The Cairo Evening Bulletin.

OFFICE: No. 13 Tenth Street, Thornton's Building.

DAILY EDITION — TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 8, 1870. — JOHN H. OBERLY & CO

The Illustrious Dick Yates, senator from Illinois, is again reported to be in a very light costume, and on a low diet of pickled cabbage. The moral example of the illustrious Richard is working more good than the senator could do in any other way. He is not the man to withdraw his moral influence from any field of official usefulness, which accounts, in a measure, for his frequent drunken sprees.

The etiquette of the White House under Grant, or under Mrs. Grant, is a subject of a great deal of laughter and not a little swearing. It exceeds in ceremony and in exclusive self-importance that of any monarchical Court in Europe. Even when ladies of the highest accomplishments call, they are left standing in the vestibule, until a military looking cuss has sent in the card. What would be that of the etiquette of any gentlemen's house if, when ladies call, instead of being shown into the drawing-room, they were left standing in the entry untill the lady of the house takes time to dress, or to respond to the call? But then Grant is not a gentleman, and his house is a den of the most vulgar snobbery.

AROUND-ABOUT-CAIRO.

JOHNSON COUNTY ITEMS.

[From the Vienna Artery, 5th.]

Johnson county is loosing $100.000 a year for want of a railroad.

Our Court House contractor says the House will be ready for December term

Our jail has had but one permanent tenant for any great length of time for two years and is now entirely empty. We are glad to know that such is the case and hope it may continue so.

Butter is selling in the market at 25 cts per pound and is very scarce, eggs, also are scarce and selling at from 15 to 20 cts per doz, other eatables are selling at very good prices.

The Odd Fellow and Masonic fraternities have purchased several acres of ground near E-q. Ragain's, where they intend establishing and fitting up a cemetry.

There is some talk of having a Normal School in Vienna, of three months during the coming Spring and Summer. This can be gotten up provided there can be enough teachers and others to make a good class. The aim will not be only to teach some few of the higher branches, but to take the scholars through a complete drill in all branches, from spelling up to the highest branches that may be desired. Any of the teachers or young men or ladies who may wish to enter such a school should address the editor of this paper soon and let us know the fact.

The Teachers, Institute began its session on last Wednesday, at about ten o'clock by electing R. M. Fisher President, and Mr. Boomer Secretary. The session was harmonious and interesting at every coming together, and the teachers were taken through a complete drill in spelling, reading, writing arithmetic, geography and english grammar. Two night sessions were held for reading, declamations and singing. These night sessions were attended by our citizens, and they were highly entertained. Some of the exercises were very amusing and brought down the house. We have heard a great many express themselves well satisfied that it was the best Institute held here in a long while.

MASSAC COUNTY ITEMS

[From the Metropolis Times, 5th]

After a great deal of labor, and the employment of an "immense" number of competent and able "census-takers," who have been working very assiduously for the past "sixty days," we are prepared to lay before our readers a list of the number of business houses, inhabitants, etc., of Metropolis. For instance:

Number of groceries	21
" " distinguished physicians	13
" " dry goods houses	8
" " saloons	10
" " Shoe stores	6
" " Drug stores	5
" " Livery stables	3
" " Flouring mills	4
" " good looking, marriageable young ladies	0003

There will be held a "Teacher's Institute" at this place on the 16th, 17th and 18th of March. A union of the teachers and an interchange of ideas on the best method of instructing the rising generation will be fraught with great good to all. The programme promises a very interesting feast for all who attend.

Our respected citizen, A. Cutting, Esq. closed a contract for a wharf boat at Cairo, a few days ago—to be 301 feet long—for Messrs Hinde & Co.

Metropolis is moving along. Capital has been coming to our place and each month brings more. That great drawback-want of capital will soon be removed, and then comes the millenium for Metropolis. We have been needing a bank for years past, but it will be a need no longer. An old citizen of our place is going to return and establish one here in about three weeks, and from his known abilities we have no fears of any failure on his part to do what he proposes.

PULASKI COUNTY ITEMS.

(From the Mound City Journal, 5th.)

The first lettuce of the season made its appearance in our market the present week. It was a nice article, and was raised in the garden of Mr. Louis Westphal, near this city. Mr. Westphal is a thorough and enterprising gardener.

Harry Walke and Tom Moran went to Cairo last Saturday in a sail boat. Harry concluded to return by another route and Tom started back with the boat. The latter had fine sailing until he arrived off the mouth of Cache river, when a sudden squall struck the boat and capsized her. Tom succeeded in saving himself by clambering upon her bottom. The current was very swift and he drifted down opposite the St. Charles Hotel, Cairo, before he was rescued. The tug of the Cairo coal company, Montauk, finally went to his relief and towed him ashore. Tom says the river water is cold now.

Mr. Tho's Crawford has been relieved of his position as principal of the public schools in this city. His successor is C. E. Streeter, a gentleman possessed of fine education and thoroughly competent in all respects for the place to which he has been appointed. The board of directors might have gone far without finding a man better qualified.

The question now most agitating the public mind is stated as follows:—What is the interest on $25 for 105 days at six per cent. per annum, counting 365 days a year? A noted banker of Cairo has given three different decisions on it. A couple of gentlemen of this city have staked twenty dollars on the matter.

The Illinois Central Railroad is fortunate in selecting conductors for its Southern division. Putnam, Morgan, Cormick cannot be beaten. Put is likely soon to be placed on the St. Louis division, running from Effingham. We hope, however, he will remain where is, among his old friends.

MISSISSIPPI CO., (Mo.) ITEMS,

[From the Charleston Courier.]

We see by the returns of Mr Brown, the County Assessor for this County, that our total taxable wealth for the year 1870 aggregates $1,199,842.

Thanks to 'Squire' Woodward for a mess of parsnips, six in number, the largest measuring 30 inches and the shortest two feet.

Robbing Death of a Victim.

A Strange and Skillful Surgical Operation.

[From the Cleveland Leader.]

An accident, which nearly proved fatal, took place on the West Side yesterday (January 30th). A little boy ten years of age while innocently playing with a large bean in his mouth, accidently swallowed it, and immediately experienced the most intense pain. The child was immediately taken to the operating rooms of Dr. Weber, where the doctor proceeded to extract the bean. A person not practiced in examining patients in such a condition would have believed the child to be dead. A deadly pallor overspread its countenance, the eyes were glassy and without expression, the muscles all relaxed and respiration entirely suspended. Every appearance indicated that the grim king of terrors had impressed his ineffacable seal upon the young boy. The actual presence of death would hardly have changed the stiffened limbs and whitened features of the youth, who seemed to have been snatched away from his loving and tender parents in a moment of idle playfulness. During a minute and a half the child remained without breathing. All the students surrounded the child in breathless silence, and Dr. Weber proceeded to extract the troublesome bean. It had passed down out of the windpipe into the lung and there stopped.

Dr. Weber began the operation by making a longitudinal incision in the neck just below the Pomum Adami, in vulgar parlance, Adam's apple. His next step was to pass an instrument down through the incision, draw up the bean, and pull it out with a pair of forceps. The child presented every appearance of a lifeless corpse.

After the bean had been extracted the incision was held open by two hooks, and by pressing on the child's chest the air in it was driven out. The blood in the opening was sponged off, and by relieving the pressure on the breast and pressing on the sides beneath the arms air was drawn in through the aperture made by the incision. A mechanical pressure of air was thus established, and by continued efforts the child began to breathe and show signs of consciousness. The colored returned, the eyes received their wonted expression, and the little child whose feet had almost touched the black river of death began to move.

The Radical Party and Press.

A Swooping Descent upon the Prostituted Harper Publications.

(From the New York Day Book.)

Nearly the whole literature of the country is in the hands of a set of men who live, move, and have their being in a cess-pool of literary filth and falsehood. 'Harper's Journal' is a vast receiver of all this literary uncleanness, which empties its filthy contents into the public mind every week. It ought to be kicked out of every Democratic family like some dirty rag. The moment the Democrats begin generally to evince that proper self-respect which will forbid them to patronize any longer the sensidulous literature of their enemies, the public mind will begin gradually to fix the seal of condemnation upon all such unjust partisan literature.

Until Democrats begin to show a proper resentment, this thing will go on, and each generation, will sink lower and lower in the scale of refinement and intelligence. There is no greater foe to society than the man who habitually seeks to prostitute its literature to the base cause of faction and revenge. The highest quality for books and newspapers is that of exact truthfulness, so far as their moral influence upon the society is regarded, at least. Where the press is quite universally a liar, we have no right to expect much purity or justice of feeling in the public mind. The entire Mongrel press of the country is modeled after the bitter malignity of 'Harper's,' and the public opinion, therefore, of that party, is entirely different from the rest of mankind. It is a party which has been educated to all manner of violence and malignity. It burns and scalds everything which partakes not of it own nature. It assails character with the same vehemence that it does the Constitution. It blisters reputation with as much rancor as it strikes at the freedom and sovereignty of the States. —It vilifies a Robert E. Lee, and deifies a Ben Butler or a Dick Busteed. It befouls, with its most venomous filth, the most exalted worth, while it seeks to elevate into conspicuous renown the vilest members of society.—Such creatures as a Joe Holt, a Dan Sickles, or a Dick Yates are in paragons of virtue—Grant is one of the models of sobriety. Sumner is its ideal statesman. Schenck is its patern as a hero. And Kilpatrick, the mule-thief and the plunderer of ladies bedrooms, is the greatest example of a foreign minister. From such an accursed party, and its press, may the good Lord deliver us!
