Wednesday night last Fenwick's Hotel was the scene of a gay party, and "bright lamps shone over fair women and brave men." The following morning the scene was changed, and all of the dancers were lying, stricken down with a bullet through the brain. At about 10:30, A. M., a party of young men were gathered in the hotel sitting-room. Mr. William Hayden was examining a Hopkins & Allen, $30 call-revolver passed him from Mr. William H. Ford, and Mr. Leonard Abell was looking on. Suddenly, the weapon was discharged, and Mr. Abell fell forward with a bullet through his head, the ball having struck him just above the left eye. The wounded man was hastily moved to a bed-room. Dr. A. Jack Spalding and Rev. Father McSweeney were called in and all that was possible was done. At about 12 M. Mr. Abell died. On Friday his remains were taken to St. Aloysius church where Mass was said and an appropriate sermon preached by Rev. Father Jenkins. The remains were then taken to Newtown graveyard and interred. The Leonardtown folks, of which organization the deceased was a faithful member, attended the funeral with a burial their late comrade with military honors. Mr. Abell was a good and popular gentleman, and his sudden and untimely end is a subject of sincerest regret to all who knew him. May he rest in peace!

Thursday evening, an inquest was held, Justice Camalier, Coroner. The jury was as follows: Thomas Boyd, foreman, J. T. M. Haley, William F. Greenwell, I. B. Dawson, Robert L. Gattton, George R. Brewer, J. Lawrence Jones, Philip H. Dorsey, C. W. Arnsworth, P. O. Morgan, J. Felix Fenwick and William H. Jones. Witnesses were examined and in accordance with the evidence the jury adjudged the shooting to have been accidental.

Answers to the Egg Problem.
Messrs. Editors:—I think the egg problem, in your last issue, is quite easily solved. When the farmer sold two baskets of 30 eggs each, the first at 3 for a cent and the second at 2 for a cent, realizing 25 cents for the 60 eggs, he sold the same number of each grade, but when he put all in one basket and sold 5 eggs for 2 cents he sold 30 eggs at 3 for a cent and 34 eggs at 2 for a cent, or in the proportion of 3 to 2, of the 60. Thus, 30 eggs @ 3 for 1 cent equals 10 cents; 30 eggs @ 2 for 1 cent equals 15 cents; total 25 cents. But 60 eggs @ 5 for 2 cents is, 30 eggs at 3 for 1 cent equal to 10 cents; 34 eggs at 2 for 1 cent equal to 17 cents; total 27 cents. Give us something more difficult. P.
Great Mills, Md.

Mr. Editor:—As a solution of the "egg question" presented in your last issue, I beg to submit the following:
In the first sale, 30 eggs, as stated, brought 15 cents, or 1 cent each; and the other 30 eggs brought 10 cents, 1 cent each, which, combined, equals 5-6 of one cent for 2 eggs, or 25 cents for 60 eggs.
In the second sale, the farmer received 2 cents for 5 eggs, which is equal 4-5 of 1 cent for 2 eggs, or 24 cents for 60 eggs.
Now then, the difference between 5-6 of one cent (the amount received for 2 eggs in the first sale) and 4-5 of 1 cent (the amount received for 2 eggs in the second sale) is 1-60 of one cent—just the amount the farmer lost on every 2 eggs by the combination sale, which equals 1 cent on the 60 eggs and thus accounts for the "missing penny."
As a mathematical demonstration we have:
1 plus 4 equals 5-6 equals 2 eggs, first sale; 2 divided by 5 multiplied by 2 equal to 4-5 equal to 2 eggs, second sale; then 5-6 minus 4-5 equal to 1-60 equal to difference in 2 eggs equal to 1 in 60 eggs.
Very Respectfully, &c.,
Washington, D. C.
Z. SAMSON.

A Woman's Discovery.
"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Letz. Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a true trial bottle at Wm. J. Eiden & Co.—"

Commissioners' Court.
OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
ST. MARY'S COUNTY,
December 28th, 1887.

Messrs. Editors BEACON:—In accordance with a preamble and resolutions, introduced by Mr. William H. Dawson, and passed by the Board of County Commissioners at a meeting held on the 27th inst., I herewith forward you a copy of the resolutions together with a statement of the standing of the Road Appropriation of 1887, from May 1st, 1887, to January 1st, 1888, for both of which the Board requests an insertion in your columns without delay.

PREAMBLE.
Whereas, We, the newly elected Board of County Commissioners, have found upon investigation of the Road Appropriation of 1887, that it is in a most appalling condition, there being, in round numbers, between $275 and $300 deficiency of 1887-78, remaining unpaid; about $750 Road Deficiency of 1887 on Rough Levy List of 1888 for which certificates have been issued; about $900 Road work on file not paid, with possibly from $300 to $350 work performed but not yet reported, aggregating in round numbers from $2,300 to 2,500, whilst there remains only about $800 of the appropriation of 1887, unexpended, with which to pay this excess:

Resolved, That we deplore this unfortunate state of affairs and lavish expenditure of the public's money and hereby request our Clerk to prepare a statement showing the standing of the Road Appropriation of 1887, and send it with a copy of these resolutions to the St. Mary's BEACON and St. Mary's Enterprise with the request to publish the same without delay.

Resolved, That we commend the energy of our Clerk in preparing data and furnishing information of the affairs of the office to our Board and hereby return him our thanks for the same.

STATEMENT:

which sum, [$2527.35] is amount due for work on roads since May 1, 1887, and remains unpaid Jan. 1, 1888. The amount of excess over appropriation for 1887, on January 1, 1888, is, $1707.74.

You will please publish the above Preamble, Resolutions and Statement and greatly oblige

LOCAL WISE AND OTHERWISE.
Remember to date your letters, receipts, &c., 1888.
A happy and prosperous New Year to one and all.
Read the advertisements in our present paper and profit by them.
Thursday and Friday were thus far the coldest days of the season.
Monday, Fenwick's Hotel was the scene of an enjoyable Leap Year party.
Biscoe says that he spent "a very dull Christmas." He has now been in jail over a year.
Belles with beautiful leaux may now pop the all important question, for it is leap year, you know.
Our Town merchants express themselves well pleased with the amount of business done during the holidays.
On the 9th instant, the Court of Appeals will resume its session and it is presumed will hand down its decision in the Biscoe case.
In our present paper appears the Winter Schedule of the Weems' Lane. Read it and time your visits to Baltimore accordingly.
In our present paper we begin the publication, on our first pages, of a serial story which we hope will prove interesting to our patrons.
Our Legislators have taken up their abodes in ye Ancient City and in the next Beacon we expect to begin reporting their work.
A partial eclipse of the sun was booked for January 1st. The bad weather deprived our local astronomers of a view of the phenomenon.
With its issue of the 3rd instant, the Baltimore Herald began the publication of an interesting reminiscence of the "War between the States."
The young ladies and gentlemen who came home from boarding school for the Christmas holidays, have all returned to their respective "seats of learning."
Since our last issue the matrimonial market has enjoyed a decided boom. To the happy couples we extend our sincerest wishes for a prosperous married life.
Sandy Gordon, of Park Hall, challenges Buster, owned by J. Bean Tippett, for a match race for any distance over 300 yards. Purse, $10. Race to take place on the 7th.
Moving day has come and there have been many changes throughout the county. Subscribers to the BEACON having changed their postoffice address should notify us at once.
The singing of the choir of St. Aloysius Church Christmas Day was all that could have been desired and the members, one and all, deserved the thanks of the congregation.
A petition is in circulation asking the Sue company for a weekly steamer from Baltimore to this place. If a boat can be obtained Capt. Geoghegan has expressed his willingness to run it.

Fish and oysters, in Brittan's Bay, are dying. Dead eels, millers' thumbs and shoulers may be seen floating around the shores. We have heard no satisfactory explanation of the cause of the mortality.

A few days before Christmas, in an affray with drogers at Millstone Landing, Mr. Frank Knott had his hand severely cut and one of the drogers is reported to have been seriously injured. We have been unable to learn the particulars of the affair.

This week, the ever welcome letter of our St. Inigo's correspondent failed to materialize. We hope our kind friend is in good health, has enjoyed a happy Christmas, will have a prosperous New Year and will not let another week pass without letting us hear from him.

On Friday, Dec. 28th, two tenement houses on the home farm of Mr. J. Frank Ford, Medley's neck, were destroyed by fire. One of the buildings was occupied by George Combs, colored, who lost nearly all of his household goods. Mr. Ford's loss will be about $300.

In his sermon last Friday, on the occasion of the burial of Mr. Leonard Abell, Rev. Father Jenkins remarked, that "two lessons are to be learned from this sudden death. One, to be always prepared for the summons; the other, to avoid the carrying and careless handling of fire-arms." May his words bear fruit and fall not upon deaf ears.

January 3, 1888.

Messrs. Editors:—I had the pleasure of attending the Christmas festivities, Dec. 26th, at school No. 3, 7th election district, under the management of Miss Lizette Blackstone, and by way of an item of news will give you a short account.

One of the school-rooms was very prettily decorated with evergreens and notices suitable for the occasion, with a large Christmas tree in the centre well filled with sacks of "good things." At 2 P. M. the folding doors were thrown open, and to the music of "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," rendered by Huseman's Band, the children, about 60 in number, marched in two and two and took their places around the centre of attraction. The children sang a "Christmas Greeting," which was very pretty, and sung in almost perfect tone, after which the distribution of the bags began, each scholar coming forward, as the teacher called their name from the roll, and bowing their thanks. After the distribution, a song again was sung, at the ending of which Dr. R. P. Blackstone called for Mr. W. H. Dent, former teacher remarks him with a handsome cake-basket and butter-dish as token of esteem from his old pupils. Mr. Dent was most graciously surprised, and responded in a few words of thanks and appreciation of the gift. The music again struck up and the scholars were soon enjoying themselves dancing, every one wearing upon their faces childhood's smile of perfect happiness. The company dispersed at 5 P. M. and will always have pleasant recollections of this happy Christmas festival.

[COMMUNICATED.]
NEW HAVEN, CONN., Dec. 23rd, 1887.

Messrs. Editors:—In glancing over the columns of your paper of the 22nd, my eye lighted on an article from the pen of the Hon. Benj. G. Harris, in which are expressed sentiments from which I beg leave to differ. The article is a labored attempt to show that an analogy exists between the actions of a portion of the Northern people in resisting measures that were adopted before the late war, and those committed on the part of persons who have been termed Anarchists.

The analogy, it seems to me, is forced and ill-founded. No parallel exists between the two cases. In the one case it was the protest of a people against the execution of laws which they deemed wrong. In the other case it was an attempt by a gang of lawless, political filibusters to dethrone all law and order—to demolish one of the best political organizations in the world.

The Northern people considered slavery to be wrong—in principle—no law enacted by civil authority could make it right. The South generally admits the same thing to-day. When these laws were enacted that tolerated or were designed to perpetuate slavery, the people of the North, through their representatives, took part in the enactment of those laws, protested against their execution. And they were right in this protest. Under our form of government laws are made by the people who are designed to be their representatives, though these representatives may be such men as Webster, Clay, Cass and Dickinson were, that are wrong or unjust in the eyes of the people—the people have a right to utter their protest against such laws. This is what was done when the fugitive slave law was enacted. The people of the North considered that act to be wrong, because it was a toleration and sanction of an institution which was regarded by them as wrong in its very principle. They cannot then justly be termed Anarchists; if so, then any one who protests against the wisdom or justice of any laws that are in vogue among us are equally deserving the epithet. Those who may be dissatisfied with the present tariff system, or the currency system, or any other economic system in vogue among us, may as justly be termed Anarchists.

On the other hand, the action of the Chicago Anarchists was a deliberately planned attempt to overthrow our government. They were malcontents of Europe who brought to this country their hatred of monarchical oppression and attempted to wreak their unreasonable vengeance upon a government, the model of the world, in principles of which they were grossly ignorant. Our government opened her arms to welcome the oppressed of the earth and they in turn would stab her for it. The oldable of the man and the viper that he found nearly dead from cold and which having revived by his fire would sting him to death, received a fresh illustration. I say that when that gang of Anarchists murdered seven innocent men engaged in the discharge of their official duties and cruelly maimed and mangled sixty others, they struck a blow at the government, because the police were the government's representatives.

The two cases are entirely different and all attempts to treat them as parallel cases must be futile.

Mr. Harris calls attention to a resolution that was adopted by the Common Council of Chicago about 1853, after the fugitive slave law had been enacted, and then proceeds to show that their representatives them to be ranked with Judas Iscariot.

It seems to be the idea of Mr. Harris that when a law is enacted by civil authority, that that law is sacred, and must not be disobeyed, no matter what its purpose. If this be so, then Judas Iscariot was guilty of no crime. He rather obeyed both the religious law of the Jews and the civil law of the Romans. All blasphemers must be put to death; and Jesus, who was a blasphemous Jew, obeyed the law of his people. Herein consisted his sin. On this Common Council proceeded to enact a civil law which it considered held up the moral law as written on the hearts of men as that to be obeyed. It was just the opposite of Judas.

The law which it considered held up the moral law as written on the hearts of men as that to be obeyed. It was just the opposite of Judas.

Why not, Messrs. Editors, call the quarrels between the North and the South a quarrel between the good and the bad? Why continue to harp upon a question that in every land should be buried and thus keep alive feelings of discord that should not exist? "The North and the South have embraced each other again, and why not let us do all we can to tighten this embrace, rather than revive old issues that tend to engender hard feelings towards our Northern brethren?"

What Am I To Do?
The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappy but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, also, he has an excellent appetite for eating, but never for solids of any kind. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order. His bowels are either constipated or a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and headache and acidity or distention and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.—

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach, and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. It is sold by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Sull, Druggist, Bippis, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Harter, Druggist, Baltimore, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 30 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their names to the list, and the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Wm. J. Eiden & Co.—

The question has often been asked why it is that Dr. Morgan sells so many goods. The answer is because he keeps first class goods and sells them cheap. Solid facts.
