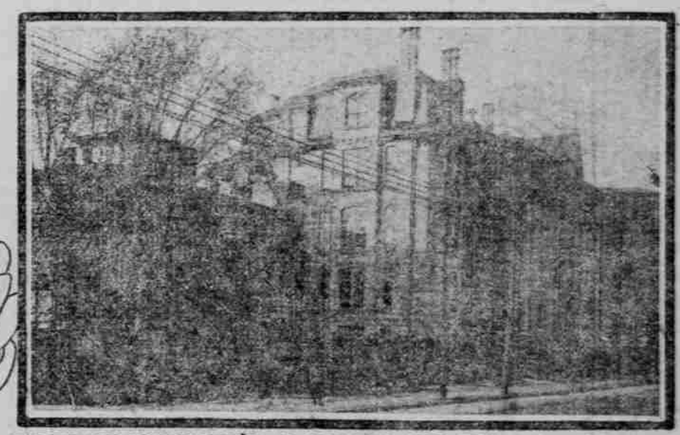
Doctors Use Orphans for Medical Research Experiments

ORPHAN SUBJECTS OF TUBERCULIN EYE TESTS. KITTY LOGAN - LITTLE CATHERINE AND AGNES MORGAN.

ARCHBISHOP PATRICK J. RYAN. PHOTO BY GUTEKUNST.

ORPHAN GIRL WHOSE EYE-SIGHT WAS IMPAIRED BY EXPERIMENTS PHOTO BY McGARVEY.



ST. VINCENT'S HOME IN PHILADELPHIA

DR. ALFRED STENGEL. PHOTO BY GUTEKUNST. DR. JOHN M. CRUICE. PHOTO BY GUTEKUNST.

HELPLESS CHILDREN MADE VICTIMS OF MEDICAL SKILL

160 Little Ones Without Parents Are Used for Experimenting to Determine What Effect New Discoveries Will Have On Patients In Position to Protect Themselves From Such Treatment—Children Are Made Very Ill.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30.—As the result of investigations made in this city, it has been revealed that 160 children inmates of Blockley, the great Philadelphia hospital, and of St. Vincent's Home for Orphan Children, mostly very young infants and even babies less than a year old, have been used as human "material" for purposes of experimental research by physicians of the William Pepper laboratory of the university of Pennsylvania.

After these experiments were concluded it was announced by the physicians in the archives of Internal Medicine, published by the American Medical association, that the results were such as to render part of the practices unjustifiable in medicine, the experimenters admitting over their own signatures that on beginning the tests they had no knowledge of the serious results their use entailed.

They admitted that permanent disturbance of vision was sure to follow in one of the experiments they had practiced upon an orphan and that one test if pursued might lead even to the destruction of the eyesight.

Friction In Hospital.

The result of this campaign of experimentation on helpless, destitute and orphan babies was to bring about friction between the management of the hospital and the physicians in charge of the medical department, which resulted in the resignation of the entire board of physicians.

The home is under the management of the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, while the physicians were all leading practitioners of this city, skin specialists and experts in eye and children's diseases, from the William Pepper clinical laboratory of the university of Pennsylvania.

The experimental work for which 160 orphan and dependent children were used consisted of inoculating or "instilling" into the babies Koch's theories, would determine whether there would result a "reaction," which, according to one of the latest medical theories, would determine whether the patent was suffering from tuberculosis.

Little Ones Tortured.

These tests were applied in four ways: Tuberculin was instilled into the eyes, was rubbed on the flesh of the child in the form of ointment, injected subcutaneously and in the fourth or sacrificial [illegible] bovine and human tubercuin.

John B. Co[illegible] secretary of St. Vincent's home, [illegible] reporter that the inoculations w[illegible] made without the knowledge of [illegible] board of directors of the institution. The president of that board is archbishop Patrick J. Ryan, who is known to be opposed to human experimentation.

There are three little girls in St. Vincent's home, orphans, who suffered severely from the eye tests. One of these is like a doll or automaton. The child lustrous eyes. After the tuberculin was placed into her eye, the lid became swollen to large proportions, and fell half way down her cheek. The enormous lid, covering the entire eye, under which pus like matter [illegible] her, taxed to the utmost the skill of the physicians who succeeded the medical board, which had resigned. Agnes Morgan, the second baby, is still suffering from what is termed photophobia, as a result of the eye test. Her eyes are so weak that in order to see she bends down her little head, turns it sideways and frowns.

Child Very Weak.

Little Kitty Logan, the third orphan, is like a doll or automaton. The child is in a very weakened condition physically, and the reporter could not even extract a word or smile from her.

These three children were the especial care of one of the sisters of the institution, who nursed them from the time they were wee babies, and who regards with almost tearful sympathy all the details of their sufferings which resulted from the conjunctivitis test, "which has no justification in medicine."

Dr. Alfred Stenzel, the director of the William Pepper clinical laboratory, and Dr. John M. Cruise, who was the medical superintendent of St. Vincent's home at the time of the experiments, decline to make any statement.

Ex-President Roosevelt To Be Seen In El Paso Soon

PICTURES TAKEN IN THE WILDS OF AFRICA TO BE SHOWN AT THE HAPPY HOUR—NO ADVANCE IN PRICES—SPECIAL MATINEE.

No moving picture that has ever been shown has proved [illegible] popular as those of ex-president Roosevelt which were taken during his hunt in Africa. Only the larger cities over the United States have been able to secure this picture because the demand is so great but after much telegraphing and at considerable expense the Happy Hour theater has secured this picture which will be shown in El Paso Monday and Tuesday only with a special matinee Tuesday afternoon. El Paso people will appreciate the efforts of the management in getting this picture and the fact that in Los Angeles and other cities charged 25 cents for the picture alone, while the prices at the Happy Hour will not be advanced is another feature the theater goers of El Paso will appreciate.

Critics have pronounced this the greatest picture ever taken as it shows the colonel in the act of killing the large animals and in several places it shows where the much beloved American had some narrow escapes from death. It is the only picture ever taken of the interior of Africa. Besides being an interesting picture it is instructive and should be seen by every man, woman and child in El Paso.

Too much cannot be said in praise of this picture and those who witness it on Monday or Tuesday night will witness the greatest treat of their life.

Remember it will be shown only two days, Monday and Tuesday, with the usual high class Happy Hour vaudeville. All new people. A special matinee Tuesday afternoon, admission will be only 10 cents. Two shows nightly, 7:45 and 9 p. m. Admission 20 and 30c.

Be Your Own Barber.

During Removal Sale we offer all "Gillett" Razor Sets at a discount of 58 percent.

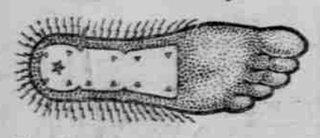
Snyder Jewelry Co.

One-fourth off on all Watches, except R. R. Watches.

Snyder Jewelry Co., 208 Texas.

Electropodes

To Cure--No Pay



We will not give you a lecture on the wonderful curative powers of electricity, but if you have Rheumatism, nervous headache or other nervous ailments or anything wrong with stomach, liver or kidneys, go at once to your druggist and get a pair of ELECTROPODES.

We don't simply guarantee they will cure you, we still do better than that. To insure you against any uncertainty, we have arranged with your druggist to sign a legal, binding contract with you, agreeing to return the money if they fail to cure. You know your druggist, you know his name on a contract makes you sick, then WHY don't you try a pair of ELECTROPODES. If they cure, one dollar. If they fail to cure, they cost you not one cent.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send $1.00 direct to the WESTERN ELECTROPODE COMPANY, 257 Los Angeles Street, Los Angeles, California, and they will see you are supplied. Mention your Druggist's name.

Outlook For the Baseball Season In the Minor Leagues....

OF MINOR LEAGUES.

	Opening date.	Closing date.
Eastern league	April 21	Sept. 25
American association	April 13	Sept. 25
Southern league	April 14	Sept. 17
Pacific coast league	March 30	Nov. 6
Western league	April 22	Oct. 3
New England league	April 22	Sept. 10
Northwestern league	April 23	Sept. 25
Tri-state league	May 4	Sept. 7
New York State league	May 4	Sept. 17
Three-I league	May 4	Sept. 18
Western association	April 13	Aug. 16
Pennsylvania league	April 28	Sept. 5
California State league	April 7	Nov. 6
United States league	May 1	Sept. 5
Mo.-Ia.-Neb.-Kan. league	May 19	Sept. 7

By TOMMY CLARK.

While the prospects of the teams in the major leagues will be a subject of interest to baseball enthusiasts even if as far removed from the games as is New York from San Francisco, the possibilities of the season of 1910 cannot be reviewed without the minor league situations being sized up.

In the smaller organizations managers of the teams have a harder task than those in the big circuits. The manager of a club in the major leagues can stand pat on his team if he chooses to, but such is not the case within the minors. Every year big inroads are made in nearly every club, and the stars are gobbled up by the big leaguers. When the time comes for the manager of the minor league club to make up his team for the season he has to do some great scouting before he can get together a winning combination. Every year intense interest is displayed in the fights for the much coveted gonfalon in the smaller circuits. In the some thirty odd minor leagues in organized baseball there is represented an invested capital of $20,000,000, and last season over 24,000,000 people attended the games.

In spite of the scattered discussion during the winter to the effect that the American association might put up a firebrand and toss it into organized baseball, there is nothing which would indicate that the minors will not enjoy more prosperity than ever before.

American Association.

In the American association another grand struggle is anticipated. From present indications the second division teams of last season will be heard from this year. St. Paul, Toledo, Columbus and Kansas City have all been strengthened up so much that the first division is beginning to get nervous as to its welfare.

Manager Carr of Indianapolis has succeeded in gathering together an imposing array of baseball talent and by many is looked upon as the one best bet for the flag this season. His material, judging from the records, is classy, but it is on the field and not on paper that strength counts.

The Minneapolis club appears to be just as strong a hitting club as that of last season and a far better fielding aggregati

Columbus has landed many good ones, and Manager Friel figures his team will be in the hunt this season. Manager McCloskey of Milwaukee, whose team finished second last year, has a formidable aggregation to handle this year and says he will make them all hustle to beat it out. Toledo fans are placing their hopes on "Ducky" Holmes, the new manager of the team. Many changes have been made in the St. Paul team since last year, and on paper the club appears stronger than last season.

JOE KELLEY, MANAGER OF THE TORONTO TEAM.

Many critics figure that Danny Shay will give the Kansas City fans a pennant winning team this season. Louisville, last year's pennant winner, looks good on paper. Judging by present indications the hottest race this season in the history of the association is expected.

Eastern League.

As is the case every year, many Eastern League clubs have parted with their stars to the major leagues, but as there is always a plentifulness of good material on hand to whip together a winning combination the loss of these men will not weaken the majority of teams.

Manager John Ganzel and his Rochchester band of hustlers are surely in line for another flag. "Silent John" has corralled many good ones and will make his rival go some to beat him out.

Although big inroads have been made in Joe McGinnity's Newark team since last season he has good material on hand to whip together a winning combination.

Joe Kelley, manager of the Toronto club, has been hard at work with the team since the men started training. Joe tried his best to get Willie Keeler to sign a contract at a fat salary, but "Willie the wee" figures he has many more major league seasons in him. Kelley has many veterans on the team and will surely make a good fight for the banner. Buffalo and Providence are sure to be much stronger than they were last year.

WILLIAM COUGHLIN, PILOT OF WILLIAMSPORT CLUB.

Manager Jack Ryan of Jersey City says he is confident that he will have a first division ball club this season. Ryan has had twenty-four years' experience in baseball and should be able to look out for himself in any deals pulled off.

Although Baltimore made a very poor showing in 1909, Manager Dunn is sure that the Orioles will make a much better showing in this season's race.

Another hot fight is expected in the Southern association. Last year's fight was a good one, and another is in order. The four leading teams of last season have not been weakened to any great extent by the major leagues. Atlanta, winner of last year's banner; Nashville, the runner up; Montgomery and New Orleans, that finished third and fourth respectively, are ready to put up a strong fight.

The outlook for the season in the Tri-state league is most promising. Owners and managers declare that this year's race will be every bit as interesting as the one in 1909. Marty Hogan and his Lancaster team are out to make two straight, but will find strong opposition from Reading and Williamsport.

Intense interest is being displayed in the Western league this season. Last year's struggle was such a good one that it has left a lasting impression. Des Moines, the club that slipped into first position, beating out Sioux City by the narrow margin of two points, has as strong a team as last season and is expected to repeat.

International Chess.

Oxford and Cambridge have at last been heard from in regard to the annual cable chess match with the American colleges. They announce that an official challenge will be forthcoming shortly. The chess players at Oxford and Cambridge have had some difficulty in financing the match and therefore overstepped the time limit for challenging laid down in the deed of gift for the Rice trophy. This has been waived, however, at a meeting of the American Alumni committee. April 22 is suggested as the date for playing the games, which will be six in number.

NEWS FROM SOUTH-WEST EXCHANGES.

"Cold wave kills fruit," states an Arizona dispatch. It usually does.

Although his initials spell "sad," he is not. The last of his name is Upton and he has gone from Tombstone to Honduras, where he has a rich gold mine.

"It wasn't hot at Yuma, it only seemed hot," but notwithstanding, the thermometer this week registered 105, 106 and 102 on three suceeding days.

The proposed prize fight at Tucson during the Cinco de Mayo celebration is not to be, district attorney Benton Dick, of Pima county, having issued an ultimatum to that effect.

The Florence (Ariz.) Blade Tribune has installed a two revolution job and newspaper press.

A Newkirk, N. M., editor owns a linotype, an automobile and is postmaster.

John La Hines, formerly telegraph editor of the St. Louis Republic, is "wrangling with cattle" he says, on the V—I—T range near Magdalena, N. M.

"I drink whisky because it doesn't come thick enough to chew," was the answer received by a Phoenix man from a friend he was endeavoring to reform.

Although the interstate commerce commission has ruled that upper berths shall be cheaper than lowers, a New Mexico editor who recently had occasion to occupy one remarks they are higher than ever.

A Douglas woman who became enraged as a result of the questions of Mrs. C. McDowell, a census enumerator, treated her to a cup of hot coffee. The mocha and java took effect on the left shoulder of the enumerator.

"Frank Rich, El Paso, takes orpheum," announces a Douglas, Ariz., paper. Mr. Rich, however, has recovered. The Orpheum is the Douglas opera house.

Separate schools for negro children are proposed at Phoenix.

The Y. M. C. A. at Bisbee will conduct an assaying school this summer.

Bishop Granjon, of the Arizona Catholic diocese, may establish a boys' college on the Crane ranch near Tucson. He has been offered a site and an endowment of $25,000.

Three of the women clerks in the Tucson postoffice have announced their intention of becoming June brides.

The lantern men and boy John D. furnish the flame and get the fee out at Tempe, Ariz., of late. The power f orthe electric light plant's operation is being used to pump the town's supply of water.

DRINK PURE MILK ONLY.

The kind of milk you drink during the summer has much to do with the health of the children and yourself. If you drink pure milk you will enjoy good health. Pure milk is the only kind sold by the El Paso Dairy.

One-fourth off on all Watches, except R. R. Watches.

Snyder Jewelry Co., 208 Texas.

ROSWELL'S FINANCES A BURNING ISSUE

Name of Mrs. Williamson Is Entered on Roll of Honor. Teachers Organize.

Roswell, N. M., April 30.—As a result of the controversy over the city's financial condition, U. S. Bateman, a local attorney, has advanced the opinion that under territorial laws, the newly elected council cannot be held responsible for the debts inherited by the former council from the preceding council and also the debts left by the last council.

The name of Mrs. J. William Williamson, wife of Dr. J. W. Williamson, of Roswell, has been entered on the national roll of honor in Continental hall in Washington, D. C., the building of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Williamson's name was presented without her knowledge by her home chapter of the D. A. R. in St. Louis.

The Chaves County Teachers' association was organized here, 40 teachers being present.

The officers elected are: C. [illegible] president; Mrs. J. J. Beck, vice president; Miss McNally, of Roswell, secretary; Miss Carrie Childress, of Lake Arthur, treasurer.

George Musgrave has returned from a trip to the head of the Felix, having bought of Frank Strickland 600 cows and steers.

TRAVELING EL PASOANS

May find the El Paso Herald on sale at any of the following places:

NEW YORK—Imperial Hotel News stand; Arthur Hotaling, No. 1 Park Row; Broadway and 33d street; Broadway and 42d street, 1466 Broadway.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Raleigh and the Ebbitt; Columbia News Agency and Nahl News Agency.

CHICAGO—Auditorium, Great Northern News stands, Queen City News stands and Empire News stand.

PHILADELPHIA—The [illegible] News Co., 832 Pearce St., Bellevue, Penn.

PITTSBURG, PA.—The Lincoln and the Schenley Park.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—[illegible]

ST. LOUIS—Planters, The Iroquois, Jefferson Hotel News stands, Southern and [illegible]

KANSAS CITY—News stands.

[illegible] MO.—The Yoma News Co., Hotel Baltimore News stand, Coates House News stand.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—The Hotel Ryan.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—The West hotel.

DENVER, COLO.—The Brown Palace, The Albany, S. Widom and Western News stands.

SEATTLE, WASH.—International News Agency, corner of First avenue south and Washington street; also southeast corner of Second avenue and Cherry street, near Alaska building. Acme News Co.

OAKLAND, CAL.—Amos News Co. wagons. Hale News Co.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS—Louis Book store. At Sam Rosenthal, 336 Houston street.

Visitors Welcome!

The Herald has provided a visitors' gallery especially for the pleasure and interest of its patrons. Come in any time between 12:30 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. and see the best equipped newspaper plant in the west.

The Big Press Runs Between 3:30 and 4:30

No Press Room Secrets About Herald Circulation.

CITY FIRE COMMISSIONERS RESIGN

The El Paso fire commissioners, composed of W. T. Hixson, P. F. Edwards, C. C. Kiefer, W. T. Edwards and Frank Powers, resigned in a body today, but mayor Robinson says he will reappoint them all, as he cannot get better men for the places. The resignations were tendered merely to give the mayor a chance to name new commissioners if he wished.

John M. [illegible], chairman of the police commission, has also tendered his resignation, but will not accept a reappointment. He has decided that he has not the time to attend to such duties, especially while he is engaged in attending to the affairs of the International Water company, of which he is receiver.