OUTLOOK

The Outlook Grange No. 256 held in Outlook hall on Friday evening an entertainment. The hall was filled. The entire program was composed of home to but.and. , 2w-bezd2w. SHR home talent, and some of the members were on the professional order, especially the Negro dialogue rendered by E. Powers and P. A. Pfaffin. A recitation by Miss Helen Sharp, also Mrs. Powers, were well received. Piano selections by Mrs. Harry Sewell and Miss Bedell were above the average. The little songsters enjoyed themselves, especially the young folks, and all departed happy.

A new rural mail route is more than likely to be established here in the near future. Postmaster Sheller has made such a favorable impression upon the postoffice department at Washington, explaining that Outlook precinct has a population of 683 and should have better mail accommodations. The post masters urgent plea had its effect, by receiving a letter from Fourth Assistant Postmaster P. V. DeGraw stating that the necessary papers have been completed and that it is t hedepartments intention to recommend the new rural route.

It is reported that there will be something doing by the government in a very short time relative to the irrigation of 2800 acres on Snipes mountain, which is in the immediate vicinity.

P. J. Zuesinberry closed a deal, long standing with Mr. Milton, a few days past, by which Mr. Milton takes possession of an 80-acre tract immediately. Mr. Zuesinberry moving into his new home purchased recently from the Cascade Lumber Co.

Mr. Milton sold to Wm. A. Young, now of Seattle, but originally from Reading, Pa., a 40-acre tract of alfalfa. Mr. Young takes immediate possession and will move here with his family and at once erect a new home. The price paid was $5000.

Herman Otto, a representative of The Clausen Brewing association, Seattle, bought from E. P. Dobbs, his 20 acre orchard tract, taking possession at once; price confidential.

Messrs. W. E. Williams and Frank Stewart were Masonic representatives from Outlook at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Masonic temple at North Yakima on Saturday.

Dr. A. G. Stalmaker returned from Seattle where he was attending to some important business transactions in real estate.

Mr. O. S. Pratt from Arizona is renewing his many acquaintances.

At a public sale to be held by W. E. Williams on Tuesday, April 11, at his residence, beginning at 10 a. m., it is predicted that spirited bidding will take place.
