BELL TELEPHONES BEAT TWIN CITY TEAM 3 TO 0

One of the best ball games seen here in many a day was the one Sunday between the home team and the field. The game up to the eighth in Cape Bell Telephones on Dickey's field. The game up to the eighth was a pitchers' battle, not a hit being made off either pitcher. In the eighth Burns, of the Telephones, scored when Schaet and Lynch doubled. The Bell Telephones also scored two in then inth on an error, a hit and two walks.

The Cape team had four Cupha players on the team, and they played air tight ball. Our boys are unusually weak with the bat this year, and seem to be slow getting back into line. With some batting practice, they can soon be traveling along at a good pace.

SIX MORE AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION OFFERED

Jefferson City, Mo., May 27.—Six more prepared amendments to the Missouri constitution were submitted when the Constitutional Convention convened today, making a total of eighteen now to be considered when the gathering resumes its sessions next Wednesday afternoon. The convention adjourned at noon today until that time.

Consolidation of city and county government in cities having more than 100,000 inhabitants was proposed in one measure presented today. Another asks that all executive and administrative work of the state government be consolidated into not more than ten departments by 1925.

A third would prevent the Supreme Court from holding any act of the executive or legislative departments of the state unconstitutional unless all but one Judge concurred. The three other proposals, of considerable length, dealt with the legislative department, education and revenue and taxation, without making any sweeping changes in any of them.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF CAPE GIRARDEAU, MISSOURI, AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the Public should speedily secure an opportunity to be heard in fixing prices and power to supervise adjustments of periodical wage disputes in the coal industry, and power to prevent speculation and profiteering in this basic commodity.

2. That Federal Control of the coal industry is desirable, but no valid excuse can be urged against permitting the public to have a sure remedy for correcting a notorious evil that has continued unchecked throughout the history of the industry. It is conceded by all persons dealing with the question officially, that the public chooses between taking over the mines or supervision.

3. That coal mines should be declared public utilities, and regulated by existing utility commissions in coal producing states.

4. That the Aversion to Government Intrusion into private business and the complacency of the public in paying outrageous prices to the coal profiteer, makes it imperative that prompt and practical steps be taken to supervise the industry through existing state commissions.

5. That we urge commercial and civic bodies and all public officials to actively support a nation-wide campaign to have coal mines declared a public utility.

6. That we respectfully petition Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, Governor of Missouri, to lend his influence and efforts to the movement to bring to the attention of the Governors of coal producing states the necessity for declaring coal mines a public utility.

That copies of this resolution be mailed to Governor Hyde, all state officials, and delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Adopted May 22, 1922.

REVENGE

A Knife That You Hold by the Blade

The DON'T test of all DON'T'S is: Don't get even. The greatest of all time wasted is time wasted on revenge.

It is not only a waste of time, but also of gray matter, nerve force, vitality and soul-justice and life-reserve. The desire for retaliation is the most dangerous lust that enslaves human beings.

When you want to hurt him who has hurt you, you want something that irritates you whilst you want it, disappoints you when you get it, and makes you feel mean after it is all over.

You cannot get through life without meeting people who injure you. There are those that snub you, those that betray you, those that cheat you, those that envy you—besides those swarms of spiteful, malicious, weak and venemous human mosquitoes, worms and wasps. If you stop and chase each of these to punish him, you will have no time for anything else.

If you allow yourself to think of them, they will poison your mind until it is as sour as buttermilk; your sleep will be ruined and your hours of leisure turned from content to wretchedness. Forget it!

It makes not so much matter whether or not you forgive an offense—the only satisfying thing is to forget it! Go on! There is too much to do to stop and fight here. Life is too rich to pauperize it by hate. Let it pass. Go on.

Perhaps your enemy needs a thrashing; but what is that to you? The question is: What do you need? You need peace of mind, poise, contentment; and to keep thinking about him is to upset yourself.

Who redress injuries? They always redress themselves automatically better than we can redress them. We don't realize the self acting, automatic equalizing efficiency of the spiritual world. When a pig does dirt, he gets dirt—by and by. Let him alone, why bother? When Jesus said that about turning the other cheek he was not talking impossible idealism, but plain sense. The people who spiritually arrive are the forgetters.

Here is a sentence you may paint on your wall where you can see it day by day, on your ceiling where you can gaze upon it when you wake in the night, on your mind where your thoughts can read it as they pass by, and on your heart where every motion can be shaped by it.

An INJURY can grieve us only when remembered. The noblest revenge, therefore, is to forget.—The Weekly Clarion, Jefferson City.

MUST HAVE MORE CLOVER

The fertility of Missouri farms can not be maintained without clover, says M. F. Miller, for 17 years professor of soils at the Missouri College of Agriculture and conceded to be the highest authority on the soil problems of the state. Only one acre in twenty five of the State's cultivated land is now growing this crop. Yet the proper maintenance of soil fertility demands that this acreage be increased to one acre in five.

With the single exception of unfavorable seasons the difficulties in the way of growing good stands of the indispensable crop can be overcome. The soil's need of lime, manure, phosphorus, and proper drainage can all be remedied. Poor seed and improper seeding methods can be avoided.

Based on these fundamental facts a Clover and Prosperity Campaign has become the first order of business in ten Northeast Missouri counties. Cooperating with the local farm organizations in this big movement the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service will begin a five weeks tour by truck July 1, holding two demonstration meetings in each of these ten counties.

Mrs. Maggie Rose and her daughter, Miss Mary Rose, are visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Frank Sitzes of Lutesville while they are on their return home from a visit to Ben Rose. They were at Hahn's Chapel Cemetery on the 30th to visit the graves of a number of relatives and friends.

Mrs. E. E. Bair, who has been in poor health for the past several weeks, appears to be somewhat improved.

LARGE STILL CAPTURED IN SOUTH CAPE GIRARDEAU

The largest distilling outfit ever in the county since prohibition has come into use was discovered by the police when they raided the home of Sam Senzoni, an Italian, who lives in South Cape Girardeau, a block from the Mrs. Green school.

Senzoni came to the City two years ago and bought and built the property. It had been rumored rumor for some time that the source of much white mule was somewhere in that vicinity and Senzoni had had been under suspicion. On Friday Chief Hutson and some men descended on the house. For a time nothing suspicious was noted, till a rug in the sitting room was lifted and a trapdoor discovered which led into the basement. Up to that time Senzoni had been an unconcerned spectator but when the rug was lifted he made a dash for the door and disappeared in the railroad yards, not having been seen since.

When the officers descended to the basement they found two complete copper stills and other necessary implements in the manufacture of whisky, a barrel containing 50 gallons of firewater and 40 empty barrels. But the outstanding factor was the care with which Senzoni prepared for the business. First, the basement room was walled off from the rest of the basement and contained no windows or doors except the trap door from above. A small dynamo furnished electric light. The kettles were placed on a specially built furnace. Refuse was led out by a sewer pipe onto a hillside while the smoke from the furnace escaped through the kitchen chimney, although it appears that the still had not been operated lately, likely for fear this year of the advent of warm weather the smoke from the refuse would become too "loud." If Senzoni has been operating for a year or more as a thirsty he will have enough money to dissolve his property.—Jackson Post.

DANIEL BOLLINGER PASSES AWAY

Daniel Bollinger an old and highly respected citizen of near Scopus, died Monday evening after an illness of several months. His sister, Mrs. J. J. Chandler, and near relatives were with him at the last, as death had been expected for several days. He had been afflicted with dropsy for several months. His remains were laid to rest Wednesday evening. A large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral. Not only the relatives but the entire community in which he lived will feel the loss of a good neighbor and citizen.

A rattle snake was captured Friday near Cobb by J. D. Mitchell and L. I. Pearman, assisted by two or three others, a long stick and stout cord is said to have featured heavily in said capture. His snakeship was put in a bucket and that placed within a box and brought to town and placed on display in Ladd & Company's window. It attracted quite a lot of atention, rattlesnakes being about as scarce as good whisky, a little late remedy. This one had seven rattles, but it appeared that he had lost a part of his string. Saturday night he was executed, Herman Anderson being the one who placed the noose Mr. Snake's neck and led him to the block, James Francis wielded the axe.—Puxico Index.

ESTES-ROGERS

The marriage of Miss Maude Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ester, of Marble Hill, and Mr. Leo. H. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rogers, of Blytheville, Ark., took place Wednesday noon, May 17, 1922 at Cape Girardeau. Rev. E. H. O'Rear performed the marriage ceremony. The bride was attired in a gown of white satin and over this a veil of bridal illusion caught to her coiffure with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride is one of Marble Hill's most popular young ladies. The groom is an excellent young man having graduated from Will Mayfield college and has completed a business course at Springfield business college.

After a short honeymoon trip to St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers returned to Marble Hill and will make their home temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Estes.

Another addition to the Observer family is Charles I. Richards, of Marble Hill, Mo., who arrived last week to take charge of the Linotype operating at this office.

Mr. Richards is a graduate of the Chicago Linotype school and was operator on the Rock Rapids, Ia., Review for two or three years, besides serving in the like capacity on Missouri papers. He is an American veteran with a number of the American Legion, fellow of yes, and energy who will be appreciated not only by the observer office, but by all who make his acquaintance.—Dewitt (Ark.) Observer.
