Thibodaux, La., April, 3rd., 1902
Editor Thibodaux Sentinel.

Sir:—I take pleasure in presenting you herewith, in behalf of the Young Men's Benevolent Association, of Lafourche, their check drawn against the Special Funds in their Treasury, in favor of the Mt. Carmel Convent Subscription Fund now being raised by your valuable paper, for the sum of One Hundred dollars. The present check is forwarded in accordance with a resolution adopted at a meeting of said Association held on the 2nd., inst., a copy of which said resolution is hereto attached.

Hoping that your fund for the said Mt. Carmel Convent will grow fast and swell to proportion equal to your highest expectations.

Yours Very Respectfully,
CHAS. J. COULON
Secretary Y. M. B. A. of Lafourche.

Hall of the Young Men's Benevolent Association of Lafourche.
Thibodaux, La., April, 3rd., 1902

At a regular meeting of the above named Association held on April, 2nd., 1902, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION.

Whereas, it is generally known that the good Sisters of the Mt. Carmel Convent located in our town, in their great zeal for the moral and mental education of our daughters, and for that matter all the young ladies who may elect to receive same, have caused to be built a large and beautiful building, which stands among the finest edifices dedicated to the education of young ladies in this State, and

Whereas, the debt necessarily incurred by the good sisters is so large that it has become evident to all that the payment of said dept, in principal and interest, is a task beyond the ordinary and even the extraordinary efforts of their Order, and hence, if no outside assistance is extended to them they will have to default, and

Whereas, many of our public spirited and charitable citizens, through the medium of our local paper, the Thibodaux Sentinel, are endeavoring to raise a fund to come to the assistance of the good sisters of the Order of Mt. Carmel, in this, the hour of their great need, and

Whereas, this Association recognizes and appreciates the great benefits accrued to this community by the maintenance therein of a good Convent School in the past, we feel that it is our duty to aid in maintaining for ourselves said advantages, and assure to our descendants and future fellow citizens like advantages.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Young Men's Benevolent Association of Lafourche, that we hereby tender to the Mt. Carmel subscription column of the Thibodaux Sentinel our check, drawn against the Special Funds of this Association, for the sum of One Hundred ($100.00) dollars, to be used towards the extinguishment of the construction debt now resting on the Mount Carmel Convent, of Thibodaux, Louisiana.

desertion, but despite violence and hatred, treason and apostasy the victory of the risen Christ progresses still and his empire is extending into every widening areas as people after people are added to the church of God and give in their adhesion to his saving faith. And which king is served as he is served? Whose will is done as his will is done?

He asks worship, and behold both day and night in the silence of the sanctuary a sweet chant of perpetual praise rises like incense to his throne. He asks love and the choicest, purest tenderest hearts that earth can boast spurp the affection of the world to give to him the precious tribute of their undivided love. He asks renunciation and the strongest ties of love and friendship, home and country snap like flax and the skies of distant lands and the haunts of poverty misery and disease are gladdened by the cheering presence of his faithful followers, because they see beneath the grossness of the savage, the rags of the pauper and the revolting squalor of the plague stricken the devoted forms of his cherished poor. He asks sacrifice and behold legions of brave souls from St. Stephen outside the walls of Jerusalem to the latest victim of infidel fury in the valleys of China step forward in the intrepidity of their heart's best blood with undying devotion to his hallowed cause.

Yes my brethren well may we say today that Christ our King lives and reigns and commands, and that he has extended and consolidated his empire on earth in the past in spite of every obstable that satanic hate could inspire and human malice reduce to fact, so will he maintain that empire to the end of time in spite of the assaults of hatred heresy, infidelity and indifference.

These are the blessed motives of the resurrection and this is why we are gathered around the church's altar today. Whilst hearkening to the voice of our mother the church as she bids us rejoice in the victory of her divine spouse, shall it be said of us alone that the discord of our hearts prevents us joining in the universal hymn of melody that is going up to the throne of God today. Shall it be said of us alone that we refuse to bring into the practice of our daily lives the divine precepts of our risen King that we persist in leading lives which will render null and void for us the inestimable fruits of which the ressurection is the gracious pledge. Ah no. let it not be so, let us turn to that divine conqueror to day and in accents of loving supplication cry out. Speak O divine conqueror of death and hell. Speak by the power of your victory. Add yet another triumph to the victories which are thine today. Conquer our haughty rebellious hearts, Fascinate our fickle souls with the beauty of thy doctrine, make us generous soldiers in thy goodly cause; teach us obedience to thy commands, teach us to spend our energies in thy service, teach us unswerving fidelity to thy doctrine until the shadows of life shall fade and conflict ceases and death is dead. And when life is all but ended and life's battle is done, come to us on our dying beds, come to us in thy sacraments as thou comest to the weary watchers of the lonely limb, O come to console our troubled hearts throbbing on to the silence of death. And when our souls put off for the shoreless land of eternity. Be thou who didst die for our redemption and didst rise for our justification our guide to the great white throne of God where a favorable sentence await us as the reward of our fidelity, a sentence which is to crown our felicity for the endless ages of eternity.

Cut Off News.

Mrs. Lee Head of Yokena Miss. is visiting with her mother Mrs. G. Aubribat. She came via Donaldsonville where she had been visiting with relatives.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed at St. Rosiare church by the Rev. B. G. Durand, and a large concourse of people were in attendance.

The announcement was made that the pews would be sold on Easter;

The people here are very fortunate in having the servicies of so good a man as the good father Durand. He is beloved by all of his parishioners, for his notable charities, and for the example of a life spirit in the real service of the master.

In rain or sunshine as he may always be seen about the master's work. Generous to a fault, he is always ready to give his last dollar to relieve the sufferings of some one in need.

In order not to miss an opportunity of speaking a comforting word, to some one in distress, his visits to the sick are almost as regular as those of the paid physician, and when the angel of death hovers near, he is ever there to prepare the parting soul to meet its maker and to speak words of comfort to the ones left behind. So considerate is he of the feelings of his people, most of whom are poor, that he asks no contributions beyond what the rules of his church exact, and in some cases these are returned. As his necessary expenses are largely met from money raised from the sale of the pews, we hope that this year it will net a goodly sum.

Two parties of Illinois capitalists visited the Cut Off this week and went below to look at rice lands with view to purchasing. In fact some of them were so well pleased with the prospects that they bought some land before looking at it. One of the parties owns 11,000 acres and proposes to commence work this year to prepare for a rice crop next year.

There is a good stage of water in the bayou now for the rice crop but the planters have not commenced sowing yet.

Now is the time to order your Spring suit, don't wait until the prettiest patterns are "sold out", place your order now to be delivered when you wish. Chas. A. Badeaux's clothing agency.

The Dixie Dramatic Club Scores a Big Success.

On last Monday night at the Opera House a play entitled, "Uncle Rube" was admirably presented by the Dixie Dramatic Club which is composed of a number of our young ladies and young men. A large audience greeted the young actors who acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner.

The play Uncle Rube was a good drama and admitted of good clever acting. Mr. Charles J. Aucoin impersonated Uncle Rube and acted the part of a hay seed to perfection. He displayed much genius as an actor and was greatly admired. Mr. Eugene Coulon as Deacon Smaily did some exceptionally good acting. His splendid conception of the part which he took of was remarkable and elicited much well deserve applause throughout the whole performance. Miss Clara Bergeron as Maria Bunn, a charming widow played her part with much naturalness—the chief characteristic of a good actor.

Miss Beatrice Coulon as Milicent Lee, a school teacher, looked as sweet as a picture and impersonated her part in a very skillful manner. Mr. Reginald T. Badeaux as Gordon Gray, a young artist and the lover of Milicent Lee acted his part very nicely. Mr. Guy J. Knobloch as Mark, a promising young rascal, was very good. The scene where he pleaded with Milicent Lee for her love was exceptionally well done. Miss Gertrude Folse as Taggs, a little waif from New York captured the audience with her "cute" ways and sayings.

Mr. Paul Coulon, as Upson Asterbilt, a New York swell was very good. Notwithstanding that his part was very difficult he did splendidly.

Mr. George Webre as Ike, the hired man, did some clever acting and received throughout the evening a large share of applause. Mr. Emile J. Aucoin as Bill Tappam, a constable, and James Bourg as Bub Green, a young rustic presented their parts very creditably. The vocal solos by Messrs Aucoin, Knobloch and Webre were much enjoyed by the audience, as well as the acrobatic feats of Messrs. Roth and Ducasse.

The music which was furnished by the young men's orchestra under the leadership of Mr. E. N. Roth Jr. deserves special mention as it proved one of the highly entertaining features of the evenings entertainment. The members of the orchestra were as follows. Messrs E. N. Roth, Jr. V. J. Knobloch, Henry Braud, Hamilton Boudreaux, Frank Ducasse and Phil Naquin and Mrs. Dr. L. E. Meyer.

The very seccessful rendition of "Uncle Rube" by the Dixie Dramatic Club is due in a great measure to Mr. Jos. A. Trone, under whose able and skillful direction the play was prepared and presented. Mrs. Dr L. E. Meyer, acted throughout the rehearsals as chaperonne and has placed her club under many obligations to the for the valuable assistance given them.

The club has every reason to feel gratified over the results of its efforts and the encouragement received.

We hope that the members who compose the Dixie Dramatic Club will resolve themselves into a permanent organization. Such a club cannot but prove of inestimable benefit to its members as it would provide instruction as well as amusement.

We understand that the club has signified its willingness to present "Uncle Rube" in Houma on the 13th. of this month for the benefit of the Catholic Church at that place.

This is indeed a laudable and praiseworthy move on part of the members of the club.
