STRANGE DOCUMENT

The young ladies in Register of Deeds Lundquist's office in the courthouse were somewhat mystified to receive among the numerous instruments which are filed and recorded in that office one document written in a language neither of them understood. They scrutinized the manuscript and its strange legal markings for some time. Finally upon examining the English papers accompanying the document they found a translation. The instrument had been originally written in the French language from Geneva, Switzerland, by a firm with offices there and in the Netherlands.

[illegible] PIGS

County Girls and Boys Competing In Dorec Hog Litter Raising

Twelve boys and girls in Kandiyohi County are in a Club contest to raise the best litter of pure bred Durec Pigs. This contest is conducted by the Kandiyohi County Durec Breeders Association each year, this being the second time the contest has been held. The county club has fourteen members. The plan of the Association is to furnish each member of the Club with a sow and during the year the boy or girl will raise a litter of pigs to exhibit at the County Fair for prizes.

County Agent Rodegeb and John Swenson in the interests of the Association visited the boys and girls and found that ten boys have litters ready for the Fair and two girls. Two others failed to show results. Of the twelve Ethel Otterness of Dovre, Section 28, and John Ending, Jr., of Edwards, Section 3, have raised litters of nine pigs each.

Others who will exhibit are: Astor Lundstrand, Gennessee Sec. 9; Geo. T. Downs, Green Lake, Sec. 12; Clarence Melbye, East Lake Lillian Sec. 3; Hartley Rykken, Dovre, Sec. 17; Bernhard Blomquist, Kandiyohi, Sec. 12; Edward Peterson, Gennessee, Sec. 23; Gladys Behm, Gennessee, Sec. 4; Olof Sandbo, Dovre, Sec. 8; Donald Welch, Roseville, Sec. 27; and Arnold Otterness, Arctander, Sec. 3.

One pig was picked from the litter of Edward Peterson of Gennessee and will be sent to the State Fair where it will compete with County pigs from other parts of the state. The pig weighs about 175 pounds and is an excellent and well developed hog.

It was found that the pigs raised this year are better than those exhibited at the Fair last year. At the Fair four of he best of each litter will be shown. After the Fair the Association will take two of each litter as payment for the sow loaned the girl or boy. The Association will then sell these hogs and with the proceeds purchase sows for the next years contest.
