

Saint Mary's Beacon.

LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY Morning, June 14th, 1888.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

For President:

GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

For Vice President:

ALLAN G. THURMAN, OF OHIO.

Elector of Large:

JAMES HOBBS, HENRY PAUL.

District Electors.

W. S. ROBERTS, I. G. MOALE,
J. G. BERRY, R. C. COOMES,
W. N. SMITH, H. W. TALBOT.

For Congress 5th District,
Hon. BARNES COMPTON.

The St. Louis Convention has done its work well and the party is satisfied. That CLEVELAND and THURMAN a stronger ticket could not have been named. The ticket ought to win and if Democrats do their duty will win. To work, and victory will crown our efforts.

PLEASE ALL PATRIOTS.—The ticket nominated at St. Louis pleases not only every Democrat, but all those who think more of their country than they do of party.—Philadelphia Herald.

A GOOD SOUND.—The ticket is a magnificent one. Cleveland and Thurman sounds well, too. It is the strongest ticket that could have been made, and the whole country will approve the nominations.—Syracuse Courier.

THEIR HANDS FULL.—With Thurman on the Democratic ticket, the Republicans of Ohio will have their hands full in keeping that State in the line in November. They will not be able to devote much time to Indiana.—Washington (N. J.) Gazette.

A MESSAGE OF REASON.—The tariff plank is a declaration that appeals to the reason of intelligent men. Against the present tariff laws is brought the charge that they deny the people equality and justice. Is not this so? Are not the few getting rich while the many remain poor? If these laws were intended for the benefit of the workingmen, why does it happen that the capitalists can take what is said to belong to the workingmen?—Troy Press.

AN OPPONENT'S TRIBUTE.—There is certainly no living representative of the Democracy who has rendered that party better, truer, braver service than ex-Senator Thurman. During his long career in the Senate he came to be regarded as the type of the highest order of Democratic statesmanship. A sound lawyer, an able debater, a profound constitutional student and an honest man, he stood by his party and defended it in its darkest days.—Albany Express.

THURMAN'S AGE.—There are older men than Mr. Thurman in active public life in America. He was born Nov. 15, 1813, which will make him 75 years old next fall. Senator Payne of Ohio is nearly three years older, and Senator Morrill, of Vermont is his senior by three years and a half, as also is Justice Bradley of the United States Supreme Court. Judge Big Iron Kelley of Pennsylvania, "The Father of the House," is only five months younger than Mr. Thurman.—Rockster Union.

READY FOR THE FIGHT.—The Democracy of the United States has completed its stand and taken its position in line of battle for the November contest. Its personal claims upon the consideration of the American people were never so great, its moral stand never so strong as in this instance, and with Grover Cleveland and Allen G. Thurman as its candidates, and a flatfooted declaration in favor of the most needed reforms of the day, no Democrat need fear for the result.—Chicago Herald.

T. Harrison Garrett, of Baltimore, manager of the banking firm of Robt. Garrett & Sons, was drowned in the Patuxent River, Thursday. His yacht, the Gleam, in which he and a party of friends were coming to Baltimore from Annapolis, was run down off Seven Post Knell, by the Steamer Jappa and sunk, being struck amidships and almost cut into. Mr. Garrett was the only one lost. His body was not recovered until Tuesday.

CLEVELAND AND THURMAN.

The Democratic National Convention assembled in St. Louis, Tuesday, June 5th inst., and at 12:30 p. m., was called to order by ex-Senator Barnum, chairman of the Executive Committee. Hon. Stephen M. White, of California, was chosen temporary chairman and on entering upon his duties, delivered an appropriate address. After selecting the committees, and transacting other necessary business the Convention adjourned for the day.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

At 10:22 a. m., the convention was called to order and several resolutions were offered, among them being the following:

Resolved, That this convention approves of and hereby endorses the principles of the tariff reform initiated by President Cleveland—[loud and uproarious applause]—in his first message to the present Congress and to the policy recommended by him for the practical application of those principles to the administration of government we give our unqualified and universal support. [Loud cheers.]

The Committee on Credentials and Organization submitted their reports which were adopted. Gen. Patrick Collins, of Massachusetts, was recommended for permanent Chairman and, upon being presented to the Convention, made an eloquent and stirring speech. After transacting some miscellaneous business Hon. Daniel Dougherty, of New York, was recognized, and placed before the Convention "a name entwined with victory"—nominating for the Presidency, Grover Cleveland, of New York. Several other short speeches were made, when the roll of States was called and amid the greatest enthusiasm, Grover Cleveland was renominated by acclamation, and an adjournment was taken until Thursday morning.

THIRD DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

At 10:30 on Thursday morning the convention met and prayer was offered by Rev. R. G. Brank, of St. Louis. Mr. Watterson, of the committee on resolutions reported the following as THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party of the United States, in national Convention assembled, renews the pledge of its fidelity to Democratic faith, and reaffirms the platform adopted by its representatives in the convention of 1884 and endorses the views expressed by President Cleveland in his last, earnest message to Congress as the correct interpretation of that platform upon the question of tariff reduction and also endorses the efforts of our Democratic representatives in Congress to secure a reduction of excessive taxation. Chief among its principles of party faith are the maintenance of an indivisible union of free and independent states, now about to enter upon its second century of unexampled progress and renown; devotion to a plan of government regulated by a written constitution strictly specifying every granted power, and expressly reserving to the states or people the entire ungranted reserve of power; the encouragement of a jealous popular vigilance, directed to all who have been chosen for brief terms to enact and execute the laws and are charged with the duty of preserving peace, ensuring equality and establishing justice.

The Democratic party welcome an exacting scrutiny of the administration of the executive power which four years ago was committed to its trusts in the election of Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, and it challenges the most searching inquiry concerning its fidelity and devotion to the pledges which then invited the suffrages of the people. During a most critical period of our financial affairs, resulting from over-taxation, the anomalous condition of our currency and a public debt unexampled in its history, by the adoption of a wise and conservative course, not only averted a disaster, but greatly promoted the prosperity of the people.

It has reversed the improvident and unwise policy of the Republican party touching the public domain, and has reclaimed from corporations and syndicates alien and domestic, and restored to the people nearly one hundred millions of acres of valuable land, to be sacredly held as homesteads for our citizens.

While carefully guarding the interest to the principles of justice and equity, it has paid out more for pensions and bounties to the soldiers and sailors of the Republic than was ever paid before during an equal period. It has adopted, and consistently pursued, a firm and prudent foreign policy, preserving peace with all nations, while scrupulously maintaining all the rights and interest of our government, and people at home and abroad. The exclusion from our shores of Chinese laborers has been effectually secured under the provision of a treaty, the operation of which has been postponed by the action of a Republican majority in the Senate.

Honest reform in the civil service has been inaugurated and maintained by President Cleveland, and he has brought the public service to the highest standard of efficiency, not only by rule and precept, but by the example of his own untiring and unselfish administration of public affairs.

In every branch and department of the government, under Democratic control, the rights and the welfare of all the people have been guarded and defended; every public interest has been protected, and the equality of all our citizens before the law, without regard to race or color has been steadfastly maintained. Upon its record thus exhibited, and upon the pledge of a continuance to the people of the benefits of Democracy, it invokes a renewal of popular trust by the re-election of a chief magistrate who has been faithful, able and prudent. To invoke in addition to that trust by the transfer also to the Democracy of the entire legislative power.

The Republican party, controlling the Senate and resisting in both houses of Congress a reform of unjust and unequal tax laws, which have outlasted the necessities of war, and are now undermining the abundance of a long peace, deny to the people equality before the law and the fairness and the justice which are their right. Then, the cry of American labor for a better share in the rewards of industry is stifled with false pretenses, enterprise is fettered and bound down to home markets; capital is discouraged with doubt, and unequal, unjust laws can neither be properly amended or repealed.

The Democratic party will continue, with all the power conferred to it, the struggle to reform these laws, in accordance with the pledges of its last platform, endorsed at the ballot boxes by the suffrages of the people. Of all the industrious freemen in our land, the immense majority, including every tiller of the soil, gain no advantage from excessive tax laws, but the price of nearly everything they buy is increased by the favoritism of an unequal system of tax legislation. All unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation.

It is repugnant to the creed of Democracy that by such taxation the cost of the necessities of life should be unjustifiably increased to all our people. Judged by Democratic principles, the interests of the people are betrayed when, by unnecessary taxation, trusts and combinations, are permitted to exist which, while unduly enriching the few that combine, rob the body of our citizens by depriving them of the benefits of natural competition. Every democratic rule of governmental action is violated when, through unnecessary taxation, a vast sum of money, far beyond the needs of an economical administration, is drawn from the people and the channels of trade, and accumulated as a demoralizing surplus in the national treasury. The money now lying idle in the federal treasury, resulting from superfluous taxation, amounts to more than one hundred and twenty-five millions, and the surplus collected is reaching the sum of more than sixty millions annually. Debanded by this immense temptation, the remedy of the Republican party is to meet and exhaust, by extravagant appropriations and expenses, whether constitutional or not, the accumulation of extravagant taxation. The Democratic policy is to enforce frugality in public expense and abolish unnecessary industries and enterprises.

It is in a political sense a creature of circumstance; my guiding star, duty, and as some members of my party, while expressing a preference for me, think others would make stronger candidates, I incline to their belief and am resolved to show to them and the public that I have no ambition, save and except that of a faithful performance of duty, by stating in advance I will not accept the honor of the Republican nomination for Congress, if tendered to me.

In this connection it may not be out of place to add that Mr. D. C. Hammett is spoken of in connection with the position. I shall use my best endeavors to secure his nomination, not only because he is a county man, but because he is a gentleman of integrity and honor, and eminently qualified for the position and, if nominated, I will do all to secure his election that I could have done to secure my own.

Though never ambitious for political preferment, I shall always feel and take an interest in politics whether County, State or National, because upon the honest and an unselfish interest of upright citizens, depends the safety of American institutions.

Permit me in this, my declination, to thank the members of my own party for the warmth and earnestness with which they have seen fit to advance my claims; also numerous democratic friends throughout this Congressional district who have, in advance, promised their votes and substantial support.

FRANK N. HOLMES.

DECLINATION.

Messrs. Editors:—Sometime ago gentlemen eminent in the Republican ranks advised me of the fact that I was their choice for the Republican nomination from the 5th Congressional district and requested the use of my name in this connection. This was granted. It was conceded, at the time, that the Hon. Barnes Compton would be nominated by the Democratic Congressional Convention. If a nominee of the Republican party, I would have preferred to have opposed Mr. Compton because, unless oversight is fled, and prejudice overcome, such a man cannot command the support of Democrats in favor of popular education, having been a party to the diversion of $1,200,000 of the public school money, of which there is record, and those in favor of free inspection, having left his influence in the interest of the old system.

Besides the free-trade or "tariff for revenue only" element don't admire Messrs. German and Compton on this issue. It is claimed that they measure up too near to the Republican idea. Such Democratic might not support the Republican nominees, but many of them will not support Mr. Compton. I have not, however, positively against Mr. Compton's reelection and force the conviction that this gentleman who electioneers not as a statesman, but upon promise of office, paltry positions, will not receive the Democratic strength of the district. If any further proof were needed, it could be found in his own recent efforts to gerrymander the State to make the 5th District safe for himself.

Since my connection with the Republican party, I have striven to uphold and maintain its principles because I believe them right—because I feel they mean, not only in words, but in reality, equal rights, equal justice to all classes and conditions of men, and in doing so, I have given an earnest and unqualified support to every nominee of my party, whether County, State or National.

I am, in a political sense, a creature of circumstance; my guiding star, duty, and as some members of my party, while expressing a preference for me, think others would make stronger candidates, I incline to their belief and am resolved to show to them and the public that I have no ambition, save and except that of a faithful performance of duty, by stating in advance I will not accept the honor of the Republican nomination for Congress, if tendered to me.

In this connection it may not be out of place to add that Mr. D. C. Hammett is spoken of in connection with the position. I shall use my best endeavors to secure his nomination, not only because he is a county man, but because he is a gentleman of integrity and honor, and eminently qualified for the position and, if nominated, I will do all to secure his election that I could have done to secure my own.

Though never ambitious for political preferment, I shall always feel and take an interest in politics whether County, State or National, because upon the honest and an unselfish interest of upright citizens, depends the safety of American institutions.

Permit me in this, my declination, to thank the members of my own party for the warmth and earnestness with which they have seen fit to advance my claims; also numerous democratic friends throughout this Congressional district who have, in advance, promised their votes and substantial support.
