H. B. Cole & Brother,

Lutesville and Scopus.

Farmers' union over in Cape y has bought a grain ware- at Gordonville and has deter- to build one at Jackson. farmers over there have ened a move of this kind a er of years and have com- d bitterly of the fact that have had to sell their wheat in rket where there has been ically no competition. No their efforts would have ght results long ago had they better organized. They are ed to the fruits of their labor, any move that will bring about result and better their condi- should be encouraged and com- ed.

E of the most contemptible mens of toadyism, says Uncle Ake in his Ironton Register, in these days of kow-towing en dressed in a little brief au- ity, is that of the superintend- f the Washington City schools barring therefrom Our Dumb nals, the most meritorious pub- ion in the country. This be- of its criticisms of the presi- 's "sporting" proclivities. These isms were couched in courte- terms and were a plea for the b creatures at the mercy of men. what of that? It seems the is sacred, and his doings are ond rebuke, in the eyes of the at his footstool, and they must h a lesson to the man who dares in question anything approved royalty.

HE United States Brewers' asso- ion convened at Atlantic City, J., the other day, to devise ways means of counteracting the ris- temperance sentiment. The vig- nce committee read a report, part which follows: "It is only too parent that the enemies of our dustry have more than held their n in the struggles of the last ar. Emboldened by their victo- s, victories conditioned by a ave of fanaticism, they are plan- ng greater conquests in the future. hey are pledged to a war of ex- rmination. The friends of per- nal liberty and of the square deal ould not ask for fairer warning han that of the last year, and we ust fight against this prejudice which has been raised in the minds f the people."

SENATOR HOPKINS of Illinois, after visit to Oyster Bay, says the Lou- sville Courier-Journal, gave an in- erview in which he said it would e suicidal for the republican party o undertake a revision of the tariff during the next congress. After the next presidential election he thinks it will be the duty of the party to revise the tariff. This has been interpreted as indicating the views of the president, and other news of his position is to the same effect. In all this, and in hundreds of other utterances by prominent republicans, there is an express con- fession that the tariff ought to be revised. To revise it would be ab- solutely right. This is not only the belief of practically all the demo- crats, but it is also the fixed and un- changeable conviction of millions of republicans whose support is ab- solutely necessary to the success of their party next year. Yet we have the confession, or at least the asser- tion, that it would kill the repub- lican party to do right. It would be suicidal.

That Brownwood Tiger.

From the Advance Guard.

In commenting on our article regarding the Brownwood blind tigers, the Lutesville Banner says:

"That there is something radically wrong at Brownwood goes without ques- tion, but it is necessary to have evidence to convict. Our prosecuting attorney never fails to do his whole duty, but it is impossible for him to convict when those that should, refuse to tell what they know."

Has your prosecuting attorney ever made any effort to get evi- dence against these tigers? Has he ever tried to use what evidence has been furnished him? Plenty of ev- idence can be obtained if the prose- cutor only had the will to get it. A citizen of your county was in this office a few days ago and stated that he could furnish all the evidence anyone needs to want, and all the prosecutor had to do was to show a willingness to use it. Another cit- izen of your county got witnesses against these places some weeks ago and said he was going to turn it in to the prosecuting attorney—and from his demeanor we believe he did—but nothing has come from it as yet, and if we were to wait till doomsday that evidence would never be used. The law-abiding cit- izens of the south end of your coun- ty are becoming indignant at the way things are going and declare that there must be a change. That prosecuting attorney was elected to serve the people, and they declare that if he does not do this he must get out of the way and let some- body in who will. If he will call at our office any day we will take him to a man that will furnish enough evidence to convict any he tiger in Missouri.

THE PRESS is glad that our neigh- bor has unearthed those law break- ers and hopes he will keep up the fight until the last blind tiger is run out of Bollinger county.

Missouri Sheep and Poultry.

On order of the board of directors of Missouri State fair special classes have been opened for Missouri sheep with a view of stimulating a large exhibit by Missouri flockmasters, and to encourage sheep breeding in the state. Missouri breeders may enter both in the open classes and in the Missouri specials, thus having two opportunities to win honors and premiums where they had only one heretofore.

Special poultry classes, embracing all standard and most valuable breeds of chickens, turkeys, geese and ducks most generally bred in Missouri, have been made and are open to Missouri breeders only. Missouri breeders may also ex- hibit in the classes open to the world.

The fair will be held October 5th-11th. Write Secretary J. R. Rippey, Sedalia, for premium list or other information.

Southeast News.

A Globe-Democrat special from Bismarck, Mo., dated July 31, says: "An unidentified person shot and seriously injured F. F. Dennis near Potosi today. Both bones in the right forearm were broken and the shot penetrated the right side. Rob- bery was probably the incentive. Dennis is a well-known commission man."

Piedmont Banner.

At Biggers, near Poplar Bluff, on the Frisco, a lot of negroes were enjoying a picnic when a fight arose. The trouble ended in a shooting af- fray in which four men, one woman, a horse, a mule and a pet poodle dog were shot. The dog was killed outright. The others will recover. A stray bullet penetrated a keg of beer belonging to the picknickers, and when the trouble was over it was discovered that the beer had leaked out. The picnic then broke camp.

Ironton Register.

The 28th of September is a mem- orable day in the history of De Soto. On that date in 1857 the first loco- motive engine reached that place. It was pulling a construction train, then engaged in carrying material to build the Iron Mountain rail- road. There was not a house at De Soto then. The population is now 8000, and the town is boom- ing. A shoe factory has just been established, for which the people raised a bonus of $75,000. They claim the finest and most abundant supply of artesian water in the country. S. A. Heppy, a venerable and honored citizen, now 70 years old, who voted for Lincoln in 1860, is in charge of the arrangements for a big celebration there on Sep- tember 28.

Dunklin Democrat, Aug. 2.

Pope and Ben Long, brothers, had just laid by their crop and were sitting on the porch, resting. Two hawks flew into a near-by tree and Ben said he would go in and get his gun and shoot them. He opened his trunk and got out some shells, supposing the gun was not loaded; he broke the gun to insert them, when he discovered that shells were in it. As he shut up the gun it was discharged and the entire load of one barrel took effect in the back of the head and neck of his brother, Pope Long, who was sitting on the porch in a rocking chair. The wound produced almost instant death. The terrible affair nearly ran the surviving brother distracted and he had to be watched to pre- vent him taking his own life. The dead man was sober and industri- ous, and his sad end is generally re- gretted.
