The Bulletin.

From the Address of Democratic Congressmen

Let there be no dissensions about minor matters; no time lost in discussion of dead events; no manifestation of narrow or proscriptive feeling; no sacrifice of the cause to gratify personal ambition or resentment.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS—STATE-AT-LARGE,
GEN. WILLIAM B. ANDERSON,
Of Jefferson County.

FOR STATE TREASURER,
CHARLES RIDGLEY,
Of Sangamon County.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
CHARLES FEINSE,
Of Peoria County.

FOR PENITENTIARY COMMISSIONER, (LONG TERM.)
GEN. FRANCIS T. SHERMAN,
Of Cook County.

FOR PENITENTIARY COMMISSIONER, (SHORT TERM.)
THOMAS RAYMOND,
Of Adams County.

FOR CONGRESS XVIITH DISTRICT,
COL. JOHN M. CREBS, of White Co.

FOR SENATOR, 1ST DISTRICT,
S. K. GIBSON, of Gallatin County.
THOMAS A. E. HOLCOMB, of Union Co

FOR REPRESENTATIVE—1ST DISTRICT,
H. WATSON WEBB.

FOR SHERIFF,
ALEXANDER H. IRVIN.

FOR CORONER,
JOHN H. GOSSMAN.

COL. CREBS is now canvassing Pope county. He will make large gains in that strong Radical county.

A KILOMETRE is a few inches more than 1,093 of our yards. Five kilometre are about three miles.

GOV. CAMPBELL, of Wyoming territory, has received leave of absence, "so that he may come East and take part in the political campaign in the West."

BRICK POMEROY has retired from the New York Democrat. He is one of the men who pretend to be simon-pure Democrats, a denouncer of every person who does not accept his foolish, ultra, South, exalting and North-depreciating platform. He can be spared.

DELANO and Boutwell have a slight misunderstanding. Delano is willing to accept the Secretaryship of the Interior if he may name his successor in the office of Commissioner of the Internal Revenue, the position he now holds. Boutwell objects. If the President listens to Boutwell, Delano will fly off the handle, and if he listens to Delano, Boutwell will go back to Massachusetts. Let the kettle boil.

A CHICAGO Republican paper calls Lew Campbell's election in the Third Ohio District the defeat of an unpopular Republican, and adds: Much, too, of the Democratic success in that district, is attributable to the fact that Mr. Vallandigham has, for two years past, quietly counseled the acceptance of the results of the war, and been, perhaps, the only Ohio Democratic leader who has thoroughly shaken loose from the Bourbonism of the party. He was a strong Chase man in 1868, and is understood to be one yet.

GARIBALDI'S SPEECH AT BENSANCON.

On the 16th inst., Garibaldi was received at Bensancon with enthusiasm. He reviewed a large force of Gardes Mobile, and made the following speech:

"Soldiers of France, I see you, gallant battalions, the nucleus of the army of the United States of Europe, and the army of law. The monarchies of the old world are condemned. They are in arms to-day for the last time. Monarchy in Europe fell at Sedan and is dying forever before Paris. I see among you not Frenchmen only, but Europeans; not Europeans, but men. In your ranks American volunteers, the soldiers of Washington and Lincoln, the immortal, invincible enemies of despotism in every form, are fighting by the side of the sons of the Rhine and Loire. Italians are hastening over the Alps. Republican Spaniards are hastening off the Pyreenees to battle with; you not against Germany, but against monarchy; not against a people misled, but against the princes who misled all peoples. From all parts of France thousands of young braves are hastening to the field of action. France, yesterday bowed in sackcloth to the earth, looks to-day, clad in arms, proudly up to heaven. With France Europe will rise rejuvenated. You are fighting for the freedom of a continent, for the rights of humanity. Onward! to the Vosges!

"MORGAN'S RAID."

Joel G. Morgan, Esq., a few days ago, in a quiet sort of way, visited Jackson county and made several Democratic speeches to large audiences. That he accomplished a great deal of good work is evident from the fact that he left all the principal Radicals of Carbondale choleric—almost bursting with rage. Barton, of the Eye, was only restrained from attempting suicide by the knowledge that he is more comfortable in this world than he can hope to be in the next; and so he did the next best thing—he fell to scolding like a drab, calling Morgan names and howling like the whangdoodle that fled to the mountains of Hepsidam and knawed a file.

And more: He has misrepresented Morgan's speech, and told the most shameful falsehoods. For instance, he declares that Morgan said, at Grand Tower, that "Dan Munn is the most unmitigated scoundrel on the face of God's earth." Morgan did not use this expression, and to assert that he did is unfair. He knows that there are scoundrels on the earth more unmitigated than Mr. Munn. Mr. Munn is not an unmitigated scoundrel, and far be it from us to assert that he is any kind of a scoundrel; but we do assert, and shall maintain the assertion against the world in arms, that if he is any kind of a scoundrel, he is a mitigated scoundrel of remarkable ability.

THE CHICAGO REPUBLICAN.

The Chicago Republican, under the new mangement, is manifestly a grand success. While it has been reduced somewhat in size, and greatly in price, the quantity of reading matter remains about the same—certainly has not been diminished.

The matter is of the freshest and most readable character and is arranged in a style of artistic excellence not to be questioned. Every department of the paper is complete; the matter is presented in the most acceptable manner; the locals are spicy, pert, piquant; the editorials able and scholarly and the selections most judicious. All of this would have been understood, however, had we remarked at the outset, that J. B. McCullough, and Mr. Reed, formerly of the Cincinnati Enquirer, are members of the company that have the management of the Republican in charge.

The price of the Republican is only three cents per copy. It was a bold venture the Republican company made—the publication of a cheap paper in the West; but success has vindicated the soundness of the judgment that urged it. During the few days it has been published it has secured a circulation never before obtained by any daily paper in Chicago.

Over 2,500.

The Democratic victory in Indiana is more complete than even the most sanguine friends of good government believed it would be. THE MAJORITY ON THE STATE TICKET IS OVER TWO THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED, and we have gained several members of Congress.

The result was obtained in despite of the most laborious efforts of the Republican leaders to retain the State in the Radical ranks:

Morton visited New York six weeks before the election and obtained from the national Radical corruption fund one hundred thousand dollars, all of which was used to debauch the public mind and corrupt electors.

A short time before the election a United States officer—one of General Grant's political instruments,—appeared in Evansville, opposite a part of Kentucky thickly settled with colored men, and sent out runners with advertisements stating that a large amount of money was due to colored men who had rendered military services and were living near Owensboro, Henderson and in neighboring portions of Kentucky, that if they would make their appearance at Evansville on the 11th of October, election day, or a day or two before that date they would receive their pay. The consequence was, that at least four hundred Kentucky negroes were in Evansville on election day, and voted the Radical ticket. The Democrats could do nothing. They were intimidated. Sixty-two Deputy United States Marshals, appointed for the occasion, stood at the polls protecting the illegal Radical voters and driving away legal Democratic electors. And in other parts of the State the same tactics were resorted to; but, nevertheless, the Democrats have come out of the battle victorious with over two thousand five hundred majority!

Munn's Record.

A CHAPTER OF BAD FAITH AND PERFIDY.

Party Fealty Sacrificed to Personal Ambition—His Treachery to Gen. Raum Proven, and Fastened upon him by Reputable Republican Witnesses—Read and be Convinced.

SOME time ago, we asserted that Mr. Munn had acted a treacherous part with Gen. Raum in the canvass of 1868, and had, while professing to be one of his supporters, worked in an underhanded way to secure the General's defeat.

This charge raised a storm of indignation among the Republicans, and the press of that party in this district, denounced it as false and demanded the evidence on which it was made. We now propose to lay that evidence before the public, and invite to it the attention of all citizens who reprobate treachery and dishonesty.

The citizens of Cairo remember Captain Robert Clark, who, at one time, held the position of clerk in the post office of this city. He is a Republican, devoted to the cause of that party, and his word is as good as his bond. During the war he served with credit in the army, and participated in many of the most sanguinary battles of the conflict. A few days after the charge of treachery to his party had been made in THE BULLETIN, the Sun newspaper of this city flatly contradicted it. This contradiction was called to the attention of Capt. Clark, who replied to it as follows:

CLARK'S LETTER.

New Harmony, Indiana, July 31, 1870.

DEAR ——: Yours of the 27th just received. * * I have read the article in the Sun, to which you called my attention. I would like to know if Mr. Munn authorized the editor to make that statement. It he did, he is a willful liar.

Just after Gen. Raum had been nominated in '68, Dan. Munn was talking to E. W. Munn and myself one day inside the delivery, and told us that if Raum was elected, all would be kicked out of office, but if Raum was beaten, Gen. Logan would control the offices in the district and we would keep our places, and in other ways endeavored to induce us to vote against Raum. Please have Mr. Munn's attention called to the above conversation, and see if he will deny it publicly. If he does deny it, I will make affidavit to the statement. * * Truly yours,

ROBERT CLARK.

Hearing that Mr. Munn's friends were asserting that he had not been untrue to his party obligations, and had supported Gen. Raum in good faith, Capt. Clark made the following affidavit:

CLARK'S AFFIDAVIT.

State of Indiana, Posey county:

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned, clerk of the Posey circuit court, Robert Clark, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that, during the political campaign of the year 1868, Everett W. Munn, himself and others, were filling positions in the post office at Cairo, Illinois; that, during the said canvass, to-wit, in the fall of 1868, the Hon. Daniel W. Munn, who is now the Republican nominee for Congress in the Thirteenth Congressional district, did approach the said Everett W. Munn and his wife, and EXERTED HIS INFLUENCE TO INDUCE THEM AND OTHER ATTACHES OF SAID POST OFFICE TO CAST THEIR VOTES AGAINST GENERAL GREEN B. RAUM, then the Republican candidate for Congress, saying, substantially, that, if the said General Raum was elected, all of you, meaning the said Everett W. Munn, himself and other employes of said post office, will be kicked out of your situations, but if Col. Crebs, General Raum's opponent, is elected, you, meaning the said Everett W. Munn, himself and others, as aforesaid will keep your places, because, in the event of said General Raum's defeat, General Logan will control the offices in the Thirteenth district, and will not remove you. And further this deponent saith not.

ROBERT CLARK.

State of Indiana, Posey County:

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned, clerk of the Posey circuit court, in said county and State Robert Clark, who, being by me duly sworn, says that the matters and things set out in annexed affidavit over his signature are true in substance and in fact. I further certify that said Robert Clark is a good citizen of this county and ENTITLED TO FULL CREDIT AND BELIEF.

In witness whereof I have hereto set my hand and the seal of said court at Mount Vernon this Sept 20th 1870.

[SEAL] WILLIAM NELSON, Clk

But Captain Clark's evidence does not stand alone. It is corroborated by one of his fellow clerks, Morris B. Wiley, another Rebublican, who fought through the war of the rebellion, and whose veracity is above suspicion. Read it:

WILEY'S AFFIDAVIT.

State of Illinois, Alexander County:

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned, a Notary Public in and for the said county, Morris B. Wiley, of the city of Cairo, who, upon his oath, deposes and says, that, some time during the month of October, 1868, he was approached by Mr. Everett W. Munn, a relative of the Hon. D. W. Munn, the present Radical candidate for Congress in the Thirteenth Congressional district, and informed that IT WAS THE DESIRE OF THE SAID D. W. MUNN, THAT THE EMPLOYES OF THE CAIRO POST OFFICE, (in which capacity deponent and the said Everett W. Munn and others were then acting) SHOULD VOTE AGAINST GEN. GREEN B. RAUM, who, at that time, was the Radical candidate for Congress, because the continuance of the said deponent and others in their situations in said post office depended upon the defeat of the said Gen. Raum. And deponent further says that THE SAID EVERETT W. MUNN, AT THE SAME TIME AND PLACE, DECLARED THAT THE SAID D. W. MUNN HAD INFORMED HIM THAT, ALTHOUGH HE DESIRED THE DEFEAT OF THE SAID GEN. RAUM, his position was such that he not only could not PUBLICLY operate against him, but would be compelled to vote for him.

Further this deponent saith not.

MORRIS B. WILEY,

[Seal.] Sworn to and subscribed before me this 30th day of August, A. D. 1870.

H. H. CANDEE,
Notary Public.

Here is the evidence. Who can doubt it? Mr. Munn knew that if Gen. Raum should defeat Col. Crebs, the strongest man the Democracy could put in the field, he would be enabled to retain his leadership of the Republican party in the Thirteenth district, and would be renominated in 1870; and that, if Col. Crebs should beat him, the General would be placed on the shelf, and that Mr. Munn would be enabled to secure the Radical nomination for Congress. In order to secure this result he treacherously worked to defeat the candidate of his party, and while he was professedly the friend of Gen. Raum, was, sub rosa, a bitter enemy of his. Will the people of this district elect a man so destitute of principle? Can any honest Republican give a man so dishonest countenance and support?

CAMERON AND CHANDLER.

A Radical Paper Denounces Them.—"A Pair of Political Rummers."—What Influence Did They Bring Upon the President?

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

The report, which we were at first inclined to discredit, that Secretary Cox has resigned his position, at the behests of a few disreputable politicians, who insisted on their right to levy taxes on the clerks in the Interior department for part of our party, is not to be true. For the first time in our national history, and, let us hope, for the last, a Cabinet officer has been compelled to resign his place because he would not allow it to be turned into a sponging house. Cameron and Chandler, who are said to have been at the head of Mr. Cox's persecutors, are a pair of high political bummers. In point of usefulness to the party, to say nothing of any other species of usefulness, they are not for a moment to be compared with the quiet, industrious, and high principled Secretary of the Interior. No sagacious political manager would swap the latter for the two former. Both Cameron and Chandler have been skilful and fortunate in navigating the political current so as to keep in good places themselves, but neither of them added to the party strength one vote more than he repelled. In accomplishing the removal of Secretary Cox, for the reasons alleged, they have done both the party and the President the greatest possible injury. Cameron nearly ruined one Republican administration, in the short space of nine months, and he will ruin any other that he is allowed to have any influence with.

What influence or argument the politicians who pounced upon Secretary Cox brought to bear upon the President to procure his removal, we cannot conceive. It is quite impossible that Mr. Cox would have retired at such a crisis unless it had been intimated by his chief that his resignation would be accepted. General Grant is not the man to throw over his subalterns, except in the direst emergency. We suppose that Cameron, Chandler, and all the rest of the rabble, after all other means had failed, told him that if he did not put out this insubordinate Secretary of the Interior, they would bring their States up against him in the next nominating convention. That is the usual resort and last threat of the high political bummer, and the less likely he is to control his State delegation, the more freely, as a general thing, will he be to claim the power to do so.

How Pope Pius Received the News.

During the five hours of the late conflict at Rome, which decided the fate of that city, his Holiness did not betray unusual emotion. In appearance he was calm and even gay. He walked up and down the hall, occasionally stopping at one of the windows to look on the scene without. Whenever the staff officers came in with news of the fight he asked what was the cause of the flame here, the smoke there. Occasionally he knelt and prayed. Once he suddenly started from his knees and asked anxiously whether there was any danger of shells falling on the Vatican. Count di Carpegna, the messenger of Gen. Kanzler, was ushered into the presence of the Pope. He told his Holiness that his sad mission was to inform him that in Gen. Kanzler's opinion resistance was no longer possible. The Pope looked at Cardinal Antonelli and after a few minutes' silence, said: "Your Eminence was right; it cannot be helped. I have been abandoned by Catholic Europe and I must yield. Never mind. My glorious predecessor, Pius VI., and myself were once forced by the revolution to leave this place, but we both returned. Revolutionary Italy and her revolutionary King surround me and the Ecumenical Council with their bayonets. I must yield." Turning then to Count di Carpegna, he said: "Go and tell Gen. Kanzler to capitulate; make haste." Scarcely had he uttered these last words when Count Arnim stepped forward and offered to accompany Gen. Kanzler to the Italian headquarters at Villa Tavion's. "Thank, Count; I accept [illegible]" three days the representative of Prussia may obtain better terms. Your help will secure this result at least," added his Holiness.

SAPOLIO

The superiority of this excellent preparation over any other article ever offered to the public has been demonstrated by the wonderful popularity it has attained within the brief year since it was first manufactured. Not less than

One Million Housekeepers

are using Sapolio in this and other countries, and the demand is rapidly increasing.

Bath brick, cotton stone, cold and lye are no longer necessary in the household, since Sapolio does the work of each and all these, and a hundred times better and cheaper.

The following are a few of the special uses for which Sapolio is admirably adapted:

TO CLEAN WINDOWS—Without wetting carpets or soiling the paint. Take a soft cloth, not dripping, rub it over the cake of Sapolio until it is covered with a creamy lather, and then briskly over the pane of glass; clean off and polish with dry lather cheesecloth. To remove varnish or dried paint will require a little extra rubbing.

TO CLEAN KNIVES—Use your dishcloth, rub it on the Sapolio, and then rapidly over the knives. Two or three will give a brilliant and durable polish, without scratching.

TO POLISH TIN, BRASS, and other Culinary Articles—Apply the damp cloth on the cake of Sapolio, and well cover it, and then quickly over the surface of the utensil. It will produce a lustre equal if not superior to new.

TO CLEAN PAINT AND WOOD-WORK—Use Sapolio as above, or dissolve one bar in hot water, and finish with cloth in clean water.

FOR HOUSE CLEANING—Sapolio is one of the greatest aids in the saving of time, labor and the wear of the other utensils. Try it once and you will never be without it.

FOR WASHING DISHES, Bath Tubs, Floors, Tables, etc.—Where soap was formerly used Sapolio is invaluable and once used, will never be dispensed with.

REMOVES STAIN FROM MARBLE.

IN THE HOUSE—For all purposes (except washing clothes), this article is convenient, economical and reliable.

IN THE STORE—For polishing scales, measures (tin, brass or copper), knives, shears, etc.

IN THE SHOP—For cleaning, polishing and removing gums, oil, etc., from machinery and tools.

IN THE OFFICE—of the surgeon, dentist, civil engineer, painter and engraver.

IN ALL PLACES where a cleansing and polishing agent, at once effective, economical and harmless, is required, our Sapolio will prove its great superiority over all other substances.

FOR HAND WASHING—Sapolio is just what every painter, painter, photographer or machinist needs. It quickly removes acids, paint, ink and other stains from the hands, which soap will not touch. It softens the hands and leaves them smooth and white.

and all diseases arising from malarious causes

St. Louis, Mo. July 18th, 1870.

Messrs. JAMES A. JACKSON & CO.—Gentlemen: The undersigned having recently had the opportunity to test the value of the various compounds known under the name of "Stomach Bitters," wishes to compliment you upon the happy combinations of remedial agents which constitute your "Home Bitters." Upon being first made acquainted with the receipt of your preparation, I was at once convinced that its use would prove highly beneficial to all those who stand in need of a similar article, and since I have observed its effects in my private practice, I can only recommend it as the best tonic now offered to the public, one whose invigorating properties will be of equal advantage to the invalid, the convalescent and the well. C. GERICKE, M. D., 913 Franklin Avenue.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 12, 1870.

It gives me pleasure to add mine to the many testimonials shown me in regard to the worth of the "Home Stomach Bitters." I have used them and examined the formula of which they are composed, and pronounce them the most agreeable Bitters and best stomachic I have ever tried and would recommend them more especially in miasmatic regions as an anti-periodic. JOS. E. LYNCH, M. D

Dr. DRAKE McDOWELL, late President of the Missouri Medical College, under date of July 15th, 1870, authorizes us to say, he has examined the formula for the preparation of the "Home Bitters," and finds it composed of the most valuable vegetable tonic known to the Pharmacopoeia. The combination he regards as excellent, and the process of manufacture such as to derive from the ingredients the full strength of their valuable properties. He further says: "You may refer to me as indorsing the 'Home Bitters' as a mild anti-periodic stimulant, of great value in miasmatic regions."

St. Louis, July 7th, 1870.

Messrs. J. A. JACKSON & CO.,——Gentlemen: Having used your "Home Bitters," and seen the effects on others, examined the ingredients used in their composition, I am satisfied that, aside from their containing nothing injurious, they are the best I have ever tried. It is with pleasure that I recommend them to all persons desirous of taking bitters. JOHN T. TEMPLE, M. D., Prof. Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Homœopathic College of Missouri.
