QUILLIN CASE IS TO BE APPEALED

By Agreement Between Attorneys, Similar Cases are to Await Decision.

Austin, Texas, April 7.—An appeal is to be taken immediately, to the court of criminal appeals in the case of C. C. Quillin, former chief bookkeeper in the controler's department, who was found guilty last night by the jury in the criminal district court and given a term of seven years in the penitentiary.

The appeal will be the result of an agreement reached today between attorneys for the state and those representing Quillin. Under this agreement none of the other cases against Quillin, or the case against Lon Morgan, former tax collector of Johnson county, or the Bruesedow case, will be tried until the court of criminal appeals passes on the Quillin case.

To Pass on Jurisdiction.

The higher court will be asked to pass on the sufficiency of the indictment, and also on the question of jurisdiction of the criminal district court here to try the case.

Quillin was convicted on the charge of being an accomplice and principal to the offense for which Karl Bruesedow is charged, the misapplication of public funds.

Grip and Pneumonia Prevalent in April

The mild April weather usually breeds a large crop of grip and pneumonia victims through undue haste in discarding heavy wearing apparel and the neglect of coughs and colds. The system, frequently run-down from the long strain of winter, falls easy prey to the disease germs lurking everywhere. To guard against grip and pneumonia you fortify your system so it will be able to resist and throw off disease germs.

Internal Hemorrhages of the Kidneys Have Now Entirely Disappeared.

The symptoms of a deranged stomach frequently take the form of headache, backache, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, coated tongue, foul breath, affected liver, kidneys or rheumatism. These symptoms yield readily to the new herbal system tonic, Plant Juice, which is a combination of nature's own remedies, medicinal roots, herbs, barks and berries. Daily testimonials are being received from scores of people telling how they have been relieved from illness of long standing. For instance, Mr. Henry Wagner, who resides on Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, gives the following testimonial. Mr. Wagner is a well-know G. A. R. man, and although 83 years of age, is still very bright and active. He writes:

"Plant Juice has brought about a wonderful cure in my case. I had a very serious affection of the kidneys, with heavy, dull, shooting pains in my back. I had a great many internal hemorrhages of the kidneys. This condition has now entirely disappeared. I was very restless at night and could not sleep. I sleep now the night through and think it is wonderful after having suffered so many years. I certainly recommend Plant Juice to anyone who h[illegible] trouble, as there is nothing like it."

PETER WEHNER DIES ON COAST

Pioneer El Pasoan, Former Owner of Light Plant, Children's Friend.

News has been received in El Paso of the death of Peter Wehner, an old-time resident of El Paso, in the German hospital in San Francisco, Tuesday night, of apoplexy, at the age of 83 years.

Born in New Albany, Ind., in 1844, Mr. Wehner came west in 1871, settling at Santa Fe, N. M., Here he remained until 1882, when he came to El Paso, which was his home up to the time of his death.

Owned Light Plant.

In the early 90's he organized an Edison direct current plant in opposition to the original plant established in the city. He operated this plant for a time and then removed it to Roswell. Some time after he sold out his interest in the plant at Roswell, he interested himself with Z. T. White in the organization of the El Paso Gas, Electric Light & Power company, the beginning of the present gas company. He remained in this company for several years and then disposed of his interest. He then became interested in the mining business in Lordsburg. In more recent years he spent most of his time in El Paso.

To San Francisco.

Mr. Wehner went to San Francisco to view the fair from a wheel chair. He was later to go to Panama, make the trip through the canal, thence to New York and then home to El Paso. He was taken ill in San Francisco, however, and was never able to leave the city. Mr. Wehner traveled extensively. At one time he made a trip around the world, and spent considerable time in Japan and China. He made several trips to Europe.

Loved Children.

Mr. Wehner never married, but was passionately fond of children and was affectionately referred to by all his little friends as "Uncle Pete." He was constantly buying candy and presents for his young friends. On one occasion he bought an entire new outfit of uniforms for the El Paso baseball team because he didn't like the soiled uniforms they were wearing.

To Be Buried Here.

It was his request that his remains be buried in El Paso and the body is now on the way here. Relatives reside in New Albany, Ind., and in Kentucky and New Jersey.

Was a Character.

Pete Wehner was one of the characters of old El Paso. When he was in charge of the electric light plant here he rode about the city in a two wheeled cart drawn by a cow pony, and he knew where every pole and light had been placed. He lived in Bloomington, Ind., at one time and one of the fine things in his life was his friendship for Moses Kahn, a pioneer merchant of that city, about whom he always asked whenever one of the Indiana colony of El Paso returned home for a visit. He lived much alone, yet was always seeking the company of young people, with whom he delighted to talk about the old days in El Paso and the possibilities of the growing city.

"Buy Real Estate."

"Buy real estate, my boy, buy real estate, no matter where it is or in what condition it is in," he told one of his young friends. "You cannot lose and I have seen fortunes made right here by just buying a few sand lots and holding onto them until someone wanted to build a ten story building on them."

"Uncle Pete" was always doing something for his little friends. He would give a box party at the theater for them and would fill the boxes with 12 or 14 of his little boy and girl friends. He would give away candy at Christmas time to hundreds of poor children and never let a barefooted boy pass his favorite seat in front of the Orndorff without giving him an order for a pair of shoes.

"FRECKLES" TO PLAY AT THE TEXAS GRAND NEXT WEEK

James A. Feltz, advance agent for "Freckles," is in El Paso making arrangements for its appearance at the Texas Grand on April 11 and 12.

He says "Freckles" was given a thorough tryout late last spring in the leading high priced theaters of several of the larger eastern cities and was an instantaneous success, drawing crowded houses at every performance and receiving the endorsement of the dramatic critics. Five companies are presenting the play this season.

The scene plot sent in advance to the theater manager gives a pretty good idea of a theatrical offering, as all really first class attractions carry the greater part of their own scenery. The company presenting "Freckles" has requested the local management to remove all of the scenery belonging to the theater from the stage to make room for the scenery, theatrical efects, stage furniture and properties carried by the company.

FLOE COLLINS SINGS HER FAVORITE SONGS BY REQUEST

Floe Collins is as accommodating as she is pretty. When the request was made that she sing "A Little Love, A Little Kiss," she came out before the footlights at the Crawford theater Thursday evening, made a quaint little bow and sang the beautiful ballad in a voice, which is as sweet and liquid as a thrush's song.

Miss Collins has no part in the show, which is given as a vehicle for the vaudeville numbers at the Crawford. She comes out dressed in a becoming gown, with a big red rose at her waist and sings as if she was participating in a concert at the Woman's club, instead of in vaudeville show.

There is some good dancing by two of the young members of the company, more songs and considerable fun in a farm yard.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

OLGA PETROVA—UNIQUE.

Mme Petrova, who was last seen here in "What Will People Say?", "My Madonna" and "The Heart of a Painted Woman," will again be seen on the screen at the Unique today, tomorrow and Sunday in "The Soul Market," a sensational five part Metro wonderplay. In the role of "Elaine Elton," a musical comedy prima donna, Mme. Petrova is seen as a successful star, who becomes weary of the gay life around her, and she views present conditions as fast approaching those that obtained in ancient Babylon, when slave girls were sold in the open market. The situations which follow her awakening are intensely interesting and novel.

"The Soul Market" was written by Aaron Hoffman, the well known author and playwright, who knows his subject thoroughly, having been associated with the theater in New York for the past 15 years. The shows start at 10:45 a. m., 12, noon, 1:15 p. m., 2:30, 3:45, 5:00, 6:15, 7:30, 8:45 and 10 p. m.—Adv.

"THE RACE."

The life of a photodramatic star is a gay one. Recently at the Lasky studio, during the picturization of "The Race," which will be seen at the Alhambra today only, Anita King, "the Paramount Girl," was locked in a garage with her automobile. The exterior of the garage was sprayed with gasoline and the building then set on fire. When the flames began to blaze merrily all Miss King had to do was to crank the car, break down the doors of the garage and drive safely out before the roof fell in. Miss King did all this, but unfortunately the heat from the burning building blistered the film in the camera so that it was worthless.—Advertisement.

TO PRISON FOR LIFE; FAINTS

Mrs. Orner Taken to Train in Wheeled Chair; Protests Innocence.

Protesting her innocence to the last, Mrs. Agnes Orner, convicted of the murder of her daughter, Lillie, by poisoning and sentenced to life imprisonment, was taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville Thursday night in custody of Capt. John V. Cunningham, penitentiary agent. Mrs. Orner was one of 16 prisoners transferred.

"I am innocent," sobbed Mrs. Orner at the county jail just before she was taken to the union depot. "I am innocent and it is hard to go for that reason. My heart is breaking because I haven't my baby. If I had her I would be all right. I did not murder my daughter. They never proved I bought poison. The one who killed her is walking the streets today."

To Fight for Liberty.

After this outburst she quieted down and declared she was not going to break down. "I am going to fight for my liberty and I will never stop until dead unless I'm pardoned. I expect to be pardoned."

County jailer "Buck" Elliott then announced that it was time to go. The door of her cell swung open and she walked out. "I expected to come out of that door a free woman," she declared.

Mrs. Orner and the other prisoners that were to go with her shook hands with the jailers and deputy sheriffs who were assisting in the transfer.

Protests at Patrol Wagon.

When taken to the patrol wagon that was to carry her and the other prisoners to the station, she again revolted.

"I won't go in there," she declared, and braced her foot against the step. She was gently lifted into the wagon, and then the trip began that is to place her behind the bars for life, unless, as she confidently believes, a sympathetic governor grants her a pardon.

Mrs. Orner was dressed in a black silk skirt and a black and white striped waist. Swollen and red eyes gave evidence that she had wept profusely. Thursday was the first time, according to jail employes, that she had broken down since the news reached her that the court of appeals had refused to reverse the decision of the district court.

Fainted at Station.

At the union station she fainted and it was necessary to take her to the Texas & Pacific train in a wheeled chair. On the compartment day coach she sat apart from the other prisoners, although no matron accompanied her to Huntsville. She was not handcuffed and gave no trouble after she boarded the train.

Tried Six Times.

The transfer of Mrs. Orner to the state penitentiary brought to an end a fight for her liberty that had been waged for over five years. In El Paso, Marfa, Pecos, Midland and Van Horn the case had been tried. She was first convicted in El Paso. Then when the court of appeals reversed the decision on a technicality, she was tried four times, with a mistrial in each instance. Then, when the case was brought back to El Paso county in 1915, she was again found guilty and given a life term. Nothing but a pardon will now give her her liberty.

GILA BRIDGE TO COST $16,000; TO HAVE FIVE SPANS

Silver City, N. M., April 7.—What is the longest bridge in southwestern New Mexico and one of the longest in the state, is so far completed over the Gila at Cliff, Grant county, that it is open for foot passengers.

The bridge costs $16,000 and has five spans, three of them of 112 feet each, while the approaches are 20 feet each.

There are in the United States capitol, at Washington, 670 windows which have to be washed 12 times a year.

PRAISE FROM MINISTER'S WIFE

Tells of Her Long Suffering and How She Found Relief—Husband Joins in Commending Cardui.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mrs. Joseph Fry, wife of the Pastor of Jonathan Circuit, Western North Carolina Conference, M. E. Church South, writes:

"About 1890, about fifteen years ago, I had a severe case of Typhoid Fever, and a relapse, which left me in a very bad condition, which got worse all the time. Was so nervous, could not stay in the room alone for five minutes, and I was irregular . . . My nervousness was an awful worry to me and my friends, and I couldn't sleep for four or five nights at a time. The doctors would often have to give me something to make me sleep . . . Could do none of my work and had to keep a cook.

I then began taking Cardui and after I had taken half a bottle I felt I was improving and not so very long afterwards I was able to go to church. . . . After I had taken four or five bottles, I was able to turn off my cook and do my own work, and I got back my correct mental condition, for I had been so nervous and absent minded, since my illness . . . I was also able to return to school and resume my studies and my piano lessons at Trinity College where I was in attendance."

Rev. Mr. Fry writes: "She cannot praise Cardui too highly. It is well worth what it costs. I will recommend it to any lady in poor health."

Can you doubt the merit of Cardui, in the face of such evidence? Give it a trial. All good druggists sell Cardui.—Adv.

Word from the Canadian government stated that the elder Schroeder was sentenced to be shot at Clavet, Sask., March 24, the son to be shot at the same place three days later. The exact nature of their offence against the Canadian government was not revealed in the notices sent here.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against ever-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Kelly & Pollard or the People's Drug Store and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.—Adv.
