DENMARK.

Kaiser Wilhelm is expected to visit King Christian April 2.

The impending lockout in the building trades in Copenhagen may be averted by a compromise.

Prof. Harald Hoffding, a leading authority on the history of philosophy, received numerous tokens of esteem on his sixtieth birthday. He is president, or "rector," of the university of Denmark.

A number of Danish physicians are going to make a tour of the Norwegian watering places next summer.

The Social Democrats are about to petition the Ri[illegible]rument for a general commercial suffrage law and a proportional electi[illegible] law.

The publishers and printers of the Copenhagen dailies have organized themselves into a union for mutual aid and protection.

SWEDEN.

During the month of February 16,600 gallons of cognac (whiskey) was imported to Malmo, while the total import of 1902 was 26,100 gallons.

The granite cutters' union of Southern Sweden has concluded that the government accident insurance plan is unsatisfactory, and the union will establish an insurance department of its own.

The master tanners' international union will hold its next annual meeting in some city in southern Sweden. Representatives from all European countries will be present at the gathering.

The profits of the government bank of Sweden for the year 1902 were $987,303.

The governor of Lulea has bought 40,000 bushels of seed oats and barley from Canada.

The art society of Norrkoping has offered to loan 151 paintings by Swedish artists to the school board of the city for being permanently kept on exhibition in the public school buildings.

The non-commissioned officers are not apt to obtain remunerative positions in civil life after a long military service, and their regular pension is rather too scant to support them, especially if they have families. For these reasons they have just commenced to raise a pension fund of their own, the preliminary work being in the hands of a committee of fifteen able men. The movement was started in Stockholm.

The Sjangeli copper range at Torne lake, near the Norwegian boundary line, is said to have been bought by an American syndicate for about $1,000,000.

T. Tjader, a well known missionary, recently announced that he would speak on "Strike for Higher Wages" at a Stockholm mission house. The result was, that the house was packed to the point of suffocation, and many people were unable to get inside the doors. The lecture turned out to be a complete surprise. The speaker advocated a general strike against sin and the devil because those parties pay too low wages, namely, the transitory pleasures of this forlorn earth. The speaker next appealed to his audience to apply for employment to the firm of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, who will be sure to pay far higher wages. Some of the wicked worldly papers criticize this sort of "man-fishing."

NORWAY.

A recent cablegram says: Negotiations for the separation of the consulates are nearing success. The proposals of the committee have been accepted by the Norwegian cabinet and storthing. Two Norwegian ministers will probably resign. Dr. Sigurd Ibsen and Mr. Lagerheim, the foreign ministers of Norway and Sweden, respectively, are chiefly responsible for the success of the negotiations.

The hotel and restaurant keepers of Kristiania have proposed the organization of a national association for the advancement of the tourist traffic.

The emigration from the northern parts of Norway and Sweden will no doubt be enormous this year. During the months of January and February the number of emigrants leaving the country by way of Trondjhem was 483, as against 248 for the same months last year.

The samlag (retail liquor company) of Kristiania had a surplus of $137,160 for the year 1902, of which two-thirds will go to the national government.

A merchant at Kristiansund writes: "During the forty-five years that I have been dealing in fish, the catch has never been so rich as yesterday, March 4. As an example I may mention that the steamer 'Lincoln' got 4,300 codfish on set lines, a boat manned by four men got 900, and boat for two men got 600! The fish are of good size, but the liver is poor. The prospects for a long season are good."

The political parties are in the habit of adopting their platforms in secret session. Most of the people do not like this policy.

Rev. P. D. Hofflund, who is connected with the city hospital of Trondhjem, is the oldest clergyman in Norway who is still in active service. He was born in 1820.

The Akershus fortifications in Kristiania are being torn down. They were an old landmark which the people did not like to part with, and the newspapers have been lamenting their destruction until it has come to be looked upon as a very serious blunder. Attempts have been made to locate the responsibility; but, the city authorities blame the cabinet and the cabinet blames the city authorities.

LEVEE GIVES WAY.

Break Occurs Near Greenville, Miss., and Water Floods Most Fertile Lands in Yazoo Delta.

Greenville, Miss., March 28.—Death and destruction rides the flood that has inundated this city through the break in the levee. At an early hour this morning the streets are running rivers, and reports of heavy loss of life are coming in.

Maj. John M. Sears, who has charge temporarily of the government office here, stated to-night that the break is unquestionably the worst in the history of the levee system. He says the entire delta south as far as Vicksburg will be inundated, and the fine farming lands in Washington, Bolivar and Sharkey counties will be under water for more than two weeks. This is the first break to be reported on the Mississippi side since the present rise began.

London, March 26.—The Evening News announces that Maj. Gen. Sir Hector MacDonald, commanding the British forces in Ceylon, against whom charges based on immoral acts were filed some time ago, committed suicide by shooting in a hotel in Paris.

Gen. MacDonald was regarded as one of Britian's great soldiers. He rose from the ranks in the Gordon highlanders to his present position and the service list shows no more honorable war record than that of MacDonald, while few officers possess more hard-won decorations. He was extremely popular in the army and in civil life.

Miners for G. B. Markle & Co. Say That Terms of Arbitrators Must Be Strictly Lived Up To.

Hazleton, Pa., March 28.—The executive board of District No. 7, United Mine Workers of America, has notified G. B. Markle & Co. and A. Pardee & Co., independent coal operators, that the miners will insist upon the award of the strike commission being carried out to the letter. These two firms, according to members of the board, have suggested to the men that work be continued under existing conditions without regard to the arbitrament. The proposition was rejected at a meeting of the executive board.
