STOCKS CONTINUE DOWNWARD COURSE

Sensational Rise of Canadian Pacific the Feature; Bonds Easy.

New York, N. Y., May 15.—Signs of liquidation by traders and other professionals were clearly evident today in the flattened stock market. Before midday Reading, Lehigh Valley, American Can, and several others lost all of an early rise and were quoted under yesterday's lowest price.

Most of today's selling centered around United States Steel which constituted the backbone of the previous day's market. The stock fell to within a fraction of the preceding day's low.

Bonds were easy.

Traders who sold the coalers short in the morning were given a severe twist soon after midday, when the prices of Reading and Lehigh Valley were marked up materially on reports from the coal fields that the outlook was good for an early settlement of the labor troubles.

Reading, which had fallen to 178⅝, climbed to 179⅝, and Lehigh Valley also counted two points above its low level. Canadian Pacific added several points to its recent sensational rise, the price touching 267½.

A further rise in Canadian Pacific to 269 and another upward move in certain of the specialties constituted the features of the early afternoon. The usual market leaders, such as United States Steel, Reading and Lehigh Valley retained much of their rallies of the noon hour.

The market closed irregular.

The last hour witnessed a further bidding up of the low priced industrials, while such standard shares as Union Pacific, United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Reading and Lehigh Valley were selling on a parity with or under yesterday's final quotations.

WHEAT CONTINUES TOBOGGAN SLIDE

Improvement in Reports of Winter Crop the Cause. Corn Steady.

Chicago, Ill., May 15.—Improvement reported in the winter crop outlook, swung the wheat around today to the bear side. The weather in all directions was favorable for growth and in Kansas was said to be ideal. Cables counted also against the bulls. Liverpool sending word of larger shipments promised, especially from Russia and Argentine. Opening prices were ⅛ to ⅝@⅞c down. July started at $1.12⅝ to $1.12⅜, a loss of ⅛@⅞c to ⅝@⅞c, touched $1.12⅜ and declined to $1.12⅜.

The close was easy with July ⅛c net lower at 77 cents.

Delay to planting held corn fairly steady. July opened a shade to ⅛c off at 77 to 77⅛c, rallied to 77⅛@⅞c and then fell back to 76⅞@77c.

Closing prices were weak at $1.11¼@⅜ for July, a loss of 1⅜@1⅝c from last night.

Oats slipped down because of the absence of demand. July started unchanged at 52⅝c, sold at 53 and sagged to 52⅛c.

A call for lard tended to give firmness to provisions. Initial transactions ranged from 5c lower to 2½c advance, with July options at $19.55 for pork, $11.10 to $11.15 for lard and $10.67½ for ribs.
