The Caisson Fog.

In an air lock it is common practice to note that while unlocking—that is, coming through the lock, and as the pressure is being reduced by opening the discharge valve—a fog accumulates, becoming thick as the temperatures and pressure are lowered. The writer at one time was attacked by the bends, or the caisson disease, after coming out of the old Hudson river tunnel. He was promptly taken into the "hospital," which was nothing but a horizontal tank about the size of a common locomotive boiler. The pressure, amounting at that time to some thirty pounds, was admitted, and it acted instantly to relieve pain and to produce normal conditions. He was told to open the throttle valve and let the pressure out so that he might open the door. As he did this he noticed that the temperature was gradually lowered, and at a certain point, known as the dew point, he was enveloped in fog. The pain returned about this time, so that he shut off the discharge valve and opened the cock, admitting compressed air. The fog immediately disappeared, the temperature was slightly increased and the pain stopped. This condition was repeated several times, so that here is a means by which artificial fog may be produced at will. The same physical laws apply in the production of fog as in the condensation of moisture on the exterior of an ice pitcher or on a window pane in winter time.—Compressed Air Magazine.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned intend to apply to the Governor of the State of Florida on the 28th day of January, A. D., 1907, for Letters Patent on the proposed charter, copy of which is hereto attached, the original of which is on file in the office of the Secretary of State, at Tallahassee, Florida.

GEO. F. ARMSTRONG,
JOHN R. WILLAIMS,
W. N. CAMP,
O. T. GREEN,
F. D. M. STRACHAN,
GEO. P. WALKER,
ROBT. W. GROVES,

The undersigned do hereby associate themselves together as a body corporate under the provisions of the statute laws of the State of Florida, and do publish the following articles of incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be "MUTUAL MINING COMPANY." The principal place of business of this corporation shall be at Ocala, Florida, with such Branch offices as may be adopted by the board of directors.

ARTICLE II.

The general nature of the business to be transacted by this corporation shall be: to carry on the business of mining and prospecting for phosphate, and all kinds of minerals and other materials, to erect works, plants, machinery, to search for, prospect and mine phosphate and phosphatic materials and other mineral substances; to crush, wash, smelt, reduce and otherwise render marketable the same; to purchase, lease, sell and dispose thereof, and develop the resources of any such mines and property whether belonging to this company or not, and to carry on the business of a trading company in all its branches.

To carry on the business of phosphate miners and grinders, manufacturers of super-phosphate ammonia, fixed or dissolved guano and other chemical fertilizers, makers and refiners of sulphuric acid and sulphate of ammonia, seed crushers and oil refiners and oil cake manufacturers and importers of and dealers in Peruvian and other guanos, phosphate, nitrate of soda, sulphate ammonia, and similar substances and products.

To purchase and otherwise acquire, build, erect, equip and maintain any mining rights, lands, houses, factories, machinery, rents, rights, privileges, exemptions and property of any description, whether real or personal which may be deemed useful or conductive to the attainments of any of the objects of the company; and to use, manage, develop, let, sell, exchange or otherwise turn to account or deal with or dispose of the same as may be necessary or advisable for the purpose of the company.

To acquire any inventions or the right to use any inventions capable of being used for any purpose connected with any of the business or operations of the company, and to acquire or cause to be applied for and obtained any letters patent or concessions of analogous character in respect of any inventions and to grant and issue licenses for the use of any such inventions upon such terms and conditions as may be deemed expedient.

To sell or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the business, property and assets of the company, and to accept in payment for any property sold by the company or otherwise disposed of, or for work done, services rendered, moneys expended, shares, stocks, debentures, or obligations of any company, and to hold, deal with and dispose of the same.

To purchase and otherwise acquire and undertake all or any part of the business, property or liability of any other company carrying on any business which this company is authorized to carry on, or possessed of any property suitable for the purposes of this company.

To issue shares in the capital stock of this company, either as fully or partly paid up, in exchange for any property or for shares or obligations of any other company or corporation, whether incorporated in the United States or elsewhere, having objects the same as, or similar in whole or part to those of this company.

To amalgamate with any other company, corporation, partnership undertaking or person, with objects the same as or similar to the objects of this company, or any of them, upon any terms, under any conditions or restrictions and with or without guarantees for the performance of any special obligation of any other person or company.

To promote, establish or procure the incorporation of any company, society, partnership or undertaking, and to subscribe or take by way of purchase, security or otherwise, and to offer for public or private subscription or to negotiate the sale of the shares, bonds and obligations of any such company, society or undertaking, and to make any contracts, leases or agreements in relation thereto.

To borrow or raise money for the purposes of the company; to create, execute and issue bonds or debentures, stocks, mortgages and other instruments (to bearer or otherwise, and either redeemable or perpetual) for the securing and repayment thereof, with or without charge upon all or any of the property of the company, and upon such terms as to priority or otherwise as the company shall think fit.

To lend, invest and deal with money of the company not immediately required, upon such security or without security and in such manner as from time to time may be determined.

To raise money upon loans or otherwise for the purposes of the company.

To make, accept, endorse and execute promissory notes, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments.

To purchase, construct, lease, own and operate rail or tram roads, or canals, for the purposes of its own business, but not as a common carrier, having none of the rights and privileges of common carriers; or none of the duties, obligations or liabilities of common carriers; to operate, construct, lease and maintain saw-mills, turpentine stills and plants; to purchase and sell naval stores, foreign or domestic; to construct, purchase, lease and charter steam vessels and other craft to be operated to and from United States and Foreign Countries; to load and discharge cargoes of freight of any kind; to lease, own and operate terminals, warehouses, docks, marine railways and elevators, and to do all classes of stevedoring connected therewith.

To do all such other things as are incidental or conductive to the attainment of the objects of any of them above named, which may be conveniently carried on and done in connection therewith which may be calculated to directly or indirectly enhance the value of or render profitable any business or property of the company.

ARTICLE III.

The amount of capital stock authorized by the corporation will be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided into two thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars per share, payable in lawful money of the United States the same to be non-assessable, and to be issued when the money therefor has been paid into the treasury.

ARTICLE IV.

The term for which this company shall exist shall be ninety-nine years.

ARTICLE V.

The business of this corporation shall be conducted by a President, Vice-President, who shall also be General Manager, Secretary and Treasurer, both of which offices may be held by the same person, if desired, and by a board of 7 directors of whom the President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer shall be members. All of said officers of said corporation shall be stockholders therein and all of said officers shall be elected by the stockholders at their annual meeting to be held on the last Tuesday in December of each year.

George F. Armstrong shall be President.

John R. Williams shall be Vice-President and General Manager.

Robert W. Groves shall be Secretary and Treasurer; and with O. T. Green, William N. Camp, George P. Walker and Frank D. M. Strachan shall constitute the first board of directors, all of said officers to be continued in office and conduct the business of the corporation until the election and qualification of their successors at the first election to be held under the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE VI.

NOTICE.

1906 taxes are now due.

1. Taxes are due and payable on the first Monday of November each year.
2. Personal and poll taxes must be paid at the same time that real estate is paid on, if the assessments are to the same party.
3. If possible come in person to pay your taxes. Paying by mail or through other parties, is frequently unsatisfactory.
4. When you come to pay your taxes bring a description from your deed or latest tax receipt, of what you wish to pay on.
5. Don't wait till last few days of time to pay, then expect the best service either by mail or in person. The rush is then on and delays are unavoidable. You must take your turn as it comes.

You must have your property properly assessed, if you wish to avoid trouble in payment of taxes. The collector cannot alter the valuation or description of assessments found on the tax books.

E. L. CARNEY,
11-9-tf Tax Collector.
