GOVERNOR HYDE TO BLAME FOR BONDS SHORTAGE

Jefferson City—American Legion officials are blaming governor Hyde for the estimated deficit of $6,184,000 in the fund to pay the bonus to Missouri soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the world war.

Edwad J. Cahill of Kansas City, former adjutant of the Missouri branch of the American Legion, declared that he pleaded with Governor Hyde to recommend a bond issue of $20,000,000 instead of $15,000,000.

"We had made a careful survey of the field," said Cahill, "and on the basis of $10 a month for each soldier in the state we estimated that at least $20,000,000 would be needed for the work.

"I spent an entire day at Jefferson City pleading wih Governor Hyde to recommend $20,000,000 to the legislature in submitting the bond issue. However, the Governor sought to cut the bond issue to $15,000,000 with the known result."

Thousands of the soldiers who served in the war will be unable to receive their bonus until another bond issue is passed. American Legion officials are starting a movement to submit another issue.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend our hearty thanks to our friends and neighbors for the help and kindness during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and father, D. F. Bollinger. Mrs. D. F. Bollinger and children.

SSAY REED REFERRED TO WILSON AS 'LONG-EARED'

Citizens of Salisbury, Mo., Refute Senator's Denial of Long's Charge

Beckinridge Long, Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination, in a campaign address last week, charged Senator James A. Reed with referring to former President Wilson as "that long-eared animal that goes braying about the country." The remark was credited to Reed in a speech which he made at Salisbury, Mo., in July, 1920.

Senator Reed, in an address at Mexico, Mo., last Saturday, emphatically denied that he had made the alleged remark and declared that "the Kansas City paper that printed it took it back at my demand."

Fred Lamb, judge of the twelfth judicial district, with offices at Salisbury, sent a telegram to the Star today, signed by seeral citizens of Salisbury, in which the signers claim that Reed did make the remark.

The telegram follows:

"In a public speech in Salisbury, Mo., on the evening of July 17, 1920, Senator James A. Reed, while discussing the League of Nations, referred to Woodrow Wilson then president of the United States, in substantially the following language: "That long-eared animal that goes braying about the country."—Thos. Richardson, V. E. Hurt, W. F. Briner, Frank H. Richardson, Robert Copeland, V. H. Geister, J. L. Wright, E. O. Snyder, J. M. Mason, Dr. J. D. Drummall and R. L. Phelps.

"FRED LAMB."

Lamb also sent the Star the following article which he said will appear in this week's issue of the Press Spectator, Salisbury's weekly newspaper:

"In one of his speeches last week Breckinridge Long charged Senator Reed with referring to then President Wilson as that long-eared animal that goes braying about the country. The remark is credited to Reed in a speech made in Salisbury in July, two years ago.

"In a speech in Mexico, Mo., last Saturday, Reed is quoted as saying: 'Mr. (Long) can't get around me by saying I said something about a former president going about like a long-eared jackass. I never said it, and the Kansas City paper that printed it took it back at my demand.'

"Since Senator Reed's speech in which he thus characterized the president was made here, the subject has an added local interest.

"In the Free Spectator's mention of the speech made here by Reed on July 17, 1920, Reed is quoted as having said "the braying animal at the White House." This quotation is substantially the reference Senator Reed made to President Wilson. But up to this time not a single person here in Salisbury has ever denied that the statement was made by Reed.

"That Senator Reed used the language substantially as quoted by Mr. Long cannot be questioned. Many were amazed that a Democratic senator should thus characterize the president of his recently nominated and elected by the Democratic party and at that time stricken almost to the point of death. Senator Reed's statement was the subject of general comment upon the streets of our town at the time. We remember the statement and at the presence of those people we hardly expect Senator Reed to repeat his denial. In his Mexico speech Senator Reed says he was misquoted by a Kansas City paper and that he had demanded a retraction in less time than it takes to write such demand and we remember no such retraction. If Senator Reed or any friend of his will furnish us the paper containing such retraction we will gladly remember it.

"A friend and supporter of Senator Reed, only a few days ago, remarked that Reed should apologize for making the statement or stand by it, even though the apology be far belated. Certain it is, he used the language attributed to him, and his denial at this time is causing much discussion here, and is not helping the senator, whose frankness and courage have always been his outstanding characteristics, to not sinking to the level of a demagogue!"—St. Louis Star, June 16, 1922.

REWARD

I will pay a reward of $10 for evidence that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who entered my garden on the night of June 20, 1922, and other nights only a short time prior thereto and stole all of my fine ripe peaches. Reward to be paid when the party or parties are convicted.

OTTO ALY.

It has been the practice of some young people in the town of Marble Hill and vicinity to enter the premises of other people and appropriate fruit and vegetables for their own use, without the consent of the owner thereof.

Mr. Otto Aly had a peach tree in his garden which was full of very fine early peaches, which were ripe and ready for use and some party or parties entered his garden in the night time when all honest people were asleep and stole away all of said peaches, except one small one which was not good. Mr. Aly says that he is fully in favor of a strict law enforcement against petty thefts. For that reason he offers a reward of $10 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

The community should take special interest in trying to reach with the law these night marauders.

TO CLEAN UP CEMETERY

Several of the citizens of Marble Hill and the vicinity of Hahn's Chapel, met at the Methodist church in Marble Hill on Tuesday afternoon, and organized for the purpose of fencing and cleaning up Hahn's Chapel cemetery and appointed the following committees:

Committee No. 1, examination and investigation as to work required to be done, Mr. R. A. Burrell, Mr. D. E. Hahn, Mr. J. E. Kinder, Wm. G. Slagle.

Committee No. 2, receiving bids and providing materials—Mr. J. E. Kinder, Mr. F. P. Welch, T. J. Hacker.

Committee No. 3, on soliciting subscriptions and making collections—Mrs. R. A. DeWitt, Mrs. M. E. Yount, Mrs. Avery Hacker, Mrs. R. A. Burrell.

Mr. Luther J. Grimsley, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O'Connor of Center, Mo., came up Monday for a week's visit with Mr. O'Connor's sister, Mrs. B. I. Allen, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winters of this town.

Mrs. Mannion of Sullivan, Mo., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Louis Mayer this week.

Louis Mayer is painting at the M. E. church this week.

Louis Mayer received a cocoanut from a cousin in Florida which measured 24 inches one way and 30 inches the other.

See Walker & Son's ad this week. Talk about Saturday specials they sure have some.

Read our ad which is in another column of this paper. Walker & Son.

All committees are to report at the Methodist church in Marble Hill, on Saturday, June 24, 1922, at two o'clock.

The intention of parties interested is to beautify the cemetery in such a way as to indicate that the last resting place of their relatives and friends is not forgotten, or the dear ones who are buried there.

Rev. G. M. Brooke and Merchant Leo Slinkard of Zalma were in town Thursday.

W. S. Langdon of Blythsville, Ark., is here this week visiting old friends.

Mrs. Leroy Robertson and children of Charleston returned home Wednesday after a few days visit.

Mrs. John Brown of Hurricane passed through here Wednesday en route for Greenbrier to visit her daughter, Mrs. Naomi Wilker.

Professor James McCullough of Glen Allen was here Saturday and bought a cream separator.

oDck Bennet and Ed Caldwell went to Flat River Monday after Bill Hughes' household goods.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Bollinger County Dairy Association composed principally of the citizens of Lutesville, Marble Hill and the surrounding territory, met in regular session Saturday afternoon, June 17, at the Opera House in this town and affected a permanent organization.

They elected Dr. C. E. Pressnell President; W. W. Ross, vice-president; W. O. Shrum, Secretary, and J. W. Drum assistant secretary.

We had a spletndid addition of members to the Dairy-Calf Club, which plainly signifies that the interest is growing for better dairy cattle in Bollinger County.

We are exerting every effort to supply Bollinger County, especially the vicinity of Marble Hill and Lutesville, with high grade dairy [illegible] by means of purchasing in quantities through the Club.

Our next regular meeting will be July 1st at the Opera House in Lutesville at 2:30 p. m.

All are invited to attend.

W. O. SHRUM, Secy.

23 MORE PROPOSALS IN CODE CONVENTION

Indications Are That Delegates Will Continue Work Through So[illegible]

Jefferson City, June 20.—Twenty-three more proposals have been thrown into the hopper at the constitutional convention, making a total of 168 offered since the convention met, May 15. Present indications are that the convention will work through the summer, although many delegates will remain home during July.

A proposal to give the producers of agricultural and horticultural products the rights to organize, incorporate and engage in collective bargaining for their own interests was introduced by John H. Haynes of Buffalo.

J. E. Cahill of Willard, introduced a proposal by request, providing that state officers and employees should devote their entire time to their state duties.

A proposal providing for the sale of land for delinquent taxes was offered by R. A. Pearson of Joplin by request. The right of redemption within two years is provided.

A state board of education would be created through amendments offered by the general assembly, under a proposal introduced by Norman A. Cox of Joplin. The board would be empowered to appoint a state superintendent of schools.

J. E. Fox of St. Louis, introduced proposals providing for the condemnation of property for public purposes and empowering cities to establish zoning regulations.

MARQUAND NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Omega Hall and children, of Fredericktown, spent the latter part of the past week with parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. Hull here.

Mrs. Pela Myers and children are the guests this week of relatives in Bloomfield.

Mrs. C. Allen Buttrus returned home last Friday, after spending several days with Mrs. H. E. Henson here.

Mr. and Mrs. Rud Whitener and daughters, Mrs. Cotsent and children and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whitener motored to Cape Girardeau Saturday.

Born, June 19th to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Homan an eight pound girl.

Mrs. W. H. Tripp and daughter, Miss Emma White and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White and children of Fredericktown were the guests the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White.

Mrs. Bessie Shetley spent the latter part of the past week with relatives in Poplar Bluff.

Our ball team and a large number of its loyal supporters went to Lutesville Sunday and gave the Twin City team the little end of a 11 to 6 score. Our boys got a bad start, allowing Twin City to score four runs in the first inning, three of them on errors. After that they got in the game and the best Twin City could do was one earned run in the second and one in the eighth. Twin City opened the game with Wedeking in the box. He was hit so freely that they changed to Miller after the third. Miller was as easy as Wedeking and was unable to stop the hitting. Henson was in the box for Marquand and had good support. He pitched a wonderful game, striking out nine and allowing only a few singles. In advertising the game Twin City stated both of their pitchers had been pitching "air tight" ball, allowing only two or three hits in a game, and that this would be a pitchers battle. If they pitched "air tight" ball Sunday we hope they will not have a "blow out" when they give us a return game.

The Mill Creek boys will come here Sunday to play our boys in the ball park here. And on July 4th the Flat River team will play this team here at the picnic grounds.
