With these words, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. N. Hagan sounded the keynote for the special session of the legislature which convenes tomorrow, in a speech before a meeting of house and senate members at the Northwest hotel last night.

Governor L. J. Frazier addressed the gathering briefly on why he had called the special session at this time.

Only Solution

"I was opposed to the calling of a special session," said Governor Frazier, "until all other efforts of relief for the stricken farmers of North Dakota had failed. It was only as a last resort that I finally determined to convene our legislature in extra session."

It was the unanimous sentiment of the meeting that the session be confined only to war emergency legislation and such other measures as are absolutely essential to the welfare of the state.

"It is our true patriotic duty," said Governor Frazier in closing, "to forget political differences and all work together for the successful and early termination of the world-wide war for democracy."

On the call of the chairman, Speaker Howard Wood, for an expression as to what legislation should be considered at the session, every one of the 80 members present from both houses rose to their feet as a pledge of their desire to confine the session purely to emergency legislation with a view to adjournment in three or four days.

V. C. High Has Great Basket Ball Schedule

The basketball season for the High school has already started with a glitter of success. The heaviest schedule ever played by a Valley High team is arranged for the quint of this year. Two games almost every week is what they will have to face. There have been three games played thus far. One with Sanborn on December 17th which ended in a score of 56 to 6 in favor of the local team. The second game was with Jamestown on Jan. 11 when the locals returned with the laurels and a score of 43 to 6. Sanborn was defeated again on Tuesday of last week at that place by a score of 66 to 14. These have all been merely practice games for the team which is rounding them in good shape to meet the three real contenders for the championship in this district within the next ten days.

The three schools which have already started the season with championship prospects are Casselton, with five games won out of seven played and two lost by only one point and three points. The other two schools are Fargo who defeated Casselton by one point and who has developed a wonderful machine out of new men comparatively, and Wimbledon who has practically all of last year's team intact. Valley City will meet Fargo and Casselton this week on Friday and Saturday at those towns.

The local quint is composed of two of last year's winning team and ten new men who are young and rather inexperienced. Captain Cook of last years team has not struck his old gait yet but it is expected he will within the next few weeks. Stenshoel at guard, and an all state man for the last two years, it is hoped will get mid-season form by the next week if not before. Busdicker at guard is one of the developments of the season thus far. He has promise of a good future id persistant and cool for home of the big games before the season closes. Theodore (Ted) Anderson is starting off good at forward and is possible material for the team. Ritter, formally of Leal has prospects of making the team in the position of forward. Bowen, a member of the squad for a part of the season last year is another likely candidate for the forward position. Mudgett, Personius, Thoreson, Eldridge, and Hazelgrove are all members of the first squad and are looked upon as stiff opposition and good timber for the regular team.

The season's schedule for Valley City is as follows:

Valley City at Minot, Feb. 2.
Fargo at Valley City Feb. 8.
