

Saint Mary's Beacon.

Local Dettings.

Saturday, December 15, on the road leading from St. John's to the Brick House, a roll of notes, containing about $38. A liberal reward will be paid for information leading to its recovery.

Drudge Captured.

Monday night, Capt. Ching, of the Katie Hines, arrested Captain Holland, of the schooner Annie Crawford, of Crisfield, charged with dredging on Lancaster's bar, Wicomico River. Captain Holland was tried by Justice Jas. Lancaster, of Charles county, adjudged guilty and fined $75 and costs. The fine and costs were promptly paid.

Female Teachers.

Among the positions that are open to women, few are more honorable or remunerative than that of a teacher. Before we had a Normal School, the Baltimore Female College began to train young ladies for teaching and six or seven of the graduates of that institution are among our best teachers. The free scholarship for St. Mary's is vacant at present. For information or a catalogue, address the President, Dr. N. G. Brooks.

Reliable News From New York.

The Morse Building Beekman street, where the Baltimore Sun has its New York office, is one of the handsomest buildings in that city, and is in the business centre of the metropolis. The Baltimore Sun's Wall-street letter and its crisp and compact news letters are written by experienced, intelligent and well-informed correspondents. When a busy man has read these letters, which can be done without wasting time, he will have but little use for the tedious details of the bulky New York papers.

Antient Wills.

The Annapolis correspondent of the Sun says that Mr. Francis Cregar is now engaged at Annapolis in preparing a genealogical and historical index to the will records of Maryland, covering the years from 1634 to 1777, and embraced in forty volumes. Over sixty wills recorded in the first volume contain bequests for the promotion of religion, charity and education, over one-half the testators being members of the Roman Catholic Church. The most important discovery which he has yet made is the fact, fully established by one of the wills in this volume, that a parish of the Church of England existed in Maryland in the year 1645, five years before the arrival of the Rev. William Willinson, the first rector of Poplar Hill Church in St. Mary's county, who came into the province in 1650. Mr. Cregar hopes to complete his index during the next year.

Drowning of Paul Combs.

In its last issue the Beacon noted the arrival home for the Christmas holidays of Mr. Paul Combs. To-day it records his death by drowning. Paul was the second son of Hon. Robert C. Combs, had but little over a year ago graduated, with the highest honors, from the Western Maryland College, and, about seven months ago, at the re-organization of the Maryland Agricultural College had been chosen one of its corps of Professors. The painstaking and thorough manner in which he performed the duties of this position reflected credit upon the college and upon himself and was a bright augury of his future. For him manhood's day was just dawning and Hope gilded with rosy hues life's skies. The future lay all bright before him and every indication pointed to the realization in him of a father's and mother's fondest hopes. All who knew him predicted for him a brilliant career and believed that his life would add additional lustre to his father's honored name. Such hopes, parents and friends cherished for him, but, when the sun of Thursday, December, 27th, 1888, went down, they were blotted out forever. And Friday, the home which a few short days before had rejoiced at a Christmas guest had at its door another and "a fearful guest—the dead."

Man proposes, but God disposes.

"Man proposes, but God disposes." Our young friend has gone before us and though we believe he had kept "the whiteness of his soul," and perhaps needs not prayers, yet "Pray for his soul. More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of. Wherefore, Rise like a fountain for life night and day. For what are men better than sheep or goats That nourish a blind life within the brain, If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer? Both for themselves and those who call them friend!"

The following statement of the unfortunate accident by which Mr. Combs lost his life was furnished us by his uncle, Mr. J. Frank Ford:

Ford and Paul were sailing after ducks. Paul was standing in the bow of the boat ahead of the mast. The sudden jolting of the sail threw him into the water. He immediately sank and never rose to the surface. He wore, at the time heavy gun boots and in the pockets of his shooting coat were a number of loaded shells the weight of which in all probability prevented him from coming to the surface. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock, p. m. in the bend of the shore just below my house and about 300 yards from the shore. Mr. Messrs. Vielt, B. M. Abell, Felix Fenwick, Joseph J. Gough and P. O. Budd, assisted by George Combs, colored, my tenant, until a very late hour of the night after the accident occurred. The search was resumed by these parties and a number of others on the following morning and resulted in the finding of the body about 11 a. m., Friday. There was no disfigurement of the person and Paul looked perfectly natural. The gun which he had in his hands at the time has since been found and also one of his gun boots, both of which were of his feet when he was found. Presumably they were washed off by the water. All of the family except Mr. Combs and Manning, were at my house at the time of the accident. We did not know that the boys had gone sailing. I thought they were in the fields shooting birds where I left them at 12 m.

St. Inigo's Items.

[From our Regular Correspondent.] The Xmas of '88 passed off in an exceedingly quiet manner herabout. The mercury vacillated between 48° and 51° and butterflies of variegated colors flitted about, while wrens and chickadees enhanced the pleasure of the departing day as they trilled forth their sweet notes.

Terpsichore appears to be happy as her devotees are availing themselves of every opportune occasion to show their devotion.

We venture the assertion that our district can produce as pretty and accomplished ladies as any section within the county; and a number of her young men are above mediocrity in appearance and those ennobling qualities which constitute their natural likeness to the Trifune God, their Creator.

Poor Richard says, "I never saw an off-removed tree, Nor yet an off-removed family. That thrives so well as those that settled be." True, but circumstances invariably alter matters and renters are compelled—although they may believe, aye, know from experience that 'three removes is as bad as a fire'—to exchange their places of residence occasionally.

The celebrated turfman, J. Frank Dunbar, is now at Greenhill, several miles above Old St. Inigo's, and Jno. Wheatley, formerly of St. Mary's City, has moved to Woodlawn, near the village of Tall Pine. We verily believe that one who walks with God receives and imparts life whithersoever he goes. Our ministers are assuredly men of spirituality of soul as their daily lives show. Their sermons are replete with admonitions to love Him "in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge"—Christ the God-man.

Albeit our roads are not Macadamized, traveling is tolerably easy to the springs of buggies, sulkeys, etc. Mac Adam would be surprised indeed could he take a ride over them and see the innumerable small, intermediate and large stones not utilized as indicated by him years ago.

The BEACON was an agreeable surprise to your readers of this locality inasmuch as they indulged the opinion that they should not be forgotten even by editors, that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. LOCALWISE AND OTHERWISE.

Don't forget to date your letters, &c., 1889. We wish our patrons, one and all, a prosperous New Year.

Mr. Dominick Hayden has removed from "Clover Hill" to "Cedar Point."

Mr. David Hammett, of St. Clement's Bay, has removed to "Cedar Point."

Mr. John Jacob Hess, of Chaptico, has moved to "Clover Hill," near this village.

Mr. Henry Adams has removed from the Valley Lee section to the St. Mary's City neighborhood.

Mr. Joseph S. Matthews has been appointed postmaster at Valley Lee, vice Miss Alice Thomas resigned.

BEACON subscribers who have changed their postoffices are requested to notify us that we may properly address their papers.

Mr. H. S. Jarboe, the popular bar-keeper of "Count" Moore's Hotel, has given up the position and returned to his farm near this village. "Beau" Moore succeeds him.

Tuesday, Mr. J. Walter Carpenter, Mortgagee, sold Otis Dale, situate near St. Joseph's church and containing 260 acres, for $2,200. Mr. Carpenter bid the property in.

Mr. Mills Hayden, of No. 3 Tobacco Warehouse, is home for the holidays. Mr. Hayden reports the tobacco business as dull and says there are very few shipments being made.

Monday, on warrant of Justice C. A. Watts, James Anderson, colored, was committed to the county jail. Anderson is a lunatic and the commitment charges him with destroying property.

Mr. J. Warren Jarboe advertises his Wheelwright and Undertaking Business in our present paper. Warren, though a young man, is an old and skilled workman. He deserves to succeed, and we hope he will.

Mr. H. L. Burroughs, the well-known Mechanicsville merchant, died Monday, December 31, 1888. Mr. Burroughs had been in business in the Mechanicsville section for over 30 years and was well and favorably known all over the county. He was about 58 years of age.

Saturday, Hon. Robert C. Combs, attorney for the Mortgagees, sold the Valley Lee property, situate in the 2nd district and containing 23 acres. Mr. W. W. Cecil bid $785, and this amount added to a prior lien of $217, makes the total cost of the property $1002.

The Joseph R. Foad Transportation Company was incorporated by Frederick W. Wood, of Stockton, Pa.; Jos. R. Foad, of Feider, I. His and George Blakinston, of Baltimore, and Rufus K. Wood, of Baltimore county. The capital stock is $250,000, divided into $2,500 shares of $100 each.

Mrs. Ann Bailey, of the St. Joseph's section, is dead. All who knew the deceased speak of her as having been a model Christian. She was 87 years old and leaves 8 children and 53 grand-children to mourn her loss. Some of the grand-children are married but we do not know many great grand-children there are. Her descendants are said to number about 175.

The Sun says the announcement of the drowning of Mr. Paul Combs in Brittan's bay while out ducking on Friday last was received with great regret in Westminster, where he was well known. Mr. Combs graduated at Western Maryland College in the class of 1877, of which he was the valedictorian, out of a class of seventeen. During his stay in Westminster he gained many friends.

You can save money by buying your library, parlor or hall lamps, from Will Johnson. They are beauties.

You can certainly find just what you want in Boots and Shoes at F. O. Morgan's. He has the largest stock of Merchandise ever seen in Leonardtown.

Give Them A Chance.

That is to say, your lung. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boeche's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if nothing else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

"SIMPLY GRAND!" IS THE GENERAL EXCLAMATION of all who visit the Mammoth One-Price Cash Store. It is my delight to announce to you a first class line of FALL and WINTER GOODS. It is truly a Variety Store. If I cannot agree you from 25 to 40 per cent. over any concern south of Baltimore City, I will "throw up the sponge and say nothing more upon the subject."

Only can give a few in each department as it would fill every column of this valuable paper to give in detail all its innumerable contents, so will give you a faint idea in the following departments: SHOE DEPARTMENT.
