Local Dotings.

Supper. The ladies of the M. E. Church will have a Supper at the Parsonage, Cedar Point, on Wednesday, Feb. 19th.

Bargains. F. O. Morgan, the Leonardtown Clothier, has on hand about 40 overcoats and a few suits of heavy weight winter clothing, which he is selling for a little less than their cost to manufacture them.

Orphans' Court. Tuesday, Feb. 5, 1890. Court met—Judges Payne and Milburn present. Leo M. Wathen, admr. of W. J. Wathen, died first and final account and a dividend was ordered.

Dwelling Damaged by Fire. Tuesday, the 29th ultimo, a fire occurred in the dwelling on the farm known as "Mona," situated in the 8th district, belonging to Mr. John Quirk, of Philadelphia, and occupied by Mr. R. C. Parker.

Feather Beds Made New and Healthy. I hereby certify that I have had my beds renovated by the Richmond Feather Renovator Company.

LEONARDTOWN, Jan. 30, 1890. We have this day had our feather beds renovated by the Richmond Feather Renovator Company to our entire satisfaction.

CHARLES COMBS, A. JACK SPALDING.

Entertainment at St. Mary's Academy.

Your reporter fixed himself up in his best style, regardless of expense, and hid himself to the Academy of the Sisters, determined to find out all about the entertainment which he heard was to be given by the young ladies Feb. 15th.

Mudd Testifies. Evidence in the Mudd-Compton contested election case was taken in Leonardtown Tuesday before J. F. Morgan, Examiner in Chancery, Mr. Mudd, the contestant, appearing in his own behalf and Mr. B. Harris Camalier representing Hon. Barnes Compton.

John T. Bowen, colored, was sworn. Testified that he came from Calvert county. Registered in the 8th election district and had been voting there over four years.

The name of John H. Bowen appears upon the registration books. The poll books show the name of John H. Burrows. William Coates, colored, was sworn. Testified that he had been a resident of the 5th election district and had removed.

of his ticket, which was republican, and judges refused it, because they said the name was wrong. It was William T. or William R. on poll book. Knew the judges and the judges knew him well.

The name of William T. Coats appears on the poll books. David R. Brooks, colored, sworn. Testified that last Fall he applied to Mr. Jones, register of the 5th district, to be registered.

Elizer Cooper, colored, sworn. Testified that he was 25 years of age. Came from Nanjemoy. Besides in the 5th district. Offered to vote a republican ticket, gave his name as Elizer Cooper, and when asked if that was his full name, said it was.

"I was the regular republican candidate for Congress for the Fifth Congressional District of this State at the election referred to in these proceedings. My name is sometimes spelled S y-d-n-e-y; sometimes S-i-d-n-e-y; often written by the initials, S. E. Mudd. I was the only person by the name of Mudd who was a candidate by the name of Mudd in this District last fall.

CROSS EXAMINATION. What is your correct name?

"I suppose either of the ways given above is correct. I generally spell it myself Sydney E. Mudd. I often see it spelt Sidney and quite frequently S. E. Mudd. Were you ever known as S. N. Mudd?

Do you know the parties who cast the votes for S. N. Mudd; S. E. Mudd, and Mudd in the 5th Congressional District?

Entertainment at Choptico.

There was a most enjoyable entertainment at the hotel on Thursday evening last. It was given by the young gentlemen of the village. Refreshments were served at frequent intervals during the night.

Island items. (Reported for the Beacon.) Mild and harsh weather alternately prevailed but from present indications, we opine that this Winter will be an unusually mild one.

The recent cool spell has had a tendency to revive the stagnant oyster market. Prices have advanced from 30 and 35 to 30, 35 and 37 cents per bushel.

We are pleased to chronicle the death of Mr. Richard Moore, one of the island's most prominent and esteemed citizens. A wife and three children survive him.

The Mechanicsville Literary and Social Club.

The beaux and belles of a village sweet in St. Mary's pleasant land, Revolved one Autumn eve to meet And in a club to band.

A literary union it was to be, And social hour, of course; The meeting hour was after tea When the crowd would come in force.

A constitution and by-laws Were speedily drawn up By three or four within closed doors So none could intercept.

Each member had to sign their name To the document now matured, So all would share the wondrous fame By it to be secured.

The number fixed at five and twenty, Each member went to work, And intellectual peace and plenty Arope them seemed to lurk.

Next came the "meet" to speak and sing, And together dwell in thought, To quaff away at the Pierian Spring As each good member ought.

They worked together for sixty days, At oratory and song, But alas, for them, Sol had his rays And the tempest came along.

The membership, as fixed by law, The placid waters troubled, Many opposed the taking more, Some thought it should be doubled.

Prof. Adams, who all along, Had shown a slight unrest, Now came out boldly and proclaimed That thirty-five was best.

Upon this question they did vote, And the votes did surely tell, That twenty-five was large enough And suited very well.

To "reconsider" next some tried, But work it was not meant, The ballots always testified That twenty-five was right.

The victors then for the sake of peace To the vanquished next did say, "We'll make it thirty if you'll cease To cause so much delay."

This olive-branch the vanquished spurn, And say they will not yield, They quickly to each other turn And think of another field.

Prof. Smoot rose from his chair, And like Calhoun of old, Did then and there at once declare "I'll have to leave the fold."

Prof. Adams followed next, And said he would withdraw; No limit was his creed and text As always heretofore.

Miss M—K— was the next to rise, And leave the Club so dear, Because it was not just the size To them it should appear.

And then Miss M—e rose to say, That she would go out, too, Because I do not like your way, I cannot stay with you.

Miss A—e, with the bright black eyes, Said she too would secede; She could not make a sacrifice Of her dear and cherished creed.

And now seceders, grand and true, Be careful how you act, When next you form a social Club Pray have a little tact. QUI VIVIT.

St. Inigo's Items.

[From our Regular Correspondent.] Fox hunters are frequently out, but we think that rodents of the genus Lupus are principally chased.

Minks of dark brownish-chestnut color are very annoying to poultry raisers. Several of our neighbors have recently lost a number of chickens, etc.

Candlemas day was a warm and bright one. If there be any truth in a traditional expression the ensuing weather for weeks will not be very encouraging to out-door workers; for the quadruped somewhat related to our domestic animal could not have failed to see its shadow.

Home made fertilizer is being hauled and scattered over rye fields. We presume a few loads of this compost will give better satisfaction than tons of the commercial mixture that is being used throughout the county.

Mrs. Albert McKay, nee Baley, is very ill. The interment of several colored children took place a few days ago.

Miss Ella Clarke, of Lortonstown, is visiting Miss Lillie Atherton, of Washington, D. C.

Request in Face. A pall of deep sadness fell upon our community on New Year's morning when the death of Mrs. Van Inwegen was announced.

By nature she was of an amiable disposition and this was crowned by patience, charity and mercy. She was of the Roman Catholic faith and a practical and faithful member of that church which has always been the religion of the family.

Rebecca Clyde Van Inwegen was the youngest child of the late Junius I. Boyle, Commodore of the United States Navy. Her education was partially received at the Academy of Visitation, Georgetown, D. C.

The hotel at Mechanicsville is for sale or will be rented. For particulars, apply to F. D. ADAMS, Mechanicsville, Md.

A FINE BAY COLT (mare) three years old in April. T. EDWARD LOKER, Valley Lea.

Six years since the late home in Washington, D. C., for Denver, Colo., and was married November 11th, 1868, in North Platte, Neb., to George Albert Van Inwegen, of Orange county, N. Y.

LOCAL WISE AND OTHERWISE. The Orphans' Court was in session Tuesday, Dec. 11, 1889.

Our seventh district friends seem to be considerably stirred up about their schools. Participants in the recent party in Britain's Neck describe it as a most enjoyable and well-managed affair.

Mrs. Thomas Jordan, colored, of the 2nd district, died on Monday. Her name says she was a good and true Christian.

Mr. Sydney E. Mudd was in town Tuesday and evidence was taken in his contest for the seat of Hon. Barnes Compton in the Fifty-first Congress.

Saturday, Hon. Robert C. Deane, Assignee, sold at public auction, under the authority of the Court, the stock Company were the purchases.

The ground hog came out of his burrow Saturday last, saw his shadow and went back. We will now await developments and see if his hogship know his business.

"Cuddy" Barber, colored, was recently tried before Justice H. T. Hammett charged with stealing clothes from a colored drover. He was found guilty and sentenced to the House of Correction.

Tuesday evening a horse attached to one of the wagons of the Richmond Renovator Company ran away, knocked 30 or 40 palls of fruit, and overturned and slightly damaged the wagon.

Thursday last Sheriff Ching summoned a jury de lunatico inquirendo in the case of John Anderson, colored. Anderson was found to be insane and a pauper and Judge Crane ordered him to be taken to Montevue Hospital. The Sheriff took him away Friday.

R. B. Burroughs, whose candidacy for Circuit Judge in the Third Illinois Circuit has been heretofore noticed in the Beacon, was elected by 4,483 majority. His home county (Madison) gave him a majority of 1,941. We extend our heartiest congratulations.

Friday last a very large dog-owl was caught on the farm of Mr. R. H. Tippet, near Choptico. The bird had a steel trap hanging to one of its feet, which had apparently been on it for a considerable time. The owl has been caged and is now on exhibition.

Monday last Wash. Barnes, colored, of this district, was brought before Justice J. F. Morgan charged with stealing fodder from John F. Harris. Barnes decided to have his case tried finally by the Justice. He was adjudged guilty, and pending a motion for a new trial, is now in the custody of the Sheriff.

J. Walter Carpenter vs. Frank M. Dyer and Jennie D. Dyer, his wife. In the Circuit Court for St. Mary's county, sitting as a Court of Equity.

No. 692 N. E. Ordered this 1st day of January, 1890, that the sale made and reported by J. WALTER CARPENTER, Mortgagee, in the above cause, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary be shown on or before the 4th Monday of January, 1890, provided a copy of this order be published in the St. Mary's Beacon once a week for three successive weeks prior to the said 4th Monday of January.

The report states the land sold for $2,500. J. FRANK FORD, Clerk. True copy—Test: J. FRANK FORD, Clerk. Jan 3—3w]

J. WARREN JARBOE, SUCCESSOR TO J. J. JARBOE & SON, UNDERTAKER AND WHEELWRIGHT, Manufacturer of WAGONS, BUGGIES, CARTS, &c.

Special attention given to Repairing, which will be done cheap for CASH. All orders promptly filled and work of every kind warranted.

I have succeeded to the business of my late father and may be found at all times at his old stand. I shall be thankful for all orders given me and will do my best to give satisfaction. J. WARREN JARBOE. Jan. 3—1w]
