and stole 2 pocket knives one a buck-horn handle knife with the Big Blade broken out the other a first class Barlow with long sharp pointed Blade having been lost for some time and found again was a little rusty and both knives put together would not have brought 25 cts. But if a thief will steal a sorry article what would they do for good ones.

St. Inigo's Items.
[From our Regular Correspondent.]
The public schools appear to be progressing tolerably well. The teachers no doubt exert themselves to get their pupils to take an interest in their several studies.

In consequence of the inclement weather tongues have been hindered from catching a sufficient quantity of oysters to supply the demand of shippers and run boats. There seems to be no lack of oysters in Smith's Creek. They are small but exceedingly fat and well flavored.

Our roads, despite the heavy and constant hauling, are in a fair condition. This is due to the substantial manner in which they have been worked. We trust that the newly-elected Commissioners will appoint good supervisors.

O. N. Evans and F. V. Dunbar, of Tick Neck, occasionally succeeded in catching excellent fish, principally rock.

What is looking well and turns are said to be very fine this season.

Large crops of corn have been realized. The best is selling at $2.00 per lb.

No sickness of consequence.

A Brilliant Baltimore Wedding.
DILLAHAY AND MARTIN.

Wednesday evening, October 26th, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Barre and Howard sts., was the scene of a very brilliant wedding that attracted a great throng of friends and relatives of the contracting parties, who were Miss Elizabeth Martin, the youngest daughter of the late Charles H. Martin, a former resident of St. Mary's county, but for the past fifteen years a prominent wholesale and retail stationery and book dealer of South Baltimore, and Mr. Wm. D. Dillahay, son of Mr. Frank Dillahay, Sr., a well-known farmer of St. Mary's county.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Cunningham, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church.

Maurice Martin, brother of the bride, Wm. Barrett, L. Donahue, and Edw. Sapp, headed the bridal party, after considerable difficulty on account of the immense crowd that gathered around the Church to get only a glimpse of the approaching bride, which was without a doubt greater than on any similar occasion that has ever been witnessed in St. Joseph's Parish. Soon the way was cleared and carpets were spread from the Altar down the middle aisle—also on the pavement to the curb stone. The bridal party then made their way up the middle aisle, preceded by the ushers to the Altar, which was elaborately decorated with many pretty flowers and brilliantly lighted by numerous candles.

The bride was attired in a handsome cream silk and uncut plush on train, and veiled looped with lilies of the valley. In her hand was a magnificent bouquet of Marcella Neil roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Martha E. Martin, 659 Hanover street, where a handsome collation was served to the many friends and relatives of the bride. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful gifts.

Among those present were Mrs. Martha E. Martin, Maurice Martin, Miss Annie Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Itzold, Misses Lizzie Soper and Drusa A. Maryam, of Washington; Jennie and Ida Steinacker, of Baltimore county; Mattie Smith, Annie Parker, Ida and Emma Baker, Celis Tarleton, Annie and Fannie Albright, Katie Hobbs, Mary and Gertrude Berthoff, Maggie Donahue, Jennie Jeanty, Katie Cowman, India Stone, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Martin, Mrs. Ella Hook, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wines, Mrs. Osterman, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Schreyer, Mr. and Mrs. Adler, Mr. Steinacker, Messrs. William Barrett, L. Donahue, E. Sapp, F. Ott, E. Fisher, A. Bennett, F. Kelly, T. Donahue, T. Burch, J. Donahue, E. Luhn, T. Carr, Wm. Rader, H. Nickleson, A. Hill, T. Murphy and many others.

The residence of Mr. F. M. Dyer was the scene of one of the most enjoyable social events that has been our pleasure to attend. The entertainment, a "progressive euchre party" was given by Miss Nellie Holland, daughter of Col. Holland, of Baltimore, who is sojourning at present with Miss Julia Haley, sister of the hostess. Partners were determined by drawing from a hat containing as many slips of paper as there were ladies present each, slip representing a lady, resulting in the following partners, to which I add the score.

W. V. Waters, Miss Julia Haley, 12
John Canaler, Miss Edith Drury, 10
W. R. L. Haley, Miss May Dallah, 8
G. M. Haley, Miss Aggie Payne, 9
J. H. Parsons, Miss Julia Hayden, 9
R. F. Combs, Miss Nellie Holland, 2
G. P. Loker, Miss Nellie Hayden, 6
W. C. Drury, Miss Anna Stone, 5
F. M. Dyer, Miss Cecie Harrison, 5
Harry Spalding, Mrs. F. M. Dyer, 9

The ladies' prize, a beautiful fan exquisitely hand-painted, was won by Miss Haley, who afterwards generously gave it to the ladies present, it being finally drawn by Miss Anna Stone. Mr. W. V. Waters carried off the good-looking, consisting of a package of fine Havana cigars, to which he treated the smoking portion of the guests. The bodily honors were carried off by Miss Holland and Mr. Combs. Those present, who took no part in the playing were, Miss Annie Loker, Mr. Joe Payne, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. M. Haley and Master Delle Haley.

The entertainment for the benefit of the Holy Face Parochial school at the Factory was an entire success, a handsome amount being realized. The program, consisting of charades, tableaux, musical selections and a short drama, entitled "Down by the Sea," elicited rapturous applause. The closing song, "Whispering Hope," by the school children, was excellently rendered, reflecting much credit upon their teacher, Miss Virginia Combs, who was "uniting in her efforts to thoroughly drill her pupils.

The entertainment was held in a large hall generously donated to the church by Mr. William W. Cecil. The dramatic and musical part of the entertainment was followed by a supper, consisting of all that the most fastidious taste could relish, and a dance.

DIED.
In this district, on Nov. 10, 1887, JOHN W., the youngest son of Patrick W. and Josephine J. Russell, aged 9 months and 21 days.

OBITUARIES.
When a man, who is venerable in years and virtue is stricken down by the great destroyer, Death, such as know and love him best, are compensated for their loss, in great part, by the consolation thought, that his measure of usefulness is filled, and that he has exchanged a life of pain and infirmity for one of endless and boundless enjoyment, but when a young man, who has not completed his twenty-fourth year of life is snatched ruthlessly away from a dear wife, a loving and devoted mother and sister, brother and many beloved friends, there is very much of Christian philosophy requisite for them to say and feel, "Such will be done, O Lord, not ours."

SAMUEL X. THOMAS has been lately consigned to the tomb, by the side of his late father, Jas. B. Thomas, a man noted for the many admirable parts with which nature had endowed him, and the son gave promise of emulating the virtues of his departed sire.

In a manly and honorable effort to place those who depended chiefly upon him for maintenance beyond want, his zeal led him into too great expense and effort, which brought on illness, that medical skill could not relieve, and he may truly be said to have lost life in a heroic endeavor to perform, what he looked upon, as a religious duty. May the self-sacrifice of this brave young man bring peace to his soul—a sentiment and wish in which all must unite who knew him well and intimately.

DIED. Thursday, Nov. 3rd, 1887, WILLIAM LEO, infant son of W. F. and Edmonia M. Perry, aged 6 months and 8 days. The chattering hand of God has again visited us and taken from us our much prized jewel, just at that age when it had begun to delight us with its infant smiles. It was hard to part with our darling boy, but his Heavenly Father called and his stainless soul, too pure for earth, winged its way to Him who gave it. Though our grief is great, it is not without the assuring balm vouchsafed by Our Father in every affliction; and we are comforted with the assurance that our loved one now forms one of that celestial band who will sing the praise of their Maker forever. "The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away, blessed be His Holy name."

FATHER AND MOTHER.
Died, on the 20th ult., LILLIAN, daughter of R. Woodley and Ruth Mattingly, aged about 5 years.
Another pure and spotless little soul has flown to the bright realms above to form the angelic hosts where all is joy, all is love. The parents of this sweet little girl have the deep sympathy of all their friends for the loss of their darling one, who filled their home so full of joy, so full of sunshine. Deeply sad must their hearts be, yet was God who bade her come, and bid her go, for "His He who death all things will.

Another sweet and gentle one
Has gone to join the cherub throng.
Another, oh! how sweet the voice
Echo the angels to her song.
Parents, weep not for your darling,
Think how sweetly blest is she,
Safe within the arms of Jesus,
From sin and sorrow ever free.

THE ONE PRICE STORE

again calls special attention to a fine and large stock of Fall and Winter Goods
just received, embracing every variety known to be kept in a first-class general store. Wonders have been great how I could sell goods at such a sacrifice—hence it causes many prognostications pertaining to its future. However, the past has given intimate satisfaction, and shall continue to sell goods at such prices that will compel you in self-defense to deal with quick, regular prices. Then you will realize the fact how your hard and well made earnings have gone to make up the deficiencies of those who never pay. These are solid and stubborn facts—facts that have been haunting you all these many years. It forces the man who pays to pay for those who never pay. It holds a man up through summer and takes off his legs in mid winter. No money—his produce consumed to meet those heavy exactions of that barbarian, credit—the black line across his credit—his family left destitute of the necessities of life. I deal in good goods and not trash, and believe the masses will patronize the house that sells the best goods for the least money.

Among our articles we shall place before you some landstides that are positively beyond the whipler of competition or comparison. My prices are fixed and need no complaint for reduction, and it is no use to ask. I give prices that will teach you in the silent logic of truth the difference between dealing with live and dealing with dead men—between the right and the wrong way. Thus we are fighting against the old rotten credit system, for money, for reputation, and for the people. I invite an early and repeated visit to our store. We will strive to treat you with all the courtesy that is in our power. We give you 100 ounces to the pound and 36 inches to the yard. Not by favor, but by merit alone, shall we strive to maintain and increase the confidence of all.

Respectfully,

THURSDAY Morning, Dec. 17th, 1887.

Richard Hynson, Esq., has resigned as one of the directors of the State board of directors in the B. & O. Railroad, and Senator Arthur P. Gorman has been appointed by Gov. Lloyd to fill the vacancy.

The spectacle of five men, who deny the existence of any authority, pleading that same authority for their lives, is witnessed in the case of the anarchists in Chicago. But they have pleaded in vain, and last Friday four of the fiends, more beastly than human, were hanged.

The Democratic victory in New York State last Tuesday is the index finger, which points to the nomination and election of Cleveland for a second term. It is now in order for Democrats to heal up their minor differences and come back into line with personal animosities buried and forgotten.

The Legislature of Maryland elected in 1885 was overwhelming Democratic. Of the 26 members of the Senate, the Democrats elected 21 and there was one tie. Of the 91 members of the House the Democrats elected 79. This was unusual success. The Republicans made no effort in that contest, and were disorganized. Last Tuesday, however, the Democrats virtually repeated the success of 1885. They elected 22 of the 26 Senators and 72 of the 91 Delegates. This will give them more than three fifths majority in each house, and a majority of 67 on joint ballot. The result, too, insures the election of Democrats as Police Commissioner of Baltimore and State Treasurer, and also about insures the election of a Democrat to the United States Senate two years hence, for one-half of the Senate holds over and that insures that body being Democratic in 1890.

Editors of the Beacon.—In overlooking the official vote of St. Mary's county for the year 1887 with that of 1885, I was surprised to see that the Republican State ticket had gained only 86 votes, whereas the Republican legislative ticket had received 420 more than in 1885. For instance, in 1885 Francis Miller, Republican candidate for Comptroller, received 1,703 votes, or only one vote less than was cast for Wm. M. Marine, Republican candidate for Clerk of Court of Appeals. In 1887 Francis Miller, Republican candidate for Attorney-General received 1,789 votes, two more than were cast for Walter B. Brooks, Republican candidate for Governor, and only 86 more than he (Miller) received in 1885. In 1885 the vote for Messrs. King and Norris averaged 1,862, whilst the average for
